REVIEW OF JULY—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

The month of July saw the adjournment of Congress, after a session of unusual length, and the completion of the Congressional legislative program. This last included two pieces of legislation of far-reaching consequence and which President Hoover deemed essential for the carrying through of the work of reconstruction which he had undertaken in dealing with the economie ills growing out of the long period of bad times in the business world, under which the whole country has been laboring, and eventuating in acute distress falling little short of industrial paralysis.

The two pieces of legislation we have in mind are the Emergency Relief and Construction Act and the Act to create Federal Home Loan banks, as to the nature of both of which, and particularly the Emergency Relief Act, the President was in sharp controversy with the leaders in Congress. In the end, the President's views in large degree prevailed, though in the case of the Relief Act, not until the President had vetoed the bill as first passed by Congress. Some objectionable features found their way, nevertheless, into both bills, these including in the case of the Home Loan Bank Bill , a rider sponsored by Senator Borah, and which, in the first instance, emanated from Carter Glass of the Banking and Currency Committee of the Senate, who had offered it as a substitute for the Goldsborough Bill as it came from the House of Representatives, which latter seeks to direct the Federal Reserve authorities to conduct their control of the volume of credit and currency, so as to restore commodity values to the level of those prevailing during the years from 1921 to 1929 inclusive. The rider referred to consisted of a provision bestowing the privilege of National bank circulation on all United States bonds bearing 3⅜% interest or less, thereby furnishing a basis for an increase in the volume of outstanding National bank currency in amount of roughly a billion dollars, or in exact figures, $995,000,000. This differed from the original proposal of Senator Carter Glass only in that the latter would have extended the circulation privilege to all United States bonds, instead of to only those bearing 3⅜% interest or less, though Senator Glass in making his proposal did so with much misgiving, and did not hesitate to express his doubts as to the merit and desirability of the proposition, not deeming any currency inflation of the kind necessary, and offering the proposal merely because he deemed it less objectionable than the Goldsborough Bill. In the Emergency Relief Act, the especially objectionable feature was the provision authorizing the Federal Reserve banks to make direct loans to individuals, partnerships and corporations.

Trade and industry remained exceedingly depressed, the steel mills of the country being engaged to only 12% of capacity during the Fourth of July week, an unprecedentedly low level, and even after that recovering only to 16% of capacity. After the adjournment of Congress, however, sentiment grew decidedly more hopeful, and this more hopeful feeling was further encouraged the latter part of the month by a rise in numerous commodity values—hogs, in the first instance, then wheat, sugar, silk, cotton, rubber and a few other instances of the same kind.

MAJOR PROPOSALS IN PRESIDENT HOOVER'S ECONOMIC PROGRAM APPROVED BY CONGRESS—ACTION ON MEASURES HE RECOMMENDED—ADJOURNMENT OF FIRST SESSION OF SEVENTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

With the placing on the statute books of President Hoover's Home Loan Bank bill, it was stated in Associated Press dispatches from Washington July 23 that most of the major points in his economic program had been approved by Congress. The Associated Press went on to say:

Democrats who controlled the House often found fault with his suggestions, but finally accepted many of them with explanations that the country's condition demanded harmonious action whenever possible.

Mr. Hoover's signature on the Home Loan Bill provided another cog in the machine he recommended last December. He found one objectionable feature, however, the Glass currency expansion rider.

The President's recommendations last Dec. 8 and what Congress—including the Democratic House—did about them, line up like this:

Mr. Hoover asked more money for Federal Land banks; Congress voted $125,000,000.

He proposed increased taxes; Congress passed a measure to raise $1,118,-500,000 more.

He wanted the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Congress established it with a $3,800,000,000 fund.

He asked economy; Congress voted to cut expenditures $150,000,000 by a special bill and the Senate set up a committee to study the question during the summer; all appropriations were reduced under the budget estimates.

He wanted to make more paper eligible for discount by Federal Reserve banks; the bill sponsored by two Democrats—Senator Glass of Virginia, and Representative Steagall of Alabama—did that.

He asked rejection of the dole; direct gifts by the Federal Government to individuals were not approved.

He suggested the use of Federal Reserve funds to liberate funds in failed banks; Congress did not grant that, although the House passed a bill to guarantee deposits in National banks.

He wanted to avoid a general tariff revision; no general revision was attempted, but Democrats sent to him for a veto their bill for changes.

He proposed changes in railroad laws; several measures to that end are pending in both Houses.

He sought adjustment of anti-trust laws to remove injustices; Congress has not granted that.

He urged additional Federal regulation of inter-State power transmission; Congress failed to act.

He opposed additional veterans' expenditures; Congress approved a bill to liberalize bonus certificate loans, but turned down cash payment of the bonus and set up a special committee to study veterans' benefits during the recess.

He wanted a general overhaul of banking laws; the Glass bill pending in the Senate is drawn to accomplish that purpose.

He sought authority to consolidate governmental activities; limited power to do that was granted in the economy bill.

The first session of the Seventy-Second Congress, which convened on Monday, Dec. 7 1931 adjourned sine die on July 16 at 11:26 p. m. (12:26 a. m. daylight saving time). Adjournment at the time indicated was the hour at which the House session was concluded, the Senate having adjourned 20 minutes earlier. Noting that the session voted the world's largest economic rehabilitation program, and ordered a billion dollar increase in taxes and substantial Federal economies to balance the budget, the New York "Herald Tribune" in its account from Washington, July 16 said:

Adjournment came after a day of dissension and debate and bonus demonstrations which saw the adoption of the $2,122,000,000 unemployment relief bill and the Administration-sponsored plan to create a system of Home Loan Discount Banks.

Even the vote to adjourn found 35 House members in opposition, though overwhelmed by 195 of their colleagues who had had enough.

President Hoover, anxious to end the 224-day legislative siege, indicated in advance he would sign both these measures, although Congress had insisted upon writing into the relief bill a demand for monthly publicity on all future loans of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and into the Home Land Bank bill a provision for a billion-dollar currency expansion.

The Saturday night crowds watching the Congressional adjournment scene as thousands of ill-clad ex-service men milled around about the Capitol went without an additional touch of drama when the President at 10:30 o'clock abandoned a plan to ride to the Capitol to sign the Home Loan Bank bill and some other legislation. The long delay over the bill had rendered it useless to make a law of it to-night.

Once the Home Loan bill was agreed upon, adjournment was held off even longer when Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, objected to an additional $300,000 appropriation for its administration purposes. After a violent oratorical exchange between Senator Couzens and Senator James

E. Watson, Republican leader, in which the Michigan member warned the Senate leader to beware when he comes up for re-election this November in Indiana, and accused him of "a slippery parliamentary trick," the Senate reduced the appropriation to $250,000 and adjourned sine die without waiting for the House to say whether it concurrred or insisted.

PRESIDENT HOOVER SIGNS $2,122,000,000 EMERGENCY RELIEF AND CONSTRUCTION ACT BROADENING POWERS OF RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION—CONTAINS PROVISION AUTHORIZING FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS TO DISCOUNT PAPER FOR INDIVIDUALS OR CORPORATIONS.

The modified $2,122,000,000 relief bill, passed by Congress on July 16 in the closing days of the session, was signed by President Hoover on July 21. In a statement issued July 17 by him, he cited the major features of the new legislation and stated that the obnoxious features (in the Garner-Wagner bill vetoed by him July 11) had been eliminated. The three major provisions of the bill enacted were indicated as follows by the President on July 17.

First.—Through provision of $300,000,000 of temporary loans by the Reconstruction Corporation to such States as are absolutely unable to finance the relief of distress, we have a solid back log of assurance that there need be no hunger and cold in the United States. These loans are to be based upon absolute need and evidence of financial exhaustion. I do not expect any State to resort to it except as a last extremity.

Second.—Through the provision for $1,500,000,000 of loans by the Reconstruction Corporation for reproductive construction work of public character on terms which will be repaid, we should ultimately be able to find employment for hundreds of thousands of people without drain on the taxpayer.

Third.—Through the broadening of the powers of the corporation in the character of loans it can make to assist agriculture, we should materially improve the position of the farmer.

"The obnoxious features which had been injected into the legislation from time to time by members of the House of Representatives and had so long delayed action have been eliminated. The $100,000,000 charity feature has been abandoned. The pork-barrel infection that the loans to the States for relief of distress should be based upon population instead of need has been eliminated, and also the sum of $1,300,000,000 for non-productive public works, ultimately payable by the taxpayer has been reduced to $322,000,000, of which about $120,000,000 are advances to the States for highways and most of the balance is not to be expended if the necessities of the Federal Treasury prevent it.

The provisions for the establishment of a gigantic centralized banking business have been removed.

The possible destructive effect upon credit institutions by this so-called publicity clause has been neutralized by the declaration of the Senate leaders of all parties that this provision is not to be retroactive and that the required monthly reports of future transactions are of confidential nature and must be so held by the clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives unless otherwise ordered by the Congress when in session.

While there are some secondary features of the measure to which I have objection, they are not so great as to warrant refusal to approve the measure in the face of the great service that the major provisions will be to the Nation. It is a strong step toward recovery.

The signing of the bill by the President on July 21 occurred without comment by him. The modified Wagner bill was passed by the Senate on July 12 without a roll call; on July 13 the House, by a vote of 296 to 46, passed a similar bill which it substituted for that passed by the Senate on July 12; insistence by the House on full publicity for all loans made in the future by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation temporarily served to deadlock the bill. On July 15 the Senate conferees finally yielded on the acceptance of the publicity provision, and adopted the conferees' report on July 16 by a viva voce vote.

In a statement issued July 6 (before the two Houses of Congress passed the Garner-Wagner Bill which he found himself constrained to veto) President Hoover, in voicing his regret at the failure of conferences he had had, on July 5 and 6, with leaders of the Senate and the House to effect an adjustment of objections raised by him to the $2,122,000,000 relief bill, the President stated that agreement had been blocked by the insistence of Speaker Garner that the provisions governing loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be made to include "loans to any individual, any private corporation, any partnership, any State or any municipality on any conceivable kind of security and for any conceivable purpose." In his statement President Hoover then said:

The Speaker's proposal in no sense contributes to relieve such distress. It would compel the Reconstruction Corporation to attempt to deal with millions of people in terms of hundreds of thousands of small and large loans.

It would result in dumping a vast amount of doubtful private and corporation debts on the Federal Treasury to no National purpose of relieving unemployment. . . .

I wish to emphasize what it means. Such a proposal means that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is to take over an impossible task and most difficult part of the banking business; that is, to deal with the doubtful credits in the whole United States.

In conclusion the President stated:

While I am determined that there shall be relief legislation at this session of Congress, I cannot accept the proposal up to now insisted upon by Speaker Garner as a condition to securing his support, for I do not propose to further increase unemployment by such disastrous action as is now proposed through jeopardizing the whole credit of the Government and laying our people open to every kind of injustice and loss.

Nevertheless this Emergency Relief bill contains certain provisions amending the Federal Reserve Act, which mark a complete departure in the loaning provision of the Federal Reserve Banks—in other words it authorizes the Reserve Banks for the first time to make direct loans to corporations and individuals, which previously they were wholly without authority to do. This feature is credited to Carter Glass and to which President Hoover later is said to have become a convert. The provision in full text is as follows:

"Sec. 210. Section 13 of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended, is further amended by adding after the second paragraph thereof the following new paragraph:

'In unusual and exigent circumstances, the Federal Reserve Baord, by the affirmative vote of not less than five members, may authorize any Federal reserve bank, during such periods as the said board may determine, at rates established in accordance with the provisions of section 14, subdivision (d), of this Act, to discount for any individual, partnership, or corporation notes, drafts, and bills of exchange of the kinds and maturities made eligible for discount for member banks under other provisions of this Act when such notes, drafts, and bills of exchange are indorsed and otherwise secured to the satisfaction of the Federal Reserve bank: Provided, That before discounting any such note, draft, or bill of exchange for an individual, partnership, or corporation the Federal Reserve Bank shall obtain evidence that such individual, partnership or corporation is unable to secure adequate credit accomodations from other banking institutions. All such discounts for individuals, partnerships or corporations shall be subject to such limitations, restrictions, and regulations as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe.' "

On July 31, authorization was issued to the Federal Reserve banks by the Federal Reserve Board to make direct loan to individuals, partnerships and corporations for a period of six months, beginning the next day (Aug. 1), under the above amendment. The new law provides, it will be seen, that loans of this character may be made "in unusual and exigent circumstances." In making the loans the Federal Reserve Board will discount the same character of paper as is now discounted for the member banks of the System, in order adequately to safeguard the banks. Ninety-day commercial paper and nine months agricultural paper may be discounted and advances obtained for the period of these maturities. The Reserve Board's authorization took the form of an order from the Board addressed to "all Federal Reserve banks," dated July 26 and signed by Chester Morrill, Secretary of the Board. The order follows closely the wording of the amendment itself. The Board requires that before discounting notes, drafts or bills of exchange for any individual, partnership or corporation, the Federal Reserve Bank must ascertain to its satisfaction by such means as it may deem appropriate: (1) that the financial condition and credit standing of the applicant justify the granting of such credit accommodation; (2) that the paper offered for discount is acceptable from a credit standpoint and eligible from a legal standpoint; (3) that the security offered is adequate to protect the Federal Reserve Bank against loss; (4) that there is reasonable need for such credit accommodations, and (5) that the applicant is unable to obtain adequate credit accommodation from other banking institutions. Reserve Board experts said that an "indefinitely large sum" of money may be loaned under the new provisions of the law, though no estimate as to the volume of the discounts that will be made had been prepared, such an estimate being virtually impossible.

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BILL PASSED WITH THE BORAH-GLASS RIDER PERMITTING THE ISSUE OF NEARLY A BILLION DOLLARS ADDITIONAL NATIONAL BANK NOTES SECURED BY UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BONDS.

In the case of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act interest centered not so much in the provisions for the creation of this new system of banks with a capital of $125,000,000 to be subscribed for by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and to include a minimum of eight and a maximum of twelve Federal Home Loan banks, with intent to furnish financial aid to home owners, through advances on the security of home loan mortgages—interest centered not so much in the establishment of this new body of banking institutions as it did in the rider attached to the bill designed to confer National bank circulation privileges to all United States Government bonds bearing 3⅜% interest or less. This is a distinctly inflationary measure permitting the putting out of roughly one billion dollars of additional National bank notes. Through this rider, an aggregate of $2,973,871,200 of United States issues will be available as security for additional National bank circulation, or far in excess of the $995,000,000 new circulation which the National banks would be privileged to take out. The full text of the Borah-Glass rider is as follows:

Sec. 29. That notwithstanding any provisions of law prohibiting bonds of the United States from bearing the circulation privilege, for a period of three years from the date of enactment of this Act, all outstanding bonds of the United States heretofore issued or issued during such period, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding 3⅜ per centum per annum, shall be receivable by the Treasurer of the United States as security for the issuance of circulating notes to National banking associations, and upon the deposit with the Treasurer of the United States by a National banking association of any such bonds such association shall be entitled to receive circulating notes in the same manner and to the same extent and subject to the same conditions and limitations now provided by law in the case of 2 per centum gold bonds of the United States bearing the circulation privilege; except that the limitation contained in Section 9 of the Act of July 12 1882, as amended, with respect to the amount of lawful money which may be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States by National banking associations for the purpose of withdrawing bonds held as security for their circulating notes, shall not apply to the bonds of the United States to which the circulation privilege is extended by this section and which are held as security for such notes. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to modify, amend, or repeal any law relating to bonds of the United States which now bear the circulation privilege.

As used in this section, the word "bonds" shall not include notes, certificates, or bills issued by the United States.

The text of the Act creating the Federal Home Loan banks is very lengthy, but with the signing of the bill on July 22 President Hoover issued a statement in which he cited the results which the new legislation is expected to ccomplish. According to the President "a survey by the Department of Commerce shows that there are localities n which there is to-day an immediate demand for homes, mounting from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 which would e undertaken at once if financing were available." "Thus," ays the President, "the institution should serve to immediately increase employment." The President, in his tatement pointed out that the purpose of the new legislation s to establish a series of discount banks for home mortgages, erforming a function for home owners somewhat similar o that performed in the commercial field by the Federal Reserve banks through their discount facilities."

In commenting on the Glass rider to the bill, extending he circulation privilege to Government bonds bearing 3½% r less interest, the President stated that he had been nformed by the Comptroller of the Currency that "this ection of the bill runs counter to the general plan established hrough the Federal Reserve Act intended gradually to do way with an inflexible bond-secured currency and represents backward step in currency and banking legislation." Since, however, the provisions are limited to a three-year eriod the Comptroller advised the President that "I do not eel justified in recommending that the bill be vetoed." The President also said that he had been advised by the Treasury "that in the practical working of this provision t will not result in inflation." The following is President Hoover's statement of July 22, in part:

I have to-day signed the Home Loan Bank bill. This institution has een created on the general lines advocated by me in a statement to the ress on Nov. 13 last. It is the outcome of the National Conference n Home Ownership, which represented every part of the country. Its urpose is to establish a series of discount banks for home mortgages, erforming a function for home owners somewhat similar to that performed in the commercial field by the Federal Reserve banks through heir discount facilities.

There are to be eight to 12 such banks established in different parts f the country, with a total capital of $125,000,000 to be initially subscribed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Building and loan associations, savings banks, insurance companies, &c., are to be eligible or membership in the system. Member institutions are required to ubscribe for stock of the Home Loan banks and to absorb gradually the apital and they may borrow from the banks upon their notes to be secured y the collateral of sound home mortgages.

The Home Loan banks are in turn to obtain the resources required y them through the issue of debentures and notes. These notes have back of them the obligation of the members, the mortgages pledged as ecurities of such obligations and the capital of the Home Loan banks hemselves. The debentures and notes thus have a triple security.

The creation of these institutions does not involve the Government n business except in the initial work of the Reconstruction Corporation, nd the setting up of the Board in Washington to determine standards f practice. The cost of this Board in Washington is to be paid by the Home Loan banks and the banks are to be owned and run by their members. In effect, it is using the good offices of the Government and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to set up co-operative action amongst hese member institutions to mobilize their credit and resources. There re several thousand institutions eligible for membership.

The purpose of the system is both to meet the present emergency and o build up home ownership on more favorable terms than exist to-day. The immediate credit situation has for the time being, in many parts of he country, restricted the activities of building and loan associations, avings banks and other institutions making loans for home purposes, n such fashion that they are not only unable to extend credit for the acquirement of new homes, but in thousands of instances they have been nable to renew existing mortgages with resultant foreclosures and great ardships.

A considerable part of our unemployment is due to stagnation in residential construction. There has been overbuilding in certain localities n boom years, but there has been far less than normal construction of ew homes for three years in pace with the increase of population and here is thus a shortage which, while now obscured by present huddling, will become evident with the first stage of recovery.

Nearly 200,000 new homes are erected annually in normal times which with initial furnishings contribute $2,000,000,000 to construction and other industries. A survey by the Department of Commerce shows that here are localities in which there is to-day an immediate demand for homes amounting from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 which could be undertaken at once if financing were available. Thus the institution hould serve to immediately increase employment.

PRESIDENT HOOVER OUTLINES NINE-POINT PROGRAM LOOKING TOWARD ECONOMIC RECOVERY.

President Hoover on July 30 outlined a nine-point program looking toward economic recovery, upon which he had been at work for several weeks, and stated that when it was completed he would call to Washington the business and industrial committees now established in each Federal Reserve District. Associated Press advices from Washington enumerated the nine points as follows:

1. Efforts to organize the new powers granted the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in respect to self-liquidating works under the $1,500,000,000 made available to the Reconstruction Corporation

2. Stimulation of a move for clearing slum districts under the Reconstruction Act.

3. An effort to make adequate provision for live stock and feeder loans under Reconstruction funds.

4. An effort by the Reconstruction Corporation to speed the movement of agricultural commodities into consumption with a view to stimulating demands through restoration of orderly marketing.

5. An attempt to expand credit facilities to business and industry, particularly for the purpose of supplying full credit for production where consumption of goods is assured.

6. Conferences with railway leaders to develop programs for increased repair and maintenance in co-operation with the agencies of the Government.

7. Shaping of the Home Loan Bank System through selections of its board and co-ordination of the new system with the Reconstruction Corporation and other agencies of the Government.

8. Discussion of a movement to spread employment through reduction of work hours.

9. A general effort to secure closer co-operation between the Government in aid to private and public agencies.

PRESIDENT HOOVER IN MESSAGE TO CONGRESS RECOMMENDS CHANGES IN MANAGEMENT OF RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION—ELIMINATES GOVERNOR OF FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD AND FARM LOAN COMMISSIONER AS DIRECTORS—ALSO INCREASES DIRECTORATE FROM SEVEN TO EIGHT MEMBERS.

In a message to Congress on July 11 President Hoover recommended that an amendment be made to the Act creating the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in order to eliminate the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board and the Farm Loan Commissioner as members ex-officio. These changes were later provided for in Sec. 208 of the Emergency Relief Act, with the result of removing Eugene Meyer, Governor of the Reserve Board, and Paul Bestor, Farm Loan Commissioner. President Hoover in his message said "it is important that the Secretary of the Treasury shall remain as an ex-officio member." Further change recommended by the President was that the directorate of the Corporation be increased from seven to eight members, "of whom not more than four shall belong to any one political party." In submitting his proposals to Congress President Hoover said that the "extraordinary heavy burdens placed upon the directors of the Corporation during the past few months have resulted in the over-work especially of the ex-officio members."

On July 26, President Hoover appointed former Senator Atlee Pomerene (Democrat of Ohio), as a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Mr. Pomerene succeeded Eugene Meyer as Chairman of the Corporation. Later in the week (July 28) President Hoover made known the appointment of Charles Addison Miller (Republican) as a director of the Corporation. Mr. Miller, who is President of the Savings Bank of Utica, replaces Paul A. Bestor on the board of the Corporation. President Hoover stated that Mr. Miller would be President of the Corporation. The office of President of the Corporation had been held by Charles G. Dawes, who recently resigned, and who was succeeded as director by Gardner Cowles Sr. A Washington dispatch July 26 to the New York "Times" discussed the changes as follows:

Mr. Pomerene's appointment came as a result of the reorganization of the Finance Corporation Board, the President having asked and received Congressional consent that Mr. Meyer as Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, and Paul A. Bestor, as Federal Farm Loan Commissioner, be relieved of their duties in connection with the Corporation and new directors appointed in their places.

The President's choice of Mr. Pomerene will throw control of the Corporation into the hands of Democrats, who will constitute a majority of the Board. The other Democratic members are Harvey Couch of Arkansas, Jesse H. Jones of Texas and Wilson McCarthy of Utah. The Republican members are Secretary Mills and Gardner Cowles of Iowa. Governor Meyer and Mr. Bestor, who retire, are Republicans.

The appointment of Mr. Pomerene having been made during the Congressional recess, Senatorial confirmation will not be necessary until Congress meets next December.

PRESIDENT HOOVER SIGNS BILL MAKING $100,000 AVAILABLE TO TRANSPORT TO HOMES WORLD WAR VETERANS ENCAMPED IN WASHINGTON TO SEEK ENACTMENT OF BONUS MEASURE—ASKS ARMY TO ASSIST IN ENDING RIOTING.

Despite the fact that President Hoover on July 8 signed a bill making available $100,000 to transport to their homes the World War veterans who had thronged Washington in an effort to secure the enactment of the bill providing for the cash payment of the soldier bonus, it was stated on July 12 that scores of bonus marchers had settled upon the grass of the Capitol grounds and slept that night to bring more forcibly to the attention of Congress their demand for immediate payment of the bonus to needy war veterans.

The Federal Government on July 28 took cognizance of the situation caused by the presence in the National Capital of the "Bonus Army," or Bonus Expeditionary Force, comprising World War veterans camped in Washington to urge immediate cash payment of the face value of their adjusted compensation certificates, and the Secretary of War, Patrick J. Hurley, acting on instructions from President Hoover, ordered United States troops to clear the area in which disorders had occurred. It is stated that as a result of the conflict on July 28 there were two deaths, while more than 50 persons were injured. In Associated Press accounts from Washington, July 29, it was stated that troops hurled tear gas bombs and set shacks of the bonus army afire in the vicinity of the Capital. On July 29 President Hoover made a further statement as follows:

A challenge to the authority of the United States Government has been met swiftly and firmly.

After months of patient indulgence, the Government met overt lawlessness as it always must be met if the cherished processes of self-government are to be preserved. We cannot tolerate the abuse of constitutional rights by those who would destroy all government, no matter who they may be. Government cannot be coerced by mob rule.

The Department of Justice is pressing its investigation into the violence which forced the call for army detachments, and it is my sincere hope that those agitators who inspired yesterday's attack upon Federal authority may be brought speedily to trial in the civil courts. There can be no safe harbor in the United States of America for violence.

Order and civil tranquility are the first requisites in the great task of economic reconstruction to which our whole people now are devoting their heroic and noble energies

This National effort must not be retarded in even the slightest degree by organized lawlessness. The first obligation of my office is to uphold and defend the Constitution and the authority of the law. This I propose always to do.

PRESIDENT HOOVER VETOES BILL PROVIDING FOR MINIMUM WAGE SCALE ON GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

President Hoover on July 5 returned to the Senate without his approval a bill providing for the payment by the Federal Government of the prevailing wage scale for laborers and mechanics employed by contractors on public buildings. Under the bill the Secretary of Labor was called upon to determine the prevailing wage rate for any locality where Government construction is undertaken, for insertion in advertised specifications for the contracts. The President said the bill was obscure and complex, and would be impracticable of administration. It would stretch a new bureaucracy across the country.

DEFICIT OF $2,885,000,000 SHOWN BY UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT AT END OF FISCAL YEAR, ACCORDING TO SECRETARY MILLS—COMPARES WITH $903,000,000 AT CLOSE OF PREVIOUS FISCAL YEAR.

The United States Government closed its fiscal year June 30 1932 with a deficit of $2,885,000,000, compared with $903,000,000 at the end of the previous fiscal year, according to a statement issued July 1 by Secretary of the Treasury Mills. Total receipts for the year amounted to $2,121,000,000, a decline, said Secretary Mills, of $1,196,000,000 from 1931. The expenditures during the year aggregated $5,006,000,000—$786,000,000 greater than the previous year. At the outset of his statement Secretary Mills observed that "the Federal finances for the fiscal year just closed reflected the effect of the unprecedented depression upon both the revenues and the outlays of the Government." The deficit for 1932 was $762,000,000 larger than the estimate of $2,123,000,000 which was presented in the annual report of the Secretary. Secretary Mills also said:

Expenditures exceeded the estimate of $4,482,000,000 by $524,000,000 as a result of subsequent authorization by Congress for the purchase of capital stock of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Federal Land banks, which together aggregated $625,000,000.

Expenditures exclusive of these two items were $101,000,000 less than estimated. Total ordinary receipts were $238,000,000 less than estimated, due to the fact that business did not maintain the expected level of activity.

Mr. Mills said that in considering the heavy deficits of the last two years, aggregating $3,788,000,000, it must not be forgotten that the aggregate surplus from the preceding years applied to the reduction of the National debt was $3,460,000,000. According to Mr. Mills, public debt retirements to meet sinking fund requirements chargeable against ordinary receipts totaled $412,000,000, so that the deficit, exclusive of debt retirement, amounted to $2,473,000,000. The total gross debt outstanding June 30 1932 at $19,487,000,000 was increased by $2,686,000,000 during the year.

PRESIDENT HOOVER MAKES $15,000 CUT IN HIS OWN SALARY—REDUCTION OF 15% IN PAY OF CABINET OFFICERS—ACTION TAKEN UNDER ECONOMY MEASURE.

A reduction of $15,000 a year in his own salary was made by President Hoover, who at the same time reduced the pay of cabinet officers by 15%. Associated Press dispatches from Washington on July 14 in reporting this said:

The order, cutting Cabinet members from $15,000 a year to $12,750 a year, was issued while the President sat with them at his regular semi-weekly Cabinet meeting.

Mr. Hoover himself, it was said, took a 20% cut as the maximum allowed under the law. Ordinarily he receives $75,000 a year.

A statement as follows was issued at the White House.

"The President has received the unanimous request from members of the Cabinet that they should be subject to the maximum reduction of salaries possible under the economy bill. The President has, therefore, issued the necessary order by which they will be reduced 15% instead of the alternative which would amount to 8 1-3% under the furlough provisions."

Funds reverting to the Treasury through these salary cuts, will go into the general fund and will be available for any governmental purpose, it was stated at the Treasury on July 25. In the belief that the Treasury could not accept donations, the report was started that the refunds would be placed in the mythical "conscience fund," but this was unfounded. The economy bill provided that the Treasury might accept refunds from officials whose salaries could not be otherwise cut during their term of office under the law. Prior to that time, donations could not be accepted from known individuals.

AMERICAN SECURITIES INVESTING CORPORATION (SO CALLED BOND POOL) ISSUES CALL FOR 10% OF SUBSCRIPTIONS TO DEBENTURES.

A call for an initial payment of 10% of the subscriptions to the outstanding debentures of the American Securities Investing Corporation was issued by the latter on July 11. The Corporation, which is commonly referred to as the $100,000,000 bond pool, was formed in June under the presidency of Thomas W. Lamont, of J. P. Morgan & Co. Regarding this call the New York "Evening Post" of July 12 said:

Although this is the first call for payments of funds into the Corporation's treasury, it has been operating quietly for more than a month, chiefly in taking offerings of bonds.

Call Found Normal.

Whether the call for payment of the initial subscriptions signaled more aggressive buying in the security markets was not disclosed. Bond men presumed the Corporation merely was proceeding along the normal course and that the call was made to provide funds for payment of securities already purchased.

Consequently, it served as indication of the extent of the pool's purchases in the past month.

When the corporation was announced, its banking sponsors disclaimed any intention of trying to peg the bond market and emphasized that it was not a "pool", although it has become known as such in the Street.

Formation of the organization was sufficient to give the security markets incentive for a substantial rally early in June. Since the recovery tapered off and the bond market settled down in to a groove, bond prices have shown more stability than at any time since the market began to break a year ago under the strain of the international financial crisis.

WHEAT PRICES ENJOY A SHARP RISE—ORDER ISSUED BY A GOVERNMENT COMMISSION UNDER THE GRAIN FUTURES ACT SUSPENDING TRADING ON THE CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE FOR A PERIOD OF 60 DAYS, BUT EXECUTION OF ORDER DELAYED.

A sharp advance in the price of wheat was one of the developments of the month and had a heartening effect on the Western farming community. A variety of reasons was given for the rise, but one main factor in it was unquestionably a determination upon the part of farmers to withhold grain from market on account of the low level of values prevailing. In the spring wheat sections of the Northwest most determined efforts were made to induce the withholding of wheat from market until better prices for it can be obtained. As evidence of this, we may note that according to Associated Press advices from Tolna, N. D., July 20, a movement was under way in that part of the country to obtain a dollar a bushel for wheat. The news came in the following picturesque language: "Across the fertile prairies of North Dakota, expected to produce one-sixth of the Nation's wheat output this year, is heard to-day a crescendo chorus 'Hold the grain for one dollar a bushel'; if the sponsors are successful, the cry will be taken up throughout the United States." The dispatch went on to say that Dell Willis, Tolna farmer, was Chairman of the organization which had stirred the farmers in more than 400 North Dakota townships to pledges holding their wheat, effective Aug. 1, unless and until the dollar level is reached.

On July 23 came another Associated Press dispatch, this time from Minot, N. D., saying that the Governors of North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana had been asked by farm leaders of 11 counties on that day to prevent shipment of wheat from their States until prices should rise. Under the request shipments of wheat from the three States were to be prohibited until the No. 1 dark Northern grade reached a price of $1.20 a bushel at Minneapolis, as against the prevailing top cash price for that variety in Minneapolis of 61c. It was stated that more than 1,200 persons, most of them farmers from the 11 counties, had urged the proposal at a meeting the previous night.

Another Associated Press dispatch from Minot, N. D., July 24, stated that the hold-for-dollar wheat movement in North Dakota was spreading. Declaring they could not make expenses at present grain prices, farmers had organized to increase the amount of the return they receive for their product. First, we are told, came the demand of one group that wheat be held for one dollar a bushel. Then followed a resolution at another gathering, urging an embargo on shipment of wheat from North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana until the grain reached $1.20 for No. 1 dark Northern at Minneapolis compared with the then prevailing price of 61c. a bushel, as already stated.

The dispatch added, what was to be expected, that indications were that there would be no official embargo in the three States as requested by the Minot meeting, which 1,200 persons, mostly farmers from 11 counties, had attended. Gov. G. F. Shafer of North Dakota and Gov. W. E. Green of South Dakota said they had no authority to take such action, while A. H. Stafford, Montana Commissioner of Agriculture, asserted he would advise Gov. J. E. Erickson of that State that the proposal was unnecessary.

In the first half of the month the trend of prices was still downward, but the latter half the course of the market was reversed, and prices spurted sharply upward. The Agricultural Bureau report, issued late Monday afternoon, July 11, while confirming reports that the winter wheat yield would be sharply reduced as compared with the exceptionally large crop of the previous year, showed that some change for the better had occurred during the month of June and also indicated that the falling off in the winter wheat crop would at least in part be made good by a larger spring wheat crop which the previous season had been almost a complete failure. As of July 1 the Government estimated the probable production of winter wheat at 431,762,000 bushels, which compared with its estimate of 410,669,000 bushels on June 1, but with an actual harvest in 1931 of 789,462,000 bushels. On the other hand, the production of spring wheat was estimated as of July 1 at 305,000,000 bushels as against an actual harvest in 1931 of only 104,000,000 bushels. For spring and winter wheat combined, therefore, the indications pointed to a total crop of 737,000,000 bushels, as against 894,000,000 bushels the harvest of the two crops combined in 1931. The probable production of corn was placed at 2,996,000,000 bushels as against 2,563,000,000 bushels harvested in 1931, 2,094,000,000 bushels harvested in 1930, 2,614,000,000 bushels harvested in 1929 and a 5-year average production of 2,625,000,000 bushels. The indicated production of oats was 1,217,244,000 bushels as against the final estimate for 1931 of 1,112,000,000 bushels. The July option for wheat, after selling down from 47c. a bushel on July 1, and 49¾c. July 7 to 44¼c. July 16, thereafter moved almost uninterruptedly upward until a high of 51½c. was reached on July 28 with the close July 30 at 50¼c. The September option, after dropping to 46¾c, July 16, advanced to 53¼c. July 28, with the close July 30 at 51½c. The price of wheat at Winnipeg also moved higher and the July option at that point, after touching 52½c. July 12, sold up to 60½c. July 28 with the close July 30 at 57½c. against an opening price on July 2 of 53⅜c. The price of corn also showed some improvement and the July option at Chicago closed July 30 at 30¾c. as against the opening price on July 1 of 27¾c. September corn at Chicago closed July 30 at 32¼c. as against the opening price on July 1 of 30⅞c. Oat prices, however, were decidedly weak and lower. July oats at Chicago closed at 16⅝c. July 30 against the opening price on July 1 of 19½c., while September oats at Chicago closed July 30 at 17¾c. as against 19½c. the opening price July 1.

The rise of wheat the latter part of July was in face of an order issued July 23 suspending trading on the Chicago Board of Trade for a period of 60 days (from Aug. 8) issued by a Commission created under the Grain Futures Act. The members of the Commission were Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, William D. Mitchell, Attorney-General, and R. P. Lamont, Secretary of Commerce. The Board of Trade is alleged to have violated the Grain Futures Act in excluding the Farmers' National Grain Corporation controlled by the Federal Farm Board from clearing privileges on the Board of Trade, with the result that the Grain Corporation was obliged to pay trading commissions to members of the Board of Trade which otherwise it would save. The order was not to become effective until the expiration of 15 days from its date and the Commission also reserved jurisdiction to entertain an application for mitigation of the penalty upon notice to all parties and after proper hearing and upon a showing that the Board of Trade had receded from its position. The Board of Trade at once began court proceedings against the order and the order itself indicated that the Cabinet Commission issuing it would be glad of an opportunity to rescind it if the Board of Trade showed a willingness to extend to the National Grain Corporation the privileges to which it deemed itself entitled; hence the order was without market influence and the upward movement of prices for wheat remained uninterrupted. From a statement issued by Weymouth Kirkland, Attorney for the Chicago Board of Trade it appears that the controversy grew out of the refusal of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation to allow the Board of Trade to examine its books. The Board had expelled the Updike Grain Corporation, which the Farmers' National had purchased. Then the Farmers' National applied for membership in the Boards' clearing corporation. Mr. Kirkland explained that, if properly and legally constituted, a co-operative is entitled to membership, but added that when the Board began to investigate to determine whether the Farmers' National was a true co-operative, the latter refused to open its books. The employees, however, of the Farmers' National gave testimony at the hearing proving conclusively, so Mr. Kirkland contends, that the organization was not a true co-operative. Mr. Kirkland added: "According to the Capper-Volstead Act and the Grain Futures Act a lawfully constituted co-operative must do at least 50% of its business with its own members. George S. Milnor, General Manager of the Farmers' National, admitted on the witness stand that his concern did more than 50% of its business with non-members." The Grain Corporation contended that the loss of such privileges would cost it $100,000 a year more in expenses than it now encounters on its average trading, owing to the necessity of paying commissions to brokers who hold clearing privileges.

The fact that the Grain Corporation did a large amount of business for non-members of co-operatives was argued by the Board of Trade as a ground for refusal of the clearing privilege, but the Commission held that most of this business arose from transactions carried out by the Grain Stabilization Corporation, a Farm Board controlled enterprise. The Chicago Board also questioned the status of the Grain Corporation in regard to possessing adequate financial responsibility, citing the fact that most of its capital had been supplied by loans from the Farm Board; but this, the Commission ruled, was complaint lacking "substantial basis." The Grain Corporation, it was concluded, had "sustained the burden of proof with respect to its qualifications for enjoyment of all the privileges of the Board of Trade, including the clearing privilege, and "the clearing privilege has been unjustly denied it."

It appears that members of the Chicago Board of Trade who were not also members of the clearing corporation were required to pay to other brokers who were members of both the Board and the Clearing Corporation one-half of the commission charged non-Board members. The Farmers' National was allowed membership on the Board but not membership in the Clearing Corporation. It first surmounted this obstacle by the outright purchase of the Updike Grain Corporation, which through its offices had membership in the Clearing Corporation. Through this arrangement it was required to pay no commission until recently, when the Updike Corporation was suspended for violation of the Board's rules. The Farmers' National then resubmitted its application for access to the clearing corporation. When this was denied, it entered charges against the Board demanding that its license be revoked by the Grain Futures Commission.

CHAIRMAN STONE OF FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD REPORTS STABILIZATION STOCKS OF WHEAT REDUCED—SAYS TRADE NOW HAS CHANCE TO RAISE PRICES.

The time has come for the grain trade to make good its boast that except for the "black cloud" of Grain Stabilization Corporation stocks of wheat overhanging the market, wheat prices could be brought back to a much more satisfactory level, James C. Stone, Chairman of the Federal Farm Board, stated orally July 7. The "United States Daily" of July 8, reported him as follows:

Sales of wheat and legislation for free distribution of the grain to the needy have now brought the cash wheat supplies of the Corporation available for sale down to slightly less than 30,000,000 bushels, Mr. Stone said. This comparatively small amount cannot prevent any upward movement of prices which the grain trade may be able to foster, he added. He gave the following additional information:

There is ample storage space available for wheat at present as the new crop begins movement to market. The free movement of wheat, without congestion and without embargoes which formerly were placed on the grain when a city's storage space became congested, is one of the results of the more orderly marketing methods developed under the Nationa co-operative marketing policy.

The reduction of the Farm Board's administrative fund to $800,000 from the $1,880,000 recommended in the budget will restrict severely the Board's services to co-operatives generally. It will necessitate also a reduction in personnel of the Board, which is now under consideration by the members

RESOLUTION PASSED BY CONGRESS AUTHORIZING DISTRIBUTION BY AMERICAN RED CROSS OF 45,000,000 BUSHELS OF WHEAT AND 500,000 BALES OF COTTON HELD BY FEDERAL FARM BOARD.

On July 5 President Hoover signed the resolution passed by Congress calling for the distribution by the American National Red Cross of 45,000,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bales of cotton, Government owned. By the resolution "the Federal Farm Board is authorized and directed to take such action as may be necessary to deliver to the American National Red Cross, and any other organization designated by the American National Red Cross, on July 1 1932, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, 45,000,000 bushels of wheat of the Grain Stabilization Corporation and 500,000 bales of cotton of the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, for use in providing food, clothing and wearing apparel for the needy and distressed people, and in providing feed for livestock in the 1932 crop-failure areas, after the needs of human consumption have been taken care of, in the opinion of the Director of the Red Cross, of the United States and Territories. Such wheat or cotton shall be delivered upon application therefor, but only upon the approval of the President of the United States, and in such amounts to each organization as the President may approve."

Regarding the distribution of the 40,000,000 bushels of wheat held by the Federal Farm Board which Congress earlier in the year authorized be made available for relief purposes through the American National Red Cross, it was stated that all except 8,548,110 bushels had been distributed by the Red Cross in flour to needy families and feed for livestock. The resolution calling for the distribution of the 40,000,000 bushels was signed by President Hoover on March 7 1932.

COFFEE AND SUGAR PRICES BOTH MOVE HIGHER—INTERNATIONAL SUGAR CONFERENCE ADJOURNS WITHOUT RESULTS—SUGAR POOL DECREED IN CUBA.

Cuban raw sugar enjoyed a further rise with sales on July 14 for delivery in the United States at 1.10@1.12c. and 1.15c. but with sales somewhat lower on July 27 at 1.07c. The wholesale price of refined sugar at New York at the leading refineries was advanced twice during the month, first on July 8 from 3.90 to 4.00c. and again on July 14 and July 15 to 4.15c., though Arbuckle Bros. advanced only to 4.10c. A wireless message from Ostend, Belgium, to the New York "Times" under date of July 16 stated that the International Sugar Congress had broken up on that day without tangible results. This however did not cause any break in the New York sugar market probably because a cablegram from Havana July 2 stated that despite the announcement of the Sugar Institute on June 28 that a project for forming an 800,000 ton sugar pool had been abandoned, negotiations subsequently between Cuban and American sugar interests had paved the way for the obligatory formation of the 700,000 ton pool by a decree signed by President Machado July 2. The cablegram stated that at the same time the chief executive decreed the withdrawal of 115,000 tons from the quota for exportation to the United States for 1932. According to the decree the 700,000 tons that will be withdrawn from the quota for exportation will be withheld from the market until crude sugar reaches a price of 1½c. a lb. Coffee prices moved higher because of the revolutionary uprising in Brazil. No. 7 Rio for spot delivery in the New York market was quoted at 8¼c.

TEXTILE INDUSTRIES SLACK—SMALL CONSUMPTION OF COTTON.

Textile industries continued slack, though sentiment changed decidedly for the better the latter part of the month without any visible increase in business. Continued curtailment of output played its part in improving the statistical situation, particularly in the cotton goods trade. "Billings at 105.1% of production, effected by the lowest weekly production rate for any month since its comparable records were begun in 1928," featured the statistical reports of production, billings and sales of carded cotton cloths during the month of June, made public July 18 by the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York. The figures covered a period of five weeks. Production during June amounted to 200,587,000 yards, or at the rate of 40,117,000 yards per week. This was 12.7% less than the weekly rate for May. Billings during June were 210,885,000 yards, or 105.1% of production, bringing about a reduction in stocks to 305,150,000 yards, or a decrease of 3.3% during the month. Sales were 188,158,000 yards, or 93.8% of production, and unfilled orders dropped 11.7% during the month to 170,910,000 yards on June 30. The Census Bureau report, issued under date of July 14, showed that cotton consumed in the United States during June had amounted to only 320,783 bales of lint and 46,680 bales of linters, as against 453,901 bales of lint and 61,796 bales of linters in June 1931. The price of cotton moved somewhat higher upon unfavorable weather conditions and reports of prospective damage by boll weevils. Spot cotton here in New York moved up and down somewhat irregularly though showing an advance for the month following the recovery in June after the low point reached the beginning of the month. As against 5.80c. June 30 and 5.75c. July 1, the spot price at New York advanced to 6.20c. July 6, then sold down to 5.70c. July 12 and recovered to 6.05c. July 30. Print cloths at Fall River ruled unchanged at 2 7-16c. for 28-in. 64 by 60.

Raw silk prices scored a further sharp rise and on Saturday, July 30, Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted at $1.40@$1.45 against $1.12½@$1.17½ June 30; $1.10@$1.15 May 31; $1.35@$1.40 April 30; $1.50@$1.55, Mar. 31; $1.67½@$1.70 Feb. 29; $1.87½@$1.90 Jan. 30; $1.85@$1.90 Dec. 31; $2.20@$2.25 on Nov. 30 and also on Oct. 31, and comparing with $2.25@$2.30 Sept. 30; $2.50@$2.55 on Aug. 31; $2.30@$2.40 on July 31; $2.35@$2.40 on June 30; $2.22½@$2.27½ May 29; $2.35@$2.40 April 30; $2.55@$2.65 March 31; $2.70@$2.75 Feb. 28 and $2.85@$2.95 Jan. 31, and $4.70@$4.75 on Jan. 31 1930. NATIONAL WOOL MARKETING ASSOCIATION SELLS 1930-31 ACCUMULATION OF MOHAIR, ESTIMATED AT 15,000,000 POUNDS, GO TO ONE FIRM.

On July 11 Associated Press advices from Boston stated:

The National Wool Marketing Corporation has sold its 1930-31 accumulation of mohair, estimated at 15,000,000 pounds, to a single large regular user of the product. The corporation stated that the company bought the mohair in the belief that the economic trend had turned upward.

The price paid was reported in wool circles at more than 9 cents. Earlier in the year the co-operative sold a large quantity at fractionally under 6 cents to a large carpet manufacturer.

Officials in referring to new-clip mohair held by the co-operative said they "will not consider any offer under 15 cents for our 1932 adult mohair consignments."

Further Associated Press accounts from Boston (July 12) said:

The purchasers of 14,500,000 pounds of mohair from the National Wool Marketing Corporation were announced to-day by that concern as the Sanford Mills and the Goodall Worsted Co., both of Sanford, Me. Announcement of the sale, the largest in the history of the wool trade, was made yesterday but the names of the purchasers were not revealed.

STEEL TRADE STILL DEPRESSED BUT WITH SENTIMENT DECIDEDLY IMPROVED—NON-FERROUS METALS IN ONE OR TWO INSTANCES SOMEWHAT HIGHER AT THE CLOSE.

Steel production at the beginning of July at the time of the Fourth of July holiday, dropped to only 12% of capacity and recorded only to 16% of capacity after the holiday. The "Iron Age" reported that the June output of pig iron at 20,935 gross tons a day, was the smallest since December 1896. However, the "Age" found the outlook at the close of July more encouraging, saying that without any change in the volume of business to account for it an air of cheerfulness had pervaded the long-depressed iron and steel industry. Marked improvement in sentiment was predicated largely on expectations of a seasonal recovery beginning not later than September, together with a widespread conviction that fundamental conditions are favorable for a turn and that business cannot much longer remain as bad as it has been the past few months. Not the least of the favorable factors from the viewpoint of the steel industry itself was the firmness of steel prices which had reached more solid ground through the shipment of practically all of the low-priced tonnage carried over from the second quarter. Heavy melting steel scrap, price movements of which are sometimes regarded as having barometric significance, had advanced 50c. a ton at Chicago (followed, however, the next week by a recession in the price at Pittsburgh). The "Iron Age" made the composite price of finished steel Aug. 2 1.976c. per lb., the same as a month earlier and the composite price of pig iron $13.76 a gross ton, also the same as a month earlier and the composite price of steel scrap $6.50 a gross ton, against $6.42 a month previously.

In the case of the non-ferrous metals heavy sales of export copper were reported at the extraordinarily low figure of 4.50c. c.i.f. European base ports the latter part of July but with a recovery to 4.60 and 4.70c. by the close of the month. Japanese producers were reported as offering it at 4.55c. c.i.f. Hamburg, Havre and London. The domestic price appeared to remain unchanged at 5¼c. for delivery in the Connecticut Valley into the first quarter of 1933. Here in New York Lake copper was marked down July 13 from 5½c. to 5⅜c. and electrolytic from 5⅛c. to 5c. The price of lead, after being reduced from 2.75c. to 2.70c. July 11 and to 2.65c. July 18 was advanced first to 2.80c. on July 27 and then to 2.95c. July 28. Tin was quoted at 21⅜c. July 30, against 20⅜c. July 1. Leading Portland cement producers advanced the price of their product from 19c. to 29c. a barrel in Eastern territory with the exception of the Metropolitan New York district. The price in the New York district was not raised, owing to competition from European import. A week or so previously producers in the Middle West increased their prices by from 30c. to 50c. a barrel. The new price, it was stated, in Eastern territory represented the first advance in this territory since early in 1929.

PETROLEUM AND ITS PRODUCTS—FURTHER CURTAILMENT OF PRODUCTION AND FURTHER ADVANCES IN CRUDE OIL.

The Texas Railroad Commission set the allowable production of the east Texas oil field on July 15 at 46 barrels per well daily for the 15-day period beginning July 16. The field had been on a flat 50 barrels per well output since July 1. Proration of production in the east Texas field was upheld by the three-judge Federal Court in Texas in a decision filed at Tyler, Tex., on July 19. The decision upheld the State oil conservation statute and the rules of the Texas Railroad Commission. Thurman Hill, member of the Kansas Public Service Commission, was engaged in a plan to get production of crude oil in the Mid-Continent region reduced 4% to obtain a price increase of 25%. The Oklahoma Corporation Commission reduced the daily allowable yield of the Oklahoma City fields by 9,950 barrels to 87,330 barrels for the last half of July. There were sporadic reductions in gasoline prices at different points in the United States. In the following we show the important changes during July in the prices of both crude oil and the refined product.

Crude Oil.

July 14.—Pure Oil Co. posts 10c. advance in Midland District, Michigan, crude oil. New price is 85c. a barrel.

July 14.—Crew Levick Co., subsidiary of Cities Service, posts 10c. per barrel bonus for crude oil in Oil City, Franklin and Titusville districts connected to Bessemer Pipe Line Co., a sub-company. The posted price per barrel is $2.00, to which the 10c. bonus is added.

Gasoline and Kerosene.

July 1.—Standard Oil Co. of Ohio advances gasoline ½c. throughout territory, making new prices 21½c., 18½c. and 16½c., respectively, for its three grades.

July 13.—Standard Oil Co. of Ohio posts 1½c. cut below state-wide structure in gasoline prices prevailing in Elyria, Newark, and Madison townships, Ohio.

July 24.—Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky reduces gasoline tank car prices 1c. to new price of 7c. a gallon at Tampa, Jacksonville and Savannah, and 6¼c. at Mobile.

July 24.—Standard Oil Co. of New York reduces service station prices at Boston 1c. a gallon, making new price 10½c. a gallon, exclusive of 3c. tax.

July 26.—Texas Co. reduces tank car gasoline prices 1c. at Jacksonville and Tampa; ½c. at Charleston, and 1½c. at Mobile.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION APPROVES GROUPING OF RAILROADS INTO FOUR SYSTEMS—RAILROADS SEEK PUBLIC SUPPORT.

A development of great importance and of far-reaching consequence was the action of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, announced late on July 21, in approving the grouping of the railroads in Eastern trunk-line territory into four great railroad systems, consisting of the New York Central, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Chesapeake & Ohio-Nickel Plate. By this action the Commission discarded its own five-system scheme promulgated in December, 1929, the Wabash which was to form part of fifth trunk-line system being now allotted to the Pennsylvania Railroad, but the latter being kept out of New England and being also required (along with its affiliate, the Pennroad Corporation), to sell or place with trustees all stock owned by the two in the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. and the Boston & Maine. Many of the roads allotted to each of the four great railroad systems are already in the possession of such systems or under their control. In a general way it may be said, that the New York Central remains as it stands, with the addition of the Virginian Railway and the Delaware Lackawanna & Western (except the branch from Chenango Forks to Oswego, New York), and gets a one-fourth interest in the Lehigh & New England. The Pennsylvania Railroad remains as it stands with the addition of the Wabash and the Norfolk and Western. The Baltimore & Ohio is confirmed in its possession of the Reading, the Central New Jersey and several other roads and in addition gets the Western Maryland. The Chesapeake & Ohio remains as it is including the Erie Railroad and the Pere Marquette and in addition gets the Lehigh Valley, Chicago & Eastern Illinois and Bessemer & Lake Erie.

Of the eleven Inter-State Commerce Commissioners only two dissented outright, while four concurred with statements of objections to certain allocations. It was pointed out in the newspapers that the plan as promulgated by the Commission differs from the carriers own plan only in several major particulars and therefore seems likely to find complete acceptance by them. The Virginian goes to the New York Central intact, whereas the railroads would have divided it between the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western The "Monon" is divided between the Southern Railway and the Atlantic Coast Line, whereas it would have gone to the Baltimore & Ohio under the plan of the carriers. Instead of the carriers proposal to make the Hudson River Bridge Lines common property, with all four trunk lines holding a quarter interest in each, the Commission leaves the Delaware & Hudson independent; it allocates the Lehigh & Hudson River line among all four equally and it leaves the New York Ontario & Western outside the merger and in possession of the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. as a "necessary link in an important route connecting the Port of Oswego on Lake Ontario with the Port of Boston," The effect of this arrangement is to leave the New England routes to be dealt with separately. The modified plan also leaves unallocated the Seaboard Air Line and a number of short line connections intended to go with it.

The Commerce Commission's action came at the very time when the railroads were engaged in an appeal to the public in which they describe their condition as serious and pledge themselves to avoid all preventable waste through excessive competition and ask popular support of their efforts to ameliorate their unfortunate condition. The manifesto was issued through the Association of Railway Executives which met on July 20 at the Hotel Biltmore to ratify it. The Association represents 225,000 miles of railroad, that is all the Class One railroads and also the short lines. The official statement referred to contains the declaration that "no one familiar with the situation can seriously doubt that the railroads, if given equality of opportunity, will surmount their present difficulties as they always have in the past. To accomplish this, however, we believe it is essential, in addition to all that the railroads may do for themselves, that the existing regulation of the railroads should be relaxed so as to restore freedom of managerial control, without return to the fundamental evils of unjust discrimination, which regulation should always prevent, and that the same kind and measure of regulation should be extended to all other agencies with which they must compete."

GOVERNOR FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT OF NEW YORK NOMINATED FOR PRESIDENT AT DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION—JOHN N. GARNER, SPEAKER OF HOUSE, NAMED FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

At the Democratic National Convention, held in Chicago, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor of New York, was nominated (July 1) for President of the United States, and on the following day (July 2) John N. Garner (of Texas), Speaker of the House, was named for the Vice-Presidency. The nomination of Gov. Roosevelt came on the fourth ballot, and was made possible with the release of the votes of the California and Texas delegates (pledged to support Speaker Garner for the Presidency) in favor of Gov. Roosevelt. On the first ballot Gov. Roosevelt received 666¼ votes (against 201⅜ for Alfred E. Smith); on the second ballot 677¾ votes were registered for Gov. Roosevelt, with 194¼ for former Governor Smith; on the third ballot 682¾ votes were recorded for Gov. Roosevelt, and 190¼ for Mr. Smith. The last named had the next highest number of votes to those of Gov. Roosevelt in the three ballots—the third highest being Speaker Garner, who on the three ballots polled respectively the following votes on those ballots: 90¼, 90¼ and 101¼. The number of votes necessary to secure the nomination was 769 1-3. With the breaking of the deadlock, as a result of the action of California and Texas, 90 votes (California 44 and Texas 46) were switched from Speaker Garner to Gov. Roosevelt. As to the subsequent developments the Chicago dispatch July 1 to the New York "Times" said:

This started a bandwagon rush, in which only New York—the nominee's home State—Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Connecticut declined to join, and Mr. Roosevelt was selected by a vote of 945, the convention's two-thirds requirement being 769 1-3. His nearest rival, Alfred E. Smith, received 190½ votes, the four States named sticking to him to the last. . . .

William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, was the voice of Mr. Roosevelt's destiny. When the name of California was called by the reading clerk he took the platform to explain the change of the vote in the Western States. The news of the impending action had spread throughout the delegates.

But the galleries had not heard about it, and, when they sensed what was happening, the boos and yells with which they expressed their anger over the defeat of Alfred E. Smith required the efforts of Mayor Anthony J. Cermak of Chicago, whose presence was demanded by Permanent Chairman Thomas J. Walsh, to restore a measure of quiet.

RETURN TO GOLD STANDARD URGED IN RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY DIRECTORS OF BANK FOR INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS—REPRESENTATIVE OF BANK OF ENGLAND ASSENTS TO RESOLUTION, AS DO SWEDEN AND JAPAN.

At Basle, Switzerland, July 11, the directors of the Bank for International Settlements unanimously adopted a resolution calling for a return to the gold standard as the "best available monetary mechanism and best suited to make possible a free flow of the world's trade." Associated Press cablegrams from Basle in reporting this said:

The action was regarded as highly important, particularly as it followed so closely upon adoption of the Treaty of Lausanne.

Also it was the first public intimation of the stand of the Bank of England since Great Britain abandoned the gold standard. Sir Montagu Norman, Chairman of the board of the Bank of England, was absent, but he approved of the resolution and his alternate voted for it.

Sweden and Japan, both of which are off the gold standard, also indorsed the resolution. These votes were regarded in informed quarters as an indication that those countries would return to the gold standard in the very near future.

The resolution asserted that it was desirable to prepare measures necessary for re-establishment of the gold standard and that the World Bank would act as a common agency in the task of monetary reconstruction which will begin at the projected world economic conference to be held either at London or Geneva.

"Realization of these measures," said the resolution, "depends first on action by the Governments. Without that it is beyond the power of the central banks."

To enable the mechanism of the international balance of payments to work again satisfactorily, the resolution said, "it will be necessary to restore to a reasonable degree the freedom of movement of goods, services and capital; to complete the solution of the war debts, and to take the necessary steps in each country to restore and maintain the equilibrium of international economy, not only as regards the public revenue and expenditure, but also as regards production costs and the organization of the internal money and capital market."

It was pointed out that the war debt reference was not directed against the United States alone.

FOREIGN DEVELOPMENTS—THE LAUSANNE CONFERENCE—GERMANY ESTABLISHES A DICTATORSHIP OVER PRUSSIA—THE GERMAN ELECTIONS.

International adjustments were a conspicuous feature of developments in the foreign sphere during July, owing to conclusions reached at the Lausanne conference on German reparations and the adoption of a preliminary resolution at the General Disarmament Conference in Geneva. The start of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa also served to emphasize the diplomatic efforts on foot for stimulation of international trade and the alleviation of handicaps now imposed on business. Lausanne was by far the most important of the conferences, as it was called into being at the behest of the Young Plan Advisory Committee, with the direct aim in view of furthering the economic recovery of the world. At the General Disarmament Conference, this thought was again prominent, since the armaments burdens have become steadily more onerous during the last three years.

The Lausanne conference began on June 16, with delegations of 13 interested governments in attendance. It was concluded on July 9, with the signature of a formal treaty in which reparations are ostensibly abolished, with Germany making a final payment of 3,000,000,000 marks ($714,000,000) in gold bonds, which are to be negotiated in not less than three nor more than 15 years, and the proceeds utilized in European reconstruction. Unfortunately, this formal agreement was by no means the only one concluded at Lausanne, as American press correspondents discovered almost immediately that it was conditioned by a so-called "gentlemen's agreement," which provides that the reparations-receiving nations will not ratify the formal treaty until a "satisfactory settlement" has been reached between them and their own creditors. In this manner the entire Lausanne reparations settlement has been linked with the debts due from the former Allied Governments to the United States.

The achievement of the Lausanne conference was dimmed to an unfortunate degree by the disclosure of this gentlemen's agreement and the fact that such a secret document could be made to condition the practical termination of reparations. For a week after the Lausanne treaty was signed, the gentlemen's agreement overshadowed in international discussions the formal treaty itself. Nor was the situation clarified when British and French statesmen revealed on July 13 that still another agreement had been reached at Lausanne. The third agreement provided for Anglo-French consultations on European problems, and other nations were invited to join. Varying interpretations placed on this document by the British and French caused much confusion and also tended to create distrust in the proceedings at Lausanne. The Anglo-French accord of amity was later explained as being a purely European document, to which half a score of other nations have since adhered.

When the negotiations were concluded at Lausanne, July 9, representatives of Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Japan and Poland affixed their signatures to the treaty formulated in the three preceding weeks. Other countries are to sign later, according to an official announcement. In the plenary session that ended the reparations discussion Premier Herriot of France offered a handclasp of friendship to Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany, and asked the assembled nations to create the "spirit of Lausanne." An earnest desire to establish cordial relations with Germany and to insure peace on earth was proclaimed by M. Herriot. In reply, Chancellor von Papen expressed the hope that "the abolition of economic barriers and the present political lull" would spread to all nations. The further sacrifices asked of Germany would be willingly made, Colonel von Papen added, as his country is "confident that a new era has dawned."

In the preamble to the Lausanne treaty, the assembled nations declared that "the signatory powers do not claim that the task accomplished at Lausanne, which will completely put an end to reparations, can alone assure that peace which all nations desire, but they hope that an achievement of such significance and so arduously attained will be understood and appreciated by all pacific elements in Europe and the world, and that it will be followed by fresh achievements." It was proclaimed in addition that "these further successes will be more readily won if the nations will rally to this new effort in the cause of real peace, which can only be complete if it is applied both in the economic and political spheres, and reject all possibility of resort to arms or to violence."

The treaty itself specifies that five instruments were drawn up as a result of the negotiations. They are: (1) an agreement with Germany; (2) transitional measures relating to Germany; (3) a resolution relating to non-German reparations; (4) a resolution relating to Central and Eastern Europe; (5) a resolution relating to the world economic and financial conference. These instruments, embodied in the treaty, contain no hint of the secret "gentlemen's agreement" which conditions their ultimate application. They were declared, however, as fulfilling the aim of agreement "to a lasting settlement of the questions raised in the report of the Basle experts, and on measures necessary to solve the other economic and financial difficulties which are responsible for and may prolong the present world crisis."

It is provided that Germany shall deliver to the Bank for International Settlements an issue of 3,000,000,000 marks ($714,000,000) German Government 5% redeemable bonds, free of all German taxes, which are to be held by the bank as trustee. The bonds are not to be negotiated by the Bank for three years, and if they are not negotiated in whole or part after 15 years such unnegotiated bonds are to be cancelled. After the initial three-year period the Bank may sell the bonds on the market as and when possible, and in such amounts as it deems fit, but at a price not less than 90%. The German Government will retain the right to redeem the bonds, which will be retired from sinking funds accumulated at the rate of 1% per annum as from the date of negotiation. Proceeds of such issues are to be placed by the Bank in a special account, the allocation of which is to be settled by a further agreement reached in due course between the governments. On coming into force, this agreement is to replace previous reparations regimes, which will then be terminated. It is indicated specifically, however, that nothing in the present agreement alters or affects the existence of the Bank for International Settlements, or diminishes the rights of bondholders of the German external loan of 1924 and the international 5½% loan of 1930. The transitional measures which follow simply prolong until ratification of the treaty the declaration of June 16 1932, providing for temporary suspension of reparations and war debt payments between the participating Powers.

Non-German reparations are to be the subject of a further conference, and for this purpose it is agreed that a committee will be appointed consisting of one representative of each of the Governments concerned. The resolution relating to Central and Eastern Europe provides for the appointment of a further committee, which will be "entrusted with the duty of submitting to the organizing committee of the European Union, at its next session, problems as to the measures required for the restoration of the countries of Central and Eastern Europe." This committee is to consist of not more than two representatives from each of the participants, who will be Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Rumania, Switzerland and Jugoslavia.

When the representatives of the seven immediate signatories affixed their names early July 9, Prime Minister MacDonald brought the conference to a formal end with a brief speech in which he emphasized that the Lausanne agreement "must have response elsewhere." The participants, he declared, had got rid of "these great payments of sums which, because they represent no transfer of goods, have not been a punishment upon one nation but an affliction upon all and the cause of the upset of the world's economy, from which all nations are suffering." There are no more reparations, he asserted, but it was fair to ask Germany to take a hearty part in the work of reconstruction. "There is one thing we have to take account of," Mr. MacDonald continued. "We have said that whatever arrangements we have to come to will have to be fitted into a world framework. Europe cannot exist alone. The arrangements we are making, the agreements that have been signed, are agreements which much have response elsewhere. Europe, hand-in-hand with every industrial nation of the world, must come to an agreement which will set us again on a solid economic foundation." A cordial note dominated the gathering as the leaders signed the accord.

It appeared immediately, however, that the treaty is in an important sense only provisional, owing to the "gentlemen's agreement" for suspension of its ratification and application until further settlements are made covering the war debts to the United States. The creditor powers, this document states, "will have an opportunity to explain the situation to their respective Parliaments, but no reference to that must be made in the agreement with Germany. Consequently, if a satisfactory agreement is reached for debts, the creditor powers will ratify, and the agreement with Germany will then have its full effect. But if such a settlement is not obtained, the agreement with Germany will not be ratified and a new situation will arise and the interested governments will confer on what is to be done. In such an event, the legal position is that which existed before the Hoover moratorium." Signatories to this agreement are Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium.

A storm of comment was aroused by the Lausanne accord and the "gentlemen's agreement," and the suspicions engendered by the procedure occasioned numerous official explanations throughout the week that followed in London, Paris, Berlin and Washington. Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain made the statement before the House of Commons in London, July 11, that reassuring conversations had been held between British and United States representatives during the Lausanne conference. The disclosure was made in response to a bitter attack on the settlement by Winston Churchill. The Chancellor replied that Mr. Churchill had done no service in trying to undermine confidence in the Lausanne results. "After all," he said, "we have been in touch at Lausanne not only with European representatives, but had an opportunity for conversations with representatives of the United States, and I would ask the House to believe in this rather delicate situation that we have no reason to think the course we have taken is one which is going to lead to any of those unfortunate results Mr. Churchill anticipates." It was carefully explained by a British Government spokesman the following day that the Chancellor's remarks might seem to imply much more than was intended. What really occurred, it was stated, was that members of the British delegation strolled about the hills at Lausanne with American representatives who were attending the Geneva conference on disarmament, and in these informal contacts world problems were discussed solely as a matter of social intercourse.

The whole question was debated formally in the British House of Commons, July 12, when Prime Minister MacDonald went before that body to give an account of the proceedings at Lausanne. Mr. MacDonald outlined the difficulties of the problem and pointed out that much confusion was caused by the fact that each of three groups concerned "quite properly refused to treat its contractual obligations so as to mix itself up with the position of any of the others." German representatives at Lausanne stoutly declined to admit that war debts concerned them in any way, he remarked. Washington refused, similarly, in its many formal pronouncements on the subject, to admit that reparations concerned the United States. Britain, France and others received reparations and also paid war debts. "How could the three parties be brought together?" the Prime Minister asked. "That was the problem we had to face." He admitted that risks had been taken at Lausanne in wiping out reparations before knowing the intentions of the United States. "America has never uttered a pledge so far as I know, nor in any way indicated how she is prepared to meet us," Mr. MacDonald said, "but I for one believe there is no nation in the world more ready to lend a hand in straightening out the entanglements and troubles with which we are surrounded than America and her people." He insisted that no ultimatum had been presented by the European nations to the United States.

Despite the assurances of the Prime Minister, much criticism of the accord and especially of the "gentlemen's agreement" was voiced in the debate which followed by Winston Churchill, George Lansbury, the Laborite spokesman, and David Lloyd George, Liberal. A clarifying statement was accordingly made by Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the National Cabinet. "The so-called 'gentlemen's agreement,'" Mr. Chamberlain said, "was simply an agreed summary of conversations which took place between the creditor powers. If America had been a participant in our discussions at Lausanne no gentlemen's agreement would have been necessary because we could have got a complete and final settlement on the spot. But America was not there and in her absence it was impossible for us to come to a final settlement. There was no mystery about it, nothing sinister about it. As we could not at the moment make an arrangement with America, we had to postpone ratification until we knew what it was possible to do with that country."

The question of the Lausanne agreements became momentarily more confused, July 13, when announcement of the new Anglo-French agreement of comity was made simultaneously in the British House of Commons by Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, and in the French Parliament by Premier Edouard Herriot. There was considerable divergence in the terms chosen by the two Ministers in describing the accord, according to dispatches from London and Paris. It was stated by Sir John Simon that questions to be discussed by the participants do not include that of the British war debt to the United States Government. M. Herriot stated, on the other hand, that Great Britain and France had promised in the accord to take a concerted stand on intergovernmental debts. There was much uncertainty for a time as to the actual significance of the accord, but London insisted, and Paris finally agreed, that it does not cover the war debts. M. Herriot made it plain, later, that he had been misquoted and really meant that the "gentlemen's agreement" required the British Government to inform Paris in the event any changes in the debt agreements were contemplated.

These matters were debated with some fervor in our own Congress at Washington, and in order to quiet apprehensions, President Hoover addressed a letter to Senator Borah, July 14, in which he expressed the view that the Lausanne agreements did not constitute combined action of the European debtor nations against the United States. The letter revealed that Mr. Borah had inquired through Secretary of State Stimson what the effect on the United States would be of the agreements reached in Europe. President Hoover stated, in reply, that "our people are, of course, gratified at the settlement of the strictly European problem of reparations, or any of the other political or economic questions that have impeded European recovery. "I wish to make it absolutely clear, however," the President continued, "that the United States has not been consulted regarding any of the agreements reported in the press to have been concluded recently at Lausanne, and that of course it is not a party to nor in any way committed to such agreements. While I do not assume it to be the purpose of any of these agreements to effect combined action of our debtors, if it shall be so interpreted, then I do not propose that the American people shall be pressed into any line of action or that our policies shall be in any way influenced by such a combination, either open or implied."

The new agreement of comity recalled that the signatories of the Lausanne treaty wished to follow that instrument by "fresh achievements." Success in that regard will be more readily won, it is asserted, "if the nations will rally to a new effort in the cause of peace, which can only be complete if it is applied in both the economic and political spheres." In the Lausanne treaty the intention was also expressed to make every effort to resolve the problems which exist at the present moment or may arise subsequently in the spirit of the Lausanne agreement. In that spirit, the new agreement states, the British and French Governments decided to take the initiative by making an immediate contribution to that end. Four general proposals were accordingly made, as follows:

"First, in accordance with the spirit of the Covenant of the League of Nations they intend to exchange views with one another with complete candor, and to keep each other mutually informed of, any questions coming to their notice similar in origin to that now so happily settled at Lausanne which may affect the European regime. It is their hope that other governments will join them in adopting their procedure.

"Secondly, they intend to work together and with the other delegations at Geneva to find a solution for the disarmament question which will be beneficial and equitable for all the powers concerned.

"Thirdly, they will co-operate with each other and other interested governments in careful and practical preparation of the world economic conference.

"Fourthly, pending negotiation at a later date of a new commercial treaty between their two countries, they will avoid any action in the nature of discrimination by one country against the interests of the other."

Disarmament discussions at the General Conference in Geneva were terminated for the time being July 23, when a resolution was adopted which embodies the meager results so far achieved and provides for resumption of the conference sessions within a period of six months. The resolution was the subject of vigorous and not always amiable debate in the final weeks of what is described as the "first phase" of the conference. General Italo Balbo, Italian Air Minister, informed the Conference July 21 that his Government considered the resolution a vain effort, "entirely inadequate when compared to the wishes and hopes of the world." The inconclusiveness of the naval disarmament provisions was regarded as especially obnoxious by the Italians. The German Government, through Count Rudolph Nadolny, informed the gathering on the following day that its participation in the further work of the conference was unlikely unless Germany secured "equality with regard to national security and the application of all the provisions for disarmament in the Versailles Treaty." It was believed for a time that Germany might "bolt" the conference, but the difficulties were smoothed over to a degree by the persuasive eloquence of Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary of Britain, and Premier Edouard Herriot of France. When the resolution came to a vote July 23 delegates of 42 nations voted for its acceptance, while eight refrained from voting. Germany and Russia were the only dissenting countries.

Delegations of nine nations of the British Empire gathered in Ottawa, July 21, for the opening of the long-heralded Imperial Economic Conference, from which so much is hoped in the way of improved Empire trade. The gathering is likely to last about six weeks, and the sessions will be devoted mainly to the delicate questions of inter-Imperial trade preferences and their effects on the relations of the United Kingdom and the Dominions with other countries. The participants are the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Newfoundland, South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, India and the Irish Free State. Premier Bennett of Canada is host to the meeting, and he was elected President immediately after the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, delivered a message of greeting from King George.

After the opening ceremonies, Prime Minister Bennett, of Canada, launched into an extensive address, in which he stated the general case for the Dominions. He made a definite proposal for wider preferences for British goods, in exchange for greater British preferences to imports from Canada. The offer was extended to all parts of the Empire, in any degree to which it might be found advantageous. Stanley Baldwin, as the leader of the British delegation, followed with a carefully drawn speech in which he declared that Britain has already given the Dominions the privilege of free entry into the ports of the United Kingdom. But the opportunities for Empire trade have by no means been exhausted, Mr. Baldwin continued, as trade of the United Kingdom with the Dominions is only 30% of the total, while trade with foreign countries accounts for 70%. He suggested that the conference devote itself to clearing out the channels of trade among the Empire units.

Republicanism in Germany received a severe blow as the result of a series of decrees, issued on July 20 over the signature of President Paul von Hindenburg, which virtually dismissed from power the State Administration of Prussia and placed control of the State in the hands of Chancellor Franz von Papen, Junker head of the Reich Cabinet. The action was taken under Article 48 of the Weimar Constitution, which confers extraordinary powers upon the President in the event of any national emergency. The rioting and agitation of the campaign for the Parliamentary election caused many deaths and injuries, and it was ostensibly in order to restore public order and security in Prussia that the decrees were issued, but it looked like a bold stroke of policy on the part of Chancellor von Papen and his close associate, General Kurt von Schleicher, who are the personal Cabinet appointees of President von Hindenburg.

In the first of the emergency decrees issued on July 20, Chancellor von Papen was appointed Federal Commissioner for Prussia, with full authority to depose the acting Government, headed by Dr. Otto Braun, and Dr. Carl Severing, both Socialists. The regime of the State of Prussia, like that of the Reich itself, was extra-Parliamentary. Fascists came into control of the Prussian Diet in the recent State election, but Premier Otto Braun and Minister of the Interior Severing retained their offices by rulings designed for that purpose. With the new emergency decree in hand, Chancellor von Papen called upon Dr. Braun and Dr. Severing to retire from office, but this they refused to do, maintaining that the action was illegal. The aims of Chancellor von Papen and General von Schleicher were then carried out by force, and the legal background for this procedure was established through issuance of a further decree declaring that a state of emergency existed in Berlin and the Province of Brandenburg. Chancellor von Papen named Mayor Franz Bracht of Essen as Prussian Minister of the Interior. General Kurd von Rundstedt was appointed military commander of Berlin and the surrounding area of Brandenburg, and Dr. Kurt Melcher was appointed chief police executive of Berlin. These new officials joined in removing forcibly not only Dr. Braun and Dr. Severing, but also Albert Grzesinski, Socialist Police President of Berlin, and his chief deputy, Bernhard Weiss. The Reichswehr, or regular army of Germany, was employed in making these changes.

The legality of the steps taken was tested in the German Supreme Court at Leipzig in hearings on July 23, on an appeal by the old Prussian regime and the South German States of Bavaria and Baden. The Court declined, on July 25, to grant an injunction restraining further removals from the Prussian Government, but reserved decision on the Constitutional questions involved. These would require extensive consideration, it was pointed out by the Court President, Dr. Bumke. With practical control of Prussia assured for some time, orders were issued on July 26 by the Reich regime rescinding the edict which placed Berlin under martial law.

As to the result of the German elections on Sunday, July 31, this showed a further big increase in the vote of the Hitlerites or National Socialists, but left them far short of control. The membership of the different parties in the new Reichstag and in the old is shown in the following:

	1932.	1930.
National Socialists	229	107
Socialists	133	143
Communists	89	77
Centrists and Bavarian People's Party	98	87
Nationalists	44	41
Democrats	2	14
Miscellaneous groups	7	108
Total	602	577

In a total vote of almost 37,000,000, an increase of almost 2,000,000 over that in the Reichstag election of 1930 stands to the credit of the Hitlerites, the showing of the five principal groups being as follows:

	1932.	1930.
National Socialists	13,733,000	6,400,000
Socialists	7,900,000	8,600,000
Communists	5,300,000	4,600,000
Centrists*	5,800,000	5,100,000
Nationalists	2,700,000	2,450,000

* Centrists includes Bavarian People's Party.

THE JULY FINANCING OF THE U S. TREASURY.

Notwithstanding the large-scale financing done by the United States Government in June, the United States Treasury did some more major financing during the month of July—meaning by "major financing" financing apart from the customary offering of Treasury bills disposed of on a discount basis, which offerings of bills are usually to a large extent for the purpose of replacing maturing bills. The major financing during July consisted of the offering of $650,000,000, "or thereabouts," of Treasury notes in two series, both dated and bearing interest from Aug. 1 1932. One series offered in the amount of $325,000,000 was for two years, with interest at the rate of 2⅛%, and maturing on Aug. 1 1934. The other series, also offered in the amount of $325,000,000, was for four years, with interest at the rate of 3¼% and maturing on Aug. 1 1936. In making the announcement, which came Sunday night, July 24, the Secretary of the Treasury, Ogden L. Mills, stated that outstanding certificates of indebtedness in the amount of $227,631,000 would fall due on Aug. 1 1932, and said the new offering would provide funds for this maturity and also to meet current financial requirements, principally for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Washington advices, July 24, to the New York "Times," in explaining the Treasury program of financing, now that Congress had adjourned and legislation been completed, pointed out that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had already obtained $1,000,000,000 from the United States Treasury, $500,000,000 being in capital stock subscribed and another half billion representing Corporation notes sold to the Treasury. The Corporation had obligated itself to loan out about the amount now available. The Unemployment Relief Act increased the borrowing power of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation by $1,800,000,000 to a total of $3,300,000,000, with the loaning power $500,000,000 greater by reason of the Treasury stock subscription. The Corporation, immediately after the organization of the new Board had been arranged for, would begin a greatly expanded loaning program for the relief of destitution through advances to the States, loans for self-liquidating projects, and to finance price stabilization or orderly marketing organizations. The practice of the Treasury in buying the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's debentures, was expected to be followed in the future. Treasury officials did not consider it advisable for both the Treasury and the Corporation to go into the market at the same time for funds, but felt that the Government should borrow sufficient money to meet the requirements of both.

All the indications pointed to the overwhelming success of the new offerings of notes, and this proved to be the case. The notes had all the advantages in their favor. They enjoyed full income tax exemption, which means that being in the form of Treasury notes, they were exempt from the surtaxes as well as the normal income taxes. Had the Treasury offered for subscription long-term bonds instead of Treasury notes—and the second series of notes now offered had a relatively long maturity date, namely, four years—exemption from the surtaxes would not have been possible, since the law does not permit it. Moreover, under the new Revenue Act, approved the previous month, the rates of the Federal income taxes, not only the normal taxes, but especially the surtaxes, had been greatly increased, adding correspondingly to the value of the tax-exempt feature in the one case as in the other. Then, also, as in the case of other recent offerings by the United States, the offering circular stated that "any qualified depositary will be permitted to make payment by credit for notes allotted to it for itself and its customers up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits when so notified by the Federal Reserve Bank of its district." This meant that payment, at least for the time being, could be largely by book credit instead of the transfer of actual cash. The offering circular also stated that the Treasury would accept in payment for the new Treasury notes, at par, Treasury certificates of indebtedness maturing Aug. 1 1932, and that subscriptions in payment for which such certificates were tendered would be given preferred allotment. Finally, it is to be said that rates of interest in the July offering of notes were somewhat higher than in the June offering of certificates of indebtedness and of Treasury notes. In the current offering the rate of interest in the two-year notes, as already stated, was 2⅛%, and in the offering of four-year notes was 3¼%, whereas in the June offering the rate in the case of the one-year certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $350,000,000 was only 1½%, and in the case of the three-year notes to the amount of $400,000,000 it was 3%.

Subscription books for the two new series were promptly closed at the close of business on Monday, July 25, and the aggregate of the subscriptions proved far in excess of the offerings in the case of both series of notes, but especially in the case of the four-year notes. For the two-year notes bearing 2⅛% interest the subscriptions aggregated $1,706,626,800, while the total of the subscriptions for the four-year notes bearing 3¼% interest amounted to $3,804,722,700, making $5,511,349,500 for the two issues combined. Of the two-year subscriptions $37,740,000 represented exchange subscriptions in payment for which Treasury certificates of indebtedness maturing Aug. 1 1932 were tendered. Such exchange subscriptions were allotted in full. Cash subscriptions were allotted on a graduated scale, the smaller subscriptions being allotted in greater percentage than the larger ones. Of the subscriptions for the four-year 3¼% Treasury notes $139,466,500 represented exchange subscriptions, which, as in the other case, were allotted in full, while the cash subscriptions received allotments on a graduated scale. The allotments were $365,138,000 four-year 3¼s and $345,292,600 two-year 2⅛s.

What was regarded as a gratifying feature was that the subscriptions for the four-year notes were so much larger than for the two-year notes, being, as already stated, $3,804,772,700 as against $1,706,626,800. This was a reversal of previous experience, and especially the experience in the preceding month, when the short-term issues were in especial demand. In other words, in June the subscriptions for the one-year certificates of indebtedness bearing only 1½% interest and offered to amount of $400,000,000 aggregated $1,653,814,000, while subscriptions for the three-year Treasury notes, offered to amount of $400,000,000 and bearing 3% interest, or twice the 1½% in the one-year certificates of indebtedness, amounted to only $1,143,548,400.

As explained in previous monthly reviews, payment by credit in making these subscriptions means a corresponding addition to the amount of Government deposits held by the member banks, and, as on previous occasions, this privilege was extensively availed of, the total of Government deposits thus created in the present instance aggregated $504,000,000, of which $238,199,600 were on deposit in the New York Federal Reserve district. Calls upon these deposits began immediately in the early days of August (both issues of notes bearing date, as already stated, of Aug. 1 1932), $35,280,000 being called for payment Aug. 2, and the same amount Aug. 3, of which $16,914,200 in each case was in the New York district and $30,340,800 Aug. 5, of which $14,332,100 was in the New York district. It should perhaps also be stated that the last of the calls for repayment of Government deposits arising out of the sale of the $350,000,000 of one-year certificates of indebtedness offered in June allotted to amount of $373,856,500 and the $400,000,000 of three-year 3% Treasury notes, but allotted to amount of $416,602,800 three-year 3% Treasury notes, making the combined allotment for the two issues $790,459,300—the last call for the repayment of the Government deposits of $539,257,000 resulting from these June disposals was made on July 25 and required repayment on July 28 and July 29 of $28,993,100 on each day, of which $11,990,750 in each case was on deposit with the member banks in the New York Federal Reserve District.

Several sales of Treasury bills disposed of on a discount basis were made during the month. On July 6 tenders for $75,000,000, "or thereabouts," of 90-day Treasury bills were invited up to 2 p. m., Eastern Standard time, on Monday, July 11. The bills were dated July 13 1932 and to mature Oct. 11 1932. They were to replace a maturing issue of $76,200,000. The tenders aggregated $273,658,000, and the total amount of bids accepted was $75,278,000. The average price received by the Treasury was 99.904, making the average rate on a bank discount basis about 0.39% per annum. On July 13 came announcement of another issue of Treasury bills to the amount of $75,000,000 and running for 91 days. This issue, it was stated, would replace a maturing issue for a similar amount. The new bills were dated July 20 1932 and to mature Oct. 19 1932. Tenders were received up to 2 p. m. Eastern Standard time, on Monday, July 18. The tenders aggregated $241,256,000, and the amount accepted was $75,923,000. The average price realized by the Treasury was 99.899, being an average rate per annum on a bank discount basis of about 0.40%. Offering of still another issue of 91-day Treasury bills to amount of $80,000,000, "or thereabouts," was announced on July 21 by Secretary of the Treasury Mills. It was stated that a part of the new issue ($51,550,000) was intended to replace maturing bills, while $30,000,000 was to provide for the additional requirements of the Government. Tenders were invited up to 2 p. m. Eastern Standard time, Monday, July 25. The bills were dated July 27 1932 and made to mature on Oct. 26 1932. Referring to this issue, the "United States Daily" for July 21 pointed out that the $30,000,000 of new money to be derived represented the first borrowing in the new fiscal year. An excess of expenditures over receipts, which had continued since the opening of the fiscal year on July 1 and which had caused an accumulated deficit of more than $235,000,000 on July 18, had depleted the Government's available funds and that no appreciable amount of the newly enacted taxes were due until July 31. Since it did not replace any outstanding obligations, this excess of borrowing was an increase in the public debt, the first to be made in the current fiscal year, according to the Treasury Department, which showed that the issuance of the new bills would raise the total public debt from $19,487,000,000 to $19,517,000,000. Tenders totaling $191,613,000 were received to this offering of $80,000,000 of 91-day Treasury bills. The amount accepted was $83,317,000, and the average price realized 99.882, the average rate on a bank discount basis being about 0.47%.

NEW SECURITY ISSUES AND DIVIDENDS IN JULY.

New financing in the domestic market for July continued on a small scale and was made up chiefly of public utility and State and municipal offerings as was the case in previous months. The Consolidated Gas Co. of New York was the largest offering for the month and consisted of $30,000,000, 25-yr. 5% gold debs. at 94 and int., to yield about 5.44% and due July 15 1957.

THE COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING JULY.

During July the stock market, after further weakness the first week of the month, during which the lowest prices of the year were recorded, completely reversed its course and took an upward spurt which, gradually gaining momentum, eventuated in the sharpest appreciation in values that any single month has had to its credit in a period of over a year. This does not mean that all losses, which had been accumulating during that period, were recovered—far from it. It does mean that the extent of the recovery was greater than that which occurred in any previous month during that period, even when the market was enjoying an upward reaction. The rise was especially noteworthy in the closing days of the month, when actual buoyancy at times was displayed. Sentiment completely changed, and the latter part of the month buying was conducted with greater confidence than for a long while previously. Bond prices may be said to have moved higher throughout the whole month, and it was the rapid and sustained way in which appreciation in this branch of the security markets developed that really accounted for the revival of activity in the stock market, and the progress which this revival made. Aside from this and the fact that a large short interest had grown up during the long period of decline, which made the time opportune for an upward campaign, there was a variety of considerations that influenced the change in sentiment which carried both bond and stock prices to higher levels. Perhaps the chief of these was the cessation of further exports of gold, the outflow of the metal having reached its definite termination the previous month, multiplying evidences of this appearing as July progressed. This removed a source of anxiety which had hung over the market for quite a long time. It apparently also led to some buying of American securities for foreign account. The adjournment of Congress, with the completion of important legislation having an intimate bearing upon the course of economic affairs in the immediate future was also a factor in the change in sentiment. Even though the completed legislation may not have been just what could have been wished, it had at least the effect of removing uncertainty in that respect. The adjournment did not come until after the middle of the month—not until late on Saturday night, July 16, and this will account for the fact that stocks remained weak during the first week of the month and that the market displayed considerable hesitancy during the second week of the month. It will also account for the fact that trading remained very light, not reaching a million shares on the New York Stock Exchange on any day of the month until Friday, July 22, on which day the market responded to another event which counted as a highly favorable development, or at least one which was so construed and served to give a further impetus to the rise in prices. We refer to the action of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, announced after the close of business on Thursday, July 21, in giving its assent to the grouping of the railroads in Eastern trunk line territory into four systems as suggested by the roads instead of the five carrier systems proposed in the plan offered by the Inter-State Commerce Commission in December 1929. This, it was thought, would facilitate consolidation of the roads assigned to the different groups. The railroads enjoyed the sharpest advance of any stocks on the list, and the remainder of the month kept moving steadily upward on sustained buying, notwithstanding that the returns of railroad earnings for the month of June, which were now coming to hand from day to day, made very bad exhibits for that month, registering no improvement as a rule over the poor returns of all recent previous months.

Improvement in commodity values now also came in to encourage the belief that there might soon be a change for the better in general affairs. Livestock prices, and in particular hogs, had been sharply rising for some time, and now many other commodities appeared to be joining the procession. Wheat prices sharply advanced from the low levels reached about the middle of the month. Cotton prices likewise advanced, and so did sugar, rubber, silk, some of the non-ferrous metals, and a number of other articles and commodities. Accounts regarding the steel industry likewise became a trifle more encouraging. At the beginning of July the "Iron Age" reported that raw steel production had fallen to a national average of not more than 12% of capacity, which it said was the lowest level of which there was any record. This trade paper then also noted that the June output of pig iron, amounting to 20,935 gross tons a day, was the smallest since December 1896, a period of nearly 36 years. It said that a moderate rebound in steel and pig iron production was indicated for the ensuing week, when some plants that had shut down for the Fourth of July holiday would resume. On the other hand, there was almost a complete lack of the constructive factors that were needed to lift steel output above its June average of about 18%, and steel companies did not look for any marked change for the better during July and August. Later in the month, however, the "Iron Age" took a much more hopeful view of the outlook, reporting in its issue of July 28 that without any change in the volume of business to account for it, "an air of cheerfulness" had pervaded the long depressed iron and steel industry. Marked improvement in sentiment, it said, was predicated largely on expectations of a seasonal recovery beginning not later than September, together with a widespread conviction that fundamental conditions were favorable for a turn and that business could not much longer remain as bad as it had been the past few months. Steel ingot output increased only to 16% of capacity, but the firmness of steel prices was cited as a favorable factor, and at Chicago there had been an advance of 50c. a ton in the price of heavy melting steel scrap.

Beginning with Friday, July 22, activity in trading on the New York Stock Exchange steadily increased, and on Thursday, July 28, the number of shares sold aggregated 2,734,445, the largest day's business since Dec. 18 1931. The next day (Friday, July 29) the sales again exceeded 2,000,000 shares, the exact total having been 2,101,954 shares. Saturday, July 30, was a half-holiday, yet the sales reached 910,850 shares. The course of prices the last week of the month was almost uninterruptedly upward, and the further advance in prices reached large proportions. Both good news and bad news was largely ignored with the market moving upward with such great momentum. It was announced after the close of business on Tuesday, July 26, that the directors of the United States Steel Corp. had declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾% on the preferred shares of the company, there never having been any suspension of dividend payments on these shares during the entire existence of the Corporation, but the dividend had to be paid out of accumulated surplus, and the directors felt constrained to issue a statement saying that "improvement in the business and earnings must in future determine dividend action on the preferred stock." It was pointed out in the statement that the results from all operations of the Corporation for the June quarter of 1932 had fallen short by $20,452,173 of earning anything for the preferred stock (as a matter of fact, nothing had been earned for the preferred shares since the third quarter of 1931), and that as the preferred dividend was to be paid in full, the total draft on surplus for the year ending June 30 1932 in order to cover both net losses from operations and the preferred dividends reached no less than $60,008,670. In the same period common dividends were declared in the amount of $13,054,878. In other words, surplus had thus been reduced since July 1 1931 in the huge sum of $73,063,548. Bethlehem Steel Corporation submitted its statement for the June quarter a couple of days later, and it was, of course, of the same unfavorable character, and in the case of that company it was not deemed expedient to continue the payment of dividends on the preferred shares.

Notwithstanding the activity in the closing days of the month, total sales for July were not large, reaching only 23,057,334 shares. This was because trading was very light in the first three weeks of the month, business at times having been almost stagnant, as already indicated, and, besides this, the Stock Exchange was closed not only on Independence Day, July 4, but also on the Saturday preceding. In July of the previous year the sales on the New York Stock Exchange were 33,545,650 shares; in July 1930 they were 47,746,090 shares, and in July 1929, 93,378,690 shares. On the New York Curb Exchange the sales in July 1932 were only 2,345,178 shares, as against 6,173,383 shares in July 1931; 11,367,595 shares in July 1930, and 57,646,450 shares in July 1929.

As to the extent of the rise, after the early decline, the averages compiled by the New York "Times" for 25 selected railroad stocks and 25 industrial stocks furnish an excellent indication. Both the averages for the rails and for the industrial shares reached their lowest figure for the month on July 8, and these were also the lowest figures for the year 1932 to date. In the case of the railroad shares, as against a closing price on June 30 of 10.51, the average dropped to 10.34 on July 8, and from this there was an advance to the high for the month of 17.66 on Saturday, July 30. In the case of the 25 industrial stocks, as against 61.03, the close on June 30, the average dropped to 57.62 on July 8, and then touched a high of 77.85 on July 30. It will be observed that in this last instance the rise was over 20 points. In the case of the combined average for the whole 50 stocks, as against 35.77, the closing price on June 30, the average dropped to 33.98 on July 8, and then reached a high of 47.75 on July 30. It deserves to be noted that the average of these 50 stocks on Sept. 19 1929 was 311.90. As far as the individual stocks are concerned, the gains for the month were in many cases even more striking than indicated by these averages. American Tel. & Tel., after dropping to 69¾ July 11 (from an opening price July 1 of 77), sold up to 90⅛ July 30. Allied Chemical & Dye, after touching 43¼ July 11, advanced to 58½ July 30; United States Steel, after reaching 21⅜ July 11, rose to 29⅜ July 30; American Tobacco moved up from 47¼ July 1 to 66 July 30. Brooklyn Union Gas sold up from 50 July 9 to 68 July 29, and closed at that figure July 30. Consolidated Gas of New York, after touching 33½ July 11, rose to 47½ July 29. Auburn Automobile, from 43⅜ July 5, moved up to 69⅞ July 30. American Water Works & Electric rose from 11 July 9 to 18¼ July 29; National lead, after touching 45 July 8, reached 66 July 29; J. I. Case sold up from 21¾ July 1 to 32⅝ July 30; General Electric advanced from 9 July 8 to 14½ July 30; General Motors rose from 7⅝ July 5 to 11¼ July 30; People's Gas of Chicago, after dropping from 49⅜, the opening price July 1, to 39 July 9, sold up to 61¼ July 30. American Sugar Refining, from 54 July 8, jumped to 78 July 30. Goodyear Tire & Rubber advanced from 6¼ July 11 to 12½ July 28. National Biscuit jumped from 20¼ July 1 to 32¼ July 29; Sears, Roebuck & Co. advanced from 9⅞ July 1 to 16¼ July 29, and F. W. Woolworth from 22⅝ July 8 to 31½ July 29. In the railroad list the advances were in many instances even more noteworthy than in the general list. New York Central more than doubled its low price of the year, rising from 10⅝ July 8 and 8¾ June 2 to 18⅛ July 29. The same remark may be made with reference to Atchison common; from 18⅝ July 5 and 17⅞ June 28, this stock reached a high of 35¼ July 29. Union Pacific rose from 27⅝ July 11 to 48⅞ July 29; Atlantic Coast Line from 9⅞ July 11 to 18 July 29; Chesapeake & Ohio from 9¾ July 6 to 16⅜ July 29, and Delaware & Hudson from 32 July 8 to 54¾ July 30. Norfolk & Western jumped from 59 July 8 to 84½ July 30; Reading from 11½ July 6 to 25½ July 29, and Southern Pacific from 7 July 8 to 13¼ July 29.

The bond market, as already indicated, was very strong throughout the whole month, and very notable advances occurred nearly all around. United States Government securities shared in the improvement, with especially sharp advances in the case of the United States bond issues bearing 3⅜% coupons or less on the provision incorporated in the Federal Home Loan Act conferring on such issues the circulation privilege as security for National bank notes. Foreign bond issues also participated in the rise, in part by reason of the Lausanne agreement, while the action of the Reichs Government in establishing a dictatorship over the State of Prussia did not appear to have much of an adverse effect upon German bonds. In the following table we show the fluctuations during July in the different issues of United States obligations and also in a large list of railroad and industrial bonds and a considerable number, likewise, of foreign bond issues.

THE MONEY MARKET DURING JULY 1932.

The money market during this month was devoid of any new features, and extreme ease in all branches of the market remained the prevailing feature. The United States Treasury was obliged to engage in extensive new financing in addition to the large financing undertaken during June, but conditions in the money market remained extremely favorable for such operations, which, accordingly, were carried through with great success, as noted under a separate heading in the early portion of this article. The prevailing ease in money was accentuated by the cessation of exports of gold and by the further purchase of United States Government securities by the Federal Reserve banks, with resulting further expansion in the amount of Federal Reserve credit outstanding, though in less pronounced fashion than in previous months. After holding undeviatingly at 2½% for six months, the call loan rate on the Stock Exchange was on July 7 marked down to 2%. Outside the Stock Exchange, call loans were available at 1% all through the month, even while the Exchange rate still ruled at 2½%. The demand for time loans on security collateral was virtually nil, the same as in previous months, and rates for all periods remained quoted nominally at 1¼@1½% for all periods. Prime commercial paper continued in excellent demand, but satisfactory offerings continued scarce and the supply fell short of market needs. Quotations for choice names of four to six months' maturity receded a further fraction, with the rates for choice names of four to six months' maturity down to 2¼@2½%. Names less well known were quoted at 3%. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York on July 19 reported that leading commercial paper dealers showed a total of $103,300,000 of open market commercial paper outstanding on June 30 as against $111,100,000 on May 31; $107,800,000 on April 30, and $105,606,000 on March 31. As compared with June 30 of the previous year, the amount was down 65%.

No change whatever occurred during July in the rates for bankers' acceptances, which throughout the month continued to be quoted at the low figure of ⅞ of 1% bid and ¾ of 1% asked for bills running 30, 60 and 90 days; 1% bid and ⅞ of 1% asked for 120 days, and 1¼% bid and 1⅛% asked for bills running 150 days and 180 days. The large New York City banks agreed informally at the beginning of July to raise their commission fees for accepting bankers' bills. The agreement involved the minimum commission to be levied against customers. Practically all of the large accepting banks, it was stated, would base their charges in accordance with the new schedule. The new commission fee was fixed at 1½% on an annual basis, the actual commission paid being governed by the maturity of the credit. For bills due in 30 days the Commission was placed at ⅛ of 1%, with a further rise of ⅛ of 1% for each month added to the term of the credit, until theoretically the rate of 1½% is reached on a 12 months' bill. On the old basis, 30-day maturities were charged ⅛ of 1% 60-day bills were 3/16 of 1%, and 90-day bills ¼ of 1%. Commissions for long maturities were based upon a general rate of 1% annually. With extremely low market rates for bills, the banks, it was stated, raised the commission charge principally in order to increase their earnings. The low market rates for acceptances, it was pointed out, made the new commission rate possible without any risk of leading borrowers on acceptances to finance their operations by other methods. It was calculated that on a rough estimate the increase in commission charges would raise the gross earnings of banks on accepting fees from about $7,000,000 annually to over $10,000,000, based upon an acceptance volume of $700,000,000 annually.

The mid-year survey of the acceptance business by the American Acceptance Council, made public July 20, showed the bill volume to have dropped to $747,248,362, a reduction for the first half of 1932 of $226,810,988. For the month of June the Council reported a drop of $40,166,388, thus leaving the amount $621,124,625 below that on June 30 1931, when the total was $1,368,372,987. Robert H. Bean, executive manager of the American Acceptance Council, ascribed the shrinkage to "reduced volume of foreign trade, lower commodity prices and the disinclination of some banks to use acceptance credit at home or in foreign countries when direct loans may be made." In the district embracing New York City and State, the outstanding volume of bills on June 30 was $485,000,000 lower than on the same date in 1931, and at $604,641,709 was $29,600,000 lower than on May 31 1932.

The New York Federal Reserve Bank in its "Monthly Review," issued under date of Aug. 1 commented as follows on conditions in the acceptance market during July:

"The discount market for acceptances was rather quiet throughout the month of July, both from the viewpoint of the volume of transactions and of rates, which showed no variation from the level reached toward the end of June. Dealers' portfolios increased moderately during the first week of the month, and Reserve bank bill holdings also rose during this period as a result of bills sold by the dealers under repurchase agreements. In subsequent weeks, however, dealers' sales of bills consistently exceeded offerings to them, and their portfolios declined to a comparatively small total by the close of the month. The Reserve banks' bill holdings were reduced $38,000,000 in the three weeks after July 6, reflecting the repurchase by the dealers of bills sold to the Reserve banks around the mid-year, and also maturities from bills which had been acquired previously from holdings of foreign banks at the Reserve banks.

The decline in Federal Reserve bill holdings for own account and for the account of foreign correspondents, together with the decline in dealers' portfolios and a continued tendency on the part of the commercial banks to withhold new bills from the discount market, indicates that there may have been a further increase during July in the bill holdings of the accepting institutions. The amount held by these institutions at the end of June was $518,000,000, which represented nearly 70% of the $747,000,000 of the bills then outstanding, as compared with holdings of 65% on May 31 and 40% a year ago."

No changes whatever occurred during July in the rediscount rates of any of the Federal Reserve banks.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS IN NEW YORK CITY.

Changes in the condition of the Federal Reserve banks during the month of July were less important than previously. The Reserve banks added further to their holdings of United States securities, but in a much more moderate way than before, and the volume of Reserve credit outstanding was also enlarged much more moderately. The total holdings of United States securities were reported at $1,841,191,000 July 27 as against $1,800,971,000 June 29. Acceptance holdings, however, were only $39,700,000 July 27 as against $63,519,000 June 29. The discount holdings, reflecting member bank borrowing, were $525,380,000 July 27 as against $469,828,000 June 29. The result altogether was that the total of bill and security holdings, which constitute a measure of the amount of Reserve credit outstanding, stood at $2,412,232,000 July 27 as against $2,340,262,000 June 29, this last being an expansion for the month of, roughly, $72,000,000. There was at the same time a considerable increase in the amount of Federal Reserve notes in circulation. This stood at $2,834,157,000 July 27 as against $2,755,864,000 June 29 and $2,615,932,000 June 22. The most of the expansion occurred during the early part of July, and appeared to grow out of the banking troubles in Chicago, and the currency demand in connection with the Fourth of July holiday-making. Gold exports having virtually terminated, the Reserve banks were able again to enlarge their gold reserves, though only in a moderate kind of way, and the total of the gold reserves of the 12 Reserve banks was reported at $2,621,142,000 July 27 as against $2,579,374,000 June 29. Owing, however, to the increase in the amount of Federal Reserve notes outstanding and some increase also in the deposits the ratio of total reserves to deposits and Federal Reserve note liabilities combined was somewhat lower at 56.5% July 27 as against 57.2% June 29. The amount of United States Government securities pledged as part collateral for Federal Reserve notes after a further increase from $606,700,000 June 29 to $682,000,000 July 6, was reduced each week thereafter and on July 27 was down to $623,900,000. Foreign central banks continued to reduce their holdings of acceptances in this country, the Reserve banks reporting their holdings on account of foreign banks at only $57,494,000 July 27 as against $98,163,000 June 29 and comparing with $253,578,000 on July 29 of the previous year. Foreign bank deposits with the Federal Reserve institutions also remained relatively light, standing at $11,656,000 July 27 against $8,396,000 June 29, but comparing with $100,435,000 on July 29 of the previous year.

Brokers' loans in New York City continued their downward course, and in the case of the banks making reports to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York were only $331,000,000 July 27 as against $342,000,000 on June 29. According to the comprehensive monthly statement compiled by the New York Stock Exchange itself, borrowings by Stock Exchange members Saturday, July 30, were $241,599,943 as against $243,574,295 on June 30; $300,397,222 May 31; $379,016,662 April 30, and $533,103,059 on March 31.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING JULY.

Sterling exchange during July took a further sharp dip downward following the break which occurred during June. It was not easy to account for the downward course of the pound sterling. The operations of the Bank of England and of the British Treasury were shrouded in mystery.

though it was believed that the Bank of England intervened on occasions to prevent too sharp a decline and again intervened when recoveries in sterling appeared likely to go too far. The normal course of sterling at this season of the year is towards lower levels, owing to sales of exchange in anticipation of large purchases of grain and cotton out of the new crops about to find their way to market, and in addition there was apparently a flow of funds to New York in the purchase of American securities owing to a revival of confidence in the stability of American currency. Unquestionably uneasiness with reference to maintaining the United States dollar on a gold basis completely disappeared, and this led to a return to this market of balances previously maintained here, but which had been withdrawn when apprehensions in that regard reached such an acute stage. Now there was evidence of a return flow, not alone from London, but also from Continental centers, some of it through London. Very likely also some sterling bills purchased on expectations of a sharp appreciation in sterling to near the gold standard were unloaded when it became evident that no quick rise to the gold level would be permitted by the British authorities. In this regard the statement made by Neville Chamberlain, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the House of Commons, on July 12, that Great Britain had no intention of returning immediately to the gold standard acted as a damper on sterling exchange. Mr. Chamberlain told the House of Commons on that day that "there is no intention on the part of the Government to return to the gold standard either now or in the immediate future." This statement from the British Chancellor was prompted by the fact that Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, was one of those who signed the resolution adopted by the Bank for International Settlements recommending that all countries return to the gold standard. There may have been some sales of sterling, too, due to a belief that in all the circumstances of the case the pound sterling was likely to move lower before it moved higher. In the early part of the month, when sterling still gave some indication of strength, this was ascribed to the prospect of final and satisfactory adjustments at the Lausanne conference for dealing with German reparations and Inter-Allied debt payments. But obviously, if that was the case, it did not explain the later weakness of the pound sterling, notwithstanding the view prevailing in Europe that this conference had had a satisfactory outcome, though this view did not find general acceptance in the United States.

At one time the continued weakness in sterling was attributed to a belief that the plan for the huge conversion of the British war 5s to a 3½% basis would result in considerable sales of these war 5s by foreign holders. The amount to be converted foots up £2,084,944,000. There were apprehensions that many holders of the war 5s would demand redemption rather than agree to conversion at a lower interest rate. But apprehensions in that regard must have been relieved when official statements made it appear that the conversion scheme was proving successful beyond all expectations. And yet the pound sterling continued its downward course. On Monday, July 18, it was announced that of 1,130,000 applications received in respect to the conversion project up to the close of business on Saturday, July 16, more than 90% had assented to the conversion, and further assents from day to day were expected. The holding at Ottawa, Canada, of the British Empire Economic Conference, which began its sessions on July 21, attracted a great deal of attention, and some dealers in exchange were hesitant about taking a position with reference to the future of sterling until the outcome of that conference was definitely known. Important developments were deemed likely to result from that conference bearing directly upon the future of sterling. Stability of exchange rates and currency within the British Empire was looked upon as one of the questions likely to engage the attention of the conference. Such stability, it was thought, could be easily attained, and might serve to promote wide economic recovery. A super-Empire central bank calculated to stabilize exchange rates throughout the British Empire was visioned as one of the possibilities, a proposal for such a bank being sponsored by Premier Bennett of Canada. In the face of all this, sterling, after the early days of July, continued to decline. In fact, it suffered some severe breaks. Thus cable transfers on London, after selling up to $3.58¾ on July 8, from $3.56⅞ July 1, on July 29 broke to 3.49½, with the range on July 30 at $3.50⅝@$3.51⅛. The decline on July 29 alone was over 2c., and it followed a decline on July 28 of 3c.

Simultaneously, on occasion of this latest break, there were sharp declines in the rates on the leading Continental centers, and this was attributed to the fact that there had been extensive short selling of the Ameican dollar when confidence in it was so deeply disturbed and that these short sales were now being covered by sales of sterling and Continental exchange to obtain the needed dollars. In its issue of July 28 the "Wall Street Journal" stated that when the drive against the dollar began early in May a tremendous short position was built up in forward dollar exchange, and it was estimated in some quarters that no attempt was made to cover approximately 75% of such short commitments until the present occasion. The forward sales of dollars, it was stated, were for the most part made on a 90-day basis, with the contracts falling due at the end of July or the beginning of August. When the flight from the dollar was at its height the total short position was estimated at about $1.000,000,000, much of which was now being liquidated.

The Bank of England kept adding to its gold holdings throughout the month, at first in a small way, and then in larger measure. For the week ending July 6 the Bank reported a gain of £11,439; for the week ending July 13 a gain of £239,719; for the week ending July 20 a gain of £217,610, and for the week ending July 27 a gain of £1,154,111. The latter part of July $1,480,000 of gold was received here from England.

The Canadian dollar continued to sell at a severe discount all through the month of July, and at the close of July it was at a discount of 12⅞%. Several shipments of gold from Canada to the United States were reported during the month.

The gold movement into and out of the United States, which during July was on a greatly reduced scale, is summarized by the New York Federal Reserve Bank as follows:

"There was a continuous gain to the monetary gold stock of the United States during July totaling $55,000,000 for the month. The increase in gold holdings was the result both of moderate imports and of gold released from earmark above the amounts withdrawn to be exported. These releases of earmarked gold represented the use in this market of some of the funds previously converted into gold by foreign countries, in order to meet payments due here, and were related to the recent decline in most of the principal foreign exchanges.

"Imports of gold in July totaled $19,000,000, of which $4,200,000 was received from Canada, $1,500,000 from England, and $700,000 from Mexico at New York; and $4,500,000 from China, $4,200,000 from Japan, $2,200,000 from the Philippine Islands, and $1,100,000 from Australia at San Francisco. The net decrease in gold held under earmark for foreign account amounted to $56,000,000. Exports consisted of $21,500,000 of gold shipped to France and $1,660,000 to Ecuador, and represented the transfer of gold previously placed under earmark."

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

The course of exchange rates on the centers of Continental Europe has been pretty well outlined in what has been said above with reference to the break in the sterling rate at the close of the month. These Continental rates in the case of nearly all chief centers were progressively weak throughout July, and suffered an especially severe break in the closing days of the month. The cause was the same in all instances. It was due to a revival of confidence in the American dollar, as fears of a suspension of gold payments had proved groundless, and the result was that some of the gold which had sought safety and shelter abroad showed a decided inclination to find lodgment back in New York. Purchases of American securities for foreign account may have served to stimulate the flow of funds hither, but in any event banking interests which had reduced their balances here below ordinary normal requirements manifested a desire to restore them again to more nearly normal amounts. To this was added the covering of short sales of American dollars by sales of foreign currencies to procure the needed dollars. The result was that at the end of July Swiss francs were the only gold Continental currency quoted above par against the dollar. Even the French franc dipped to a point where gold as an exchange operation could have been imported from Paris to New York without a loss on the transaction. Cable transfers on Paris dropped from 3.93 13/16 on July 1 to 3.91 July 28, with the range on July 30 at 3.91½@3.91 13/16. In the redistribution of gold occasioned by this change in the situation, even the Bank of France, which had been so long and so steadily adding to its acquisitions of the metal, suffered some loss at the close of the month. For the week ending July 8 the Bank of France reported another considerable increase in its gold holdings, namely, 154,890,872 francs; but in the week ending July 15 it showed a decrease in gold in amount of 63,871,732 francs; in the week ending July 22 a further decrease of 97,788,461 francs, and in the week ending July 29 a decrease of 143,000,000 francs. At the opening on July 28 cable transfers on Paris were quoted at 3.90⅝, and this created great excitement in exchange circles, as this was a shade under the gold import point from Paris, which was calculated at 3.9066. In actual trading on that day, this rate was never reached, but the franc made a new low for the year at 3.91, and predictions were current that gold would soon be imported into the United States from France.

German marks, while also lower, did not closely follow the course of the other Continental countries, the reason being presumably that transactions in German exchange are under the strict control of the Reichsbank through Government decree. Moreover, political developments in Germany took a disquieting turn pending the German elections scheduled to take place on Sunday, July 31, one of the events being the establishing of a dictatorship over Prussia by the Reich. The proceedings at the Lausanne Conference were considered favorable to German interests inasmuch as they put off for three years the payment of German reparations and also succeeded in establishing more harmonious relations between Berlin and Paris. As against 23.76¼@23.81 July 1, the German mark on July 12 was down to 23.69@23.73; after some recovery the rate again touched the same figures on July 22; the range Saturday, July 30, was 23.71@

23.75. The Bank of Germany for the first quarter of July showed a loss of 26,072,000 marks in gold, and in the second quarter of the month a further decrease of 52,028,000 marks. For the third quarter, however, there was a trifling increase, namely 28,000 marks, and this was followed by 12,079,000 marks increase in the fourth quarter. The note circulation of the Bank showed 107,606,000 marks decrease the first quarter; 80,301,000 decrease in the second quarter, and 74,368,000 marks decrease in the third quarter, with 244,936,000 marks increase in the final quarter of the month. The German delegates at the first of the quarterly conferences on the working of the standstill agreement covering Germany's private foreign credits succeeded in winning a reduction in the rate of interest. Reports on the conversion of short-term indebtedness to long-term investments under the terms of the Standstill agreement, showed that satisfactory progress was being made in that direction. On July 15 the German Government paid $15,000,000 against the credit of $125,000,000 extended in November 1930 by a syndicate of bankers headed by Lee, Higginson & Co.

The Italian lira remained exceptionally firm, this being said to be due to a legitimate demand and not because of governmental support of any character. Lire at this time are largely under the influence of tourist demands. This demand is a highly important factor in the Italian balance of international payments. Cable transfers on Rome fluctuated within narrow limits, with the range July 30 5.08¾@5.09¼ against 5.10@5.12½ July 1. The Greek drachma on cable transfers was quoted at .64@.68 July 30 against .63½@.70 July 1. Speyer & Co., the National City Co. and J. & W. Seligman & Co. on July 12 confirmed the statement that the $7,500,000 Greek 5½% secured Treasury gold notes had been extended to Nov. 4 1932 with interest at the rate of 6% per annum, all holders having agreed to this extension. In behalf of the trustees of the Austrian Government loan of 1923-1943 (contracted under the auspices of the League of Nations), J. P. Morgan & Co., as head of the syndicate which offered the issue in this country, gave out the following announcement on July 29:

The trustees of the Austrian Government guaranteed loan 1923-43 announce that, difficulties having arisen in regard to the transfer into the necessary foreign currencies of funds held in Austria for the service of the loan, the monthly installment due on July 1 1932 has not up to the present been provided, nor have the trustees received any information which would lead them to suppose that this installment or the monthly installmen due on Aug. 1 1932 will be met.

The funds already received by the trustees for the payment of interest are insufficient to meet in full the interest due on the first of December, next, and, should the Government in default of its obligation under the general bond fail to make the necessary transfer, whether by monthly installments or otherwise, before the due date, the full sum required for interest will be provided by utilizing to the extent then found necessary the reserve fund created for that purpose.

The trustees have already received the necessary sinking fund moneys to provide for the sinking fund requirements for the financial year ending May 31 1932, in accordance with the terms of the general bond.

The Austrian Government has in further breach of the terms of the general bond failed since the middle of June to pay to the trustees' account at the National Bank of Austria the whole of the pledged revenues collected by it.

The trustees have already lodged a protest against these infractions of the general bond, and have advised the Secretary General of the League of Nations and the Committee of Control of the guarantor States of these developments.

The trustees of the Austrian Government guaranteed loan of 1923-43, Messrs. Janssen, Wallenberg and Jay, have made an announcement with respect to that loan which is quoted below. There has been no delay in payments due the bondholders, and the bonds are guaranteed as to principal, interest and redemption payments by the undermentioned States to the extent in each case of the proportion stated:

Great Britain, to the extent of	24½%
France, to the extent of	24½%
Czechoslovakia, to the extent of	24½%
Italy, to the extent of	20½%
Belgium, to the extent of	2%
Sweden, to the extent of	2%
Denmark, to the extent of	1%
Holland, to the extent of	1%
Total	100%

The amount of the loan is $125,000,000, and participation by the United States amounted to $25,000,000.

Few changes in central bank rates were announced during July. On July 12 the Bank of Danzig reduced its discount rate from 5% to 4%. On July 5 the Central Bank of Bolivia announced a reduction in its rate from 7% to 6%. On July 7 the Imperial Bank of India reduced its rate from 5 to 4%.

Exchange on the countries neutral during the War all moved sharply downward. The reason for this has already been given above. In the case of the Swiss franc and the Dutch guilder a considerable return flow of funds from both the Swiss and Dutch centres to New York and also to some extent to London was noted. At the close of July Swiss francs were the only major currency still quoted above par with respect to the dollar. The strength of the Swiss unit is due to the great accession of foreign funds by Switzerland during the past few years, where they took refuge for security rather than for earning power. Now, however, a slight movement of these Swiss balances to the London and New York markets occurred. Holland guilders were easier than at any time during 1932. The weakness followed from the flow of funds from Amsterdam to London and to the New York security market. The guilder holds a position of exceptional strength. The note issue of the Bank of the Netherlands is covered by more than 100% gold, held in the reserve account of the Bank. There is a superabundance of short-term funds at Amsterdam and open market rates sagged to a point completely out of line with the Central Bank rate. Private discounts dropped to only ⅜%, while the buying rate for prime guilder acceptances was ⅝%. Cable transfers on Amsterdam dropped from 40.43 July 1 to 40.17½ July 28 with the range on July 30 40.21½@40.25. Swiss francs on cable transfers dropped from 19.55 July 1 to 19.43 July 29 with the rate July 30 at 19.44@19.45. The Scandinavian currencies which always move closely in harmony with the sterling rate suffered severer declines than those of any other currency. The Danish crown on cable transfers tumbled from 19.54 July 2 to 18.87 July 29 and was 18.89½@18.96 July 30. The Swedish crown on cable transfers fell from 18.45 July 9 to 17.99 July 29 and was 18.03@18.08 July 30. The Norwegian crown, however, was remarkably well maintained and in fact at one time moved upward; on cable transfers the range July 30 was 17.57@17.62 against 17.63@17.68 July 1; in the interval the rate was as high as 17.78 July 20 and as low as 17.53@17.57 July 29. The Spanish peseta was on the whole well maintained, though moving lower with the rest of the Continental exchanges; on cable transfers the peseta was quoted at 8.03½@8.04½ July 30 as against 8.23½@8.24½ July 1.

Exchange on South America remained purely nominal, as all foreign exchanges and foreign trade operations in these countries are under severe restrictions imposed by Governmental control boards. In addition several of these South American countries suffered new internal political disturbances. A 15-day trade moratorium was declared by Brazil. In June, Chile also enacted a debt moratorium.

In rates on the Far East there were no new developments of consequence. The Japanese yen moved irregularly up and down within a relatively narrow range and the rate for yen checks was 27.45@27.65 July 30 as against 27.31@27.50 July 1. Rates on the silver using countries also moved irregularly, depending on the prices of silver, but were somewhat higher at the close of the month than at the beginning. Checks on Hong Kong were 22.78@23-3/16 July 30 against 22.87@23 5/16 July 1. The Shanghai tael was quoted at 29.50@30.00 July 30 in comparison with 29.22@29.88 July 1. Rupees on Bombay were sharply lower on the decline in the price of sterling in London; the quotation for rupees July 30 was 26.40@26.63 against 26.73@27.13 July 1. As noted above, the Imperial Bank of India on July 7 marked its discount rate down from 5% to 4%. The price of silver in London showed on the whole an improving tendency, though with frequent ups and downs; the quotation July 30 was 17-3/16 d. per oz. against 16-5/8d. on June 30.

The tables on pages 18 to 40 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during July and range since Jan. 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-American Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges, but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained. The custom however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on.

Note.—Owing to the present demoralized condition of the municipal bond markets, brokers and dealers find it difficult, and in many cases, almost impossible to make quotations for municipal bonds. Bid prices, especially for the smaller municipalities, are practically out of the question and sales or terms are simply a matter of bargaining between buyer and seller. In fact the absolute lack of demand often causes good bonds to be offered at almost any price.

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue. though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.

REVIEW OF AUGUST—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

The month of August was devoted chiefly to the carrying out of the large scale relief measures devised by Congress and President Hoover. The chief purpose was to pave the way for the ultimate recovery of trade, and while the immediate results were not very striking the effect at least was to encourage hopes of a decided change for the better in the near future. Business sentiment everywhere was decidedly more optimistic, though indications of actual trade revival were lacking virtually everywhere except in the textile trades, and there the indications of greater activity were decidedly manifest. Not only was the volume of trade in the different textile lines greater, but prices also moved higher. The lumber trade likewise showed some signs of greater activity as compared with the absolute stagnation previously prevailing though not as conpared with the volume of business in normal times. A distinct feature of encouragement was a sharp upturn in numerous commodity prices. This seemed to have come about in a perfectly natural way, free from manipulative efforts of any kind. The list included cotton, silk, wool, rubber, coffee and some other articles. As is obvious, many of these are basic materials in the textile trades and they in part explain the great improvement which occurred in those trades; they, too, appear to have developed independently though they were all concurrent events. The so-called heavy industries, and especially the steel industry, remained exceedingly depressed though the nonferrous metals nearly all disclosed a rising price tendency as the month progressed.

THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF BUSINESS COMMITTEES AND LEADERS TO ORGANIZE A PROGRAM FOR ECONOMIC RECOVERY.

President Hoover's constructive measures designed to bring about business recovery continued to be the order of the day and perhaps the most important new step taken was his calling of a National conference for Aug. 26 of business and industrial committees of the different Federal Reserve districts for the purpose of organizing what the President called "a concerted program of action along the whole economic front." Mr. Hoover, at the White House on Aug. 11, delivered his address accepting the Republican Party's nomination for the Presidency as his own successor, but this contained merely an elaboration of his well-known views on the questions of the day except that he defined more clearly his attitude and standing on the Prohibition question. His remarks on that question were lengthy and he wound up with the following declaration and statement:

"It is my conviction that the nature of this change, and one upon which all reasonable people can find common ground is that each State shall be given the right to deal with the problem as it may determine, but subject to absolute guaranties in the Constitution of the United States to protect each State from interference and invasion by its neighbors, and that in no part of the United States shall there be a return of the saloon system, with its inevitable political and social corruption and its organized interference with other States and communities.

"American statesmanship is capable of working out such a solution and making it effective."

His calling of a National conference of business men to do battle in a common cause against business depression and to alleviate unemployment met with a wholesome response on every side, and apparently some measure of success is likely to crown the effort. In his announcement, issued Aug. 14, the President indicated that the conference was to be held "for the purpose of organizing a concerted program of action along the whole economic front." In making known his 9-point program of July 29 to effect economic recovery, the President indicated that the calling of the conference was among his proposals. Wider expansion of credit facilities to business and agricultural interests, expansion of programs for repairs of railways, measures to provide for increased employment and the world economic conference were mentioned as among the subjects to be considered at the conference. The President's announcement of Aug. 14 was as follows:

I have called a National Conference for Aug. 26 of the business and industrial committees of the 12 Federal Reserve districts for the purpose of organizing a concerted program of action along the whole economic front. The conference will deal with specific projects where definite accomplishments in business, agriculture and employment can be attained, and will co-ordinate the mobilization of private and Governmental instrumentalities to that end.

On July 29 I announced that preliminary conversations were in progress between responsible heads of the Government instrumentalities and private groups in business and industry as to such a program, and that at a later time I would announce the date of a conference for a more definite development of these ideas. The areas of positive and definite action have been further explored by informal discussions between representatives of various groups and industries with Government officials during the past two weeks.

Twelve committees representing the Federal Reserve districts were established some weeks ago. I have asked the Chairmen of these committees, together with the Government officials set out below to meet in Washington the day before the conference for the purpose of preliminary preparation of the program of the organization.

Members Organization Committee.

Members of the Organization Commttee are:
Carl P. Dennett, Chairman, Boston District.
Owen D. Young, Chairman, New York District.
George H. Houston, Chairman, Philadelphia District.
L. B. Williams, Chairman, Cleveland District.
Edwin C. Graham, Chairman, Richmond District.
George S. Harris, Chairman, Atlanta District.
Sewell L. Avery, Chairman, Chicago District.
J. W. Harris, Chairman, St. Louis District.
George D. Dayton, Chairman, Minneapolis District.
Joseph F. Porter, Chairman, Kansas City District.
Frank Kell, Chairman, Dallas District.
K. R. Kingsbury, Chairman, San Francisco District.
Ogden L. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury.
Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture.
Roy D. Chapin, Secretary of Commerce.
W. M. Doak, Secretary of Labor.
Eugene M. Meyer, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board.
Atlee Pomerene, Chairman, Reconstruction Finance Corporation.
Paul Bestor, Chairman, Farm Loan Board.
Franklin D. Fort, Chairman, Federal Home Loan Bank Board.
James C. Stone, Chairman, Federal Farm Board.

In addition, I shall appoint some special committees to advise on particular questions which directly concern agriculture, labor, railways and other industries and groups which are directly affected.

Subjects to Be Considered.

Among the subjects which will be considered and definitely formulated are:

A canvass of the means, methods, agencies and powers available in the country for general advancement; wider expansion of the credit facilities to business and industry where consumption of goods is assured; co-ordination and expansion of live stock and agricultural credit facilities; co-ordination and expansion of financial facilities for the movement of commodities into consumption; expansion of programs for the repairs and maintenance of the railways, and creation of organization for further spread of existing employment and expansion of employment.

A number of other possible questions such as the forthcoming world economic conference; protection of bondholders and mortgages renewals, co-ordination with these groups and and other subjects will be explored. It is expected to outline a basis for public, commercial and trade group co-operation in the expectation of the purposes of the conference.

On Aug. 26 in addressing the conference of representatives of business and industrial committees in the different Federal Reserve Districts, President Hoover indicated that the purpose of the gathering was that its participants might be given an "opportunity to organize for action," and enable them to "join in stimulation of organized private initiative of America." "The reason for calling this conference at this particular moment," said President Hoover, "is that we are convinced that we have overcome the major financial crisis. . . . and that with its relaxation confidence and hope have reappeared in the world." "The problem before this conference," the President stated, "is not to settle great questions of the future, or to establish artificialities, but rather by practical steps to-day, or organization, to make more effective the activities of every agency which can promote the recovery of the Nation." "Definite projects," said President Hoover, "will be laid before you affecting the better distribution of credit, of employment and commodities." He added:

What I wish is that banking and industry and business generally should in this new setting, assume further initiative and responsibility; and they should co-operate with agriculture and labor and the Government agencies to organize and develop every possible avenue of co-ordinated effort on the economic front.

Your committees have in different districts already made positive contributions; these tried methods need spread and more definite national organization; they need co-ordination with our Governmental programs. You can assist to make that great program more effective. In so doing you will bring hope and added security to every farmhouse and every cottage door.

In advance of the conference held in Washington on Aug. 26 between President Hoover and representatives of the business and industrial committees of all the Federal Reserve Districts, a preliminary meeting was held on Aug. 25. Action was taken thereat toward the appointment of a permanent executive committee which would be delegated to draft a definite program of activities. At the conclusion of the preliminary meeting on Aug. 25 a statement was issued as follows by Secretary of the Treasury Mills:

A meeting was held to-day in the Treasury Department attended by the following gentlemen and presided over by Henry M. Robinson:

Secretary Mills.	Sewell Avery, Chicago.
Secretary Chapin.	A. W. Robertson, Pittsburgh.
Secretary Doak.	J. E. Reynolds, New York.
Governor Meyer.	C. P. Dennett, Boston.
Governor Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.	E. C. Graham, Washington.
	G. S. Harris, Atlanta.
Atlee Pomerene, Chairman Reconstruction Finance Corporation.	R. E. Maddox, Atlanta.
	J. W. Harris, St. Louis.
C. H. Miller, President Reconstruction Finance Corporation.	G. D. Dayton, Minneapolis.
	J. F. Porter, Kansas City.
Franklin Fort, Chairman Federal Home Loan Bank Board.	Frank Kell, Dallas.
	K. R. Kingsbury, San Francisco.
Carl Williams of the Federal Farm Board.	Walter Teagle, New York.
Owen D. Young.	Daniel Willard, Baltimore.
L. B. Williams, Cleveland.	T. N. Perkins, Boston.
G. H. Houston, Philadelphia.

At that meeting a full report was submitted by each of the 12 Chairmen of the banking and industrial committees of the several Federal Reserve Districts as to the work of their committees, the problems dealt with and the general conditions existing in their districts.

In addition to these reports, statements were made by the President and Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, the Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, Mr. Willard, Mr. Teagle and Mr. Robertson.

For some weeks past informal meetings have been held, attended by members of the banking and industrial committees and Government officials, at which the possibility of setting up a central committee of the banking and industrial committees was discussed, such a committee to act as a central point of contact in those matters regarding co-operation between various public and semi-public agencies and the several banking and industrial committees, and to be of assistance to voluntary committees formed for the purpose of carrying out definite undertakings.

Those attending these informal meetings had also considered some definite proposals looking to the stimulation of business activity and of employment. A full report was submitted to the conference to-day covering the discussions of and recommendations made by the informal group.

At the conclusion of the session it was the sense of those present that they would recommend to the conference that is to meet to-morrow the setting up of a central committee of the banking and industrial committees to meet the purposes above described, and would submit, as well, a definite program of activities that might be undertaken either through the banking and industrial committees proper, or through sub-committees to be appointed with their co-operation.

Secretary of the Treasury Mills recommended at the Conference on Aug. 26 six specific endeavors for promoting economic improvement—plans to be co-ordinated by a central committee of business chieftains. The six-point program of business, industrial and agricultural endeavors was outlined by Secretary Mills as follows:

1. The problem of making available credit affirmatively useful to business.

2. To increase employment by the railroads and stimulation of industry through expansion of maintenance of equipment and purchase of new equipment in co-operation with the Inter-State Commerce Commission and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

3. Increased employment through the sharing work movement.

4. The stimulation of the repair and improvement of home movement.

5. Assistance to home owners with maturing mortgages.

6. Active co-operation of all banking and industrial committees with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in working out the problems incident to the making of self-liquidating loans for public and semi-public projects and for slum clearance and housing projects as provided in the emergency relief act; in the aiding of livestock loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and agricultural credit corporations provided for in the relief act and in facilitating the adequate functioning of the new home loan banks.

The Associated Press also said:

He told the assembled banking and industrial committees of the 12 Federal Reserve districts that this program has been presented to their Chairmen in yesterday's all-day meeting and believed "worthy of consideration" by the conference.

"We are not setting up an economic council to endeavor to direct the economic policies of the country," the Treasury Secretary assured the gathering.

"We are creating a central organization for the purpose of contact and co-operation to assist in the task to be performed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Federal Reserve Banking System, the Home Loan banks, the banking and industrial committees and such voluntary groups as may associate themselves with the latter, with a view to developing helpful steps looking to gradual economic rehabilitation and more immediately an increase in employment."

Mr. Mills said that, since first discussions of a central clearing house organization and a definite plan for business and employment betterment, progress has already been made. He cited as examples creation of the commodity finance and American securities corporations and the development of a capital-expenditures movement among corporations.

Franklin W. Fort, Chairman of the Board of the Federal Home Loan Bank, in addressing President Hoover's Economic Conference in Washington on Aug. 26, announced that Comptroller of the Currency Pole had called upon National banks to suspend foreclosure proceedings for 60 days. Mr. Fort stated that many receivers of banks owing "to their proper effort to pay dividends to depositors and creditors have been demanding payment of mortgages and bringing foreclosure proceedings." "The Reconstruction Finance Corporation," said Mr. Fort, "can loan to these receivers against the mortgage funds with which to pay out depositors. Therefore, such foreclosures must stop until the Home Loan banks are functioning and pouring new funds into the mortgage investment field." Mr. Fort stated that "by Oct. 15 we will have available $134,000,000 of capital to loan against or upon mortgages."

Atlee Pomerene, Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, spoke of the objective in the creation of that Corporation at President Hoover's Economic Conference on Aug. 26. Mr. Pomerene also analyzed the loans thus far made by the Corporation, and stated that 69.8% of the total bank loans made by the Corporation had been in behalf of banks in towns with population under 5,000.

At President Hoover's Economic Conference, a resolution was adopted (Aug. 26) embodying a six-point program to further the country's economic recovery. Under the resolution provision was made for a Central Committee as well as six sub-committees. The Central Committee, organized along lines recommended by Secretary Mills, Governor Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board, Owen D. Young and others, was placed under the chairmanship of Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker and close friend of President Hoover, said the Washington dispatch (Aug. 27) to the New York "Times," which likewise reported:

To its membership were named the Chairmen of the Banking and Industrial committees of the Federal Reserve districts; Jackson E. Reynolds, President of the First National Bank of New York; A. W. Robertson, Chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co; George L. Harrison, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York; Atlee Pomerene, Chairman, and Charles A. Miller, President of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Robert P. Lamont, former Secretary of Commerce; Mr. Meyer and Secretaries Mills and Chapin.

The following resolution was adopted at the Conference:

Resolved, That the Chairmen of the 12 Banking and Industrial committees and Henry M. Robinson, Jackson E. Reynolds, A. W. Robertson, Eugene Meyer, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board; George L. Harrison, Governor of the Reserve Bank of New York; Atlee Pomerene and Charles N. Miller, Chairman and President of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Franklin W. Fort, Chairman of the Home Loan Board; Robert P. Lamont, former Secretary of Commerce, President of the American Iron and Steel Institute, and the Secretaries of the Treasury and of Commerce shall constitute a central committee to act as central point of contact in those matters requiring co-operation between various public and semi-public agencies and the several Banking and Industrial committees, and to be of assistance to voluntary committees formed for the purpose of carrying out definite undertakings.

Resolved further, That an executive committee of the central committee shall consist of the Chairman, any three Chairmen of the several Banking and Industrial committees, and the Secretary of the Treasury or the Secretary of Commerce.

The Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, the Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and Chairman and President of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, shall be ex-officio members of such executive committee, but shall not be necessary for a quorum.

Resolved further, That there are hereby created the following sub-committees to consider the following subjects:

(1) The problem of making available credit affirmatively useful to business. Chairman, Mr. Young. Committee to be selected by him.

(2) Increased employment on railroads and stimulation of industry through expansion of maintenance of equipment and purchase of new equipment in co-operation with the Inter-State Commerce Commission and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The committee will consist of Daniel Willard, President of the Baltimore & Ohio RR., and George H. Houston, President of Baldwin Locomotive Works.

(3) Expansion of capital expenditures by industry in the way of replacement of obsolete and worn-out equipment and otherwise. Chairman, A. W. Robinson. Committee to be appointed by him, with co-operation of Banking and Industrial committee chairmen.

(4) Increased employment through sharing work movement. Chairman, Mr. Teagle. Committee to be appointed by Banking and Industrial Committee Chairman.

(5) Possibility of stimulating repair and improvement of home movement. Messrs. Avery and Woolley and such members as they may appoint with co-operation of Banking and Industrial Chairman.

(6) Organization of committees in the several districts to assist home owners with maturing mortgages along the lines described by Mr. Miller.

The committee further recommends the active co-operation of all Banking and Industrial committees in working out the problems incident to the making of so-called self-liquidating loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for public and semi-public projects, and for slum clearance and housing projects as provided in the Emergency Relief Act; in aiding the making of cattle loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Agricultural Credit Corporation; in assisting the establishment of Agricultural Credit Corporations, provided for in the same Act, and in facilitating the adequate functioning of the new Home Loan banks.

The committee further recommends that each Banking and Industrial committee continue vigorously to devote itself to the solution of the economic and employment problems of their districts, as outlined in to-days' discussion, and more particularly direct their efforts to supplementing the efforts of existing relief agencies and o make more effective the facilities furnished by these institutions, and that in the carrying out of this work full use will be made of the central committee for the purpose of the interchange of ideas and experiences and the development of sound proposals.

MEMBERS OF FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD NAMED BY PRESIDENT HOOVER—FRANKLIN W. FORT MADE CHAIRMAN—DESIGNATION OF DISTRICTS.

On Aug. 6 President Hoover made known the names of those selected by him to serve as members of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. Former Representative Franklin W. Fort (Rep., N. J.) was named as Chairman. Two other Republicans were designated as members of the newly-created Board, viz.: William E. Best of Pittsburgh and Dr. John M. Gries of Rosewood, Ohio; the other two members of the Board are Democrats, namely: Nathan Adams of Dallas, Tex., and H. Morton Bodfish of Chicago.

The new Federal Home Loan Board, supervisory body of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, was formally organized Aug. 9, and began immediately to consider its policies and program "with a desire to alleviate a condition that is costing thousands of people their life savings as best we may," according to an oral statement by Franklin W. Fort, its Chairman.

The designation of the districts in which the 12 new Federal Home Loan banks will be established was announced on Aug. 24 by Franklin W. Fort, Chairman of the Federal Home Loan Board. Mr. Fort stated that it was the purpose to have all of the 12 banks in operation by Oct. 15. The total capital of these institutions will be $134,000,000. In the case of District No. 2 (comprising the States of New York and New Jersey, together with Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands) it is stated that eligible institutions therein hold approximately $9,500,000,000 of mortgages of all types; a capital of $20,000,000 has been assigned to the Bank in this district. The "United States Daily" noted that Mr. Fort, in making known the determination of the districts, said orally on Aug. 24 that the States assigned to each district fell "naturally" into the alignment decided upon as the final form of the district upon analysis of the available eligible mortgage paper held within the boundaries. The law prohibited splitting of States by district lines, so the areas announced range from a minimum of two States to seven.

NATIONAL BANKS ASKED TO SUSPEND FORECLOSURE PROCEEDINGS ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES—FEDERAL HOME LOAN BOARD ALSO ASKS CO-OPERATION OF STATE BANKING DEPARTMENTS.

The suspension of all real estate mortgage foreclosures for a period of 60 days in which time the Federal Home Loan Bank System will be functioning was proposed to supervisory authorities of banking and building and loan associations in all States by Franklin W. Fort, Chairman of the Home Loan Bank Board, in telegrams forwarded, Aug. 26, in furtherance of a movement to avoid what he described orally as "unnecessary wreckage of life savings."

The announcement, made public by Mr. Fort, follows in full text:

The following telegram was to-day (Aug. 26) sent by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to the supervising banking and building and loan authorities in all States:

"We hope to have Federal Home Loan banks open and doing business on or before Oct. 15, after which date substantial relaxation in the mortgage loan market should develop speedily. In the meantime we feel that foreclosures should be prevented wherever possible. We therefore request you to instruct the receivers or other liquidators of closed institutions under your jurisdiction to withhold or delay foreclosure proceedings for at least 60 days thus offering chance of preserving equity of owner of real estate. Dividends to depositors or creditors need not be delayed as Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized to loan to receivers. Comptroller of the Currency issuing instructions in accordance with this telegram to all receivers of National banks. We earnestly request your concurrence in your State."

PLANS DEVELOPED FOR FORMATION OF COMMODITIES FINANCE CORPORATION—TO FINANCE MARKETING OF AGRICULTURAL AND OTHER COMMODITIES—NOTE ISSUE UP TO $50,000,000 TO BE SUBSCRIBED FOR BY NEW YORK BANKS—TWO SUBSIDIARY CORPORATIONS PROPOSED.

Definite announcement of the plans to organize a Commodities Finance Corporation was made on Aug. 18; a statement by Mortimer N. Buckner, President of the New York Clearing House Association, issued on that day gave the details decided upon and indicated that the Corporation "has been organized primarily for the purpose of facilitating the financing of the purchase, carrying and orderly marketing for domestic consumption or export, of agricultural and other commodities." The Corporation is authorized to issue up to $50,000,000 in notes, and "members of the New York Clearing House Association and other New York City banks will be requested to subscribe to the notes at par in an amount equal to 3½% of their capital, surplus and undivided profits, or 1% of their respective net demand and time deposits as at July 30 1932, whichever is less." The plan involved the formation of two subsidiary corporations, one to undertake an acceptance business and the other to engage in a finance business. The new Corporation is to have only a nominal capital. With regard to the new Corporation the New York "Journal of Commerce" of Aug. 19 said:

The board of directors will consist of a representative of each of the Clearing House banks. On Monday the directors will hold their first meeting, electing a chairman and officers. Provision is made for the formation of an executive committee.

It was carefully emphasized that the business to be done by the Corporation would be conducted on a sound banking basis and that its operations in no way would resemble those of a pool. The charter will not permit the direct purchase of commodities which is granted only as a power incidental to that of financing commodities transactions.

Plans Revised.

The proposal to form a commodities financing corporation was advanced early this month by Eugene Meyer, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board. It is understood that the original intention was to build up a reservoir of credit which would rapidly enter the commodities markets and serve to raise prices. Credits would, however, only be issued to finance the actual movement of goods and not for the purpose of building up speculative stocks.

Bankers were not enthusiastic over the plan and recalled that propsals more or less similar had been made when prices were at much higher levels. At the same time there was no desire to oppose directly the efforts of the sponsors of the plan. It was felt that a mean could be found between divergent views.

When plans first were formulated the news of what was being done first was whispered about in Wall Street and then wired to princial financial centers all over the world. With no definite statement of aims many members of the financial community supposed that it was desired to raise commodity prices in order to back a possible rise in securities and the notion was spread that the Corporation was part of a much broader plan worked out by the Administration.

The rise in commodities prices, which was based upon false presuppositions of the markets discouraged those who had been called upon to form the Corporation. Those who were opposed to it to begin with said that with rising prices such a corporation appeared to be superfluous.

Interior Business.

What business there will be for the new corporation is not yet known. It was stated yesterday that the organization starts with blank ledgers and must await inquiries from those who wish to borrow. Although its services in accepting paper and in extending credits are duplicated by those offered by the large New York banks, it is believed that it will, nevertheless, find borrowers who do not come to Wall Street. There is considerable interior business, it was said, which does not come to the New York banks, but which should come to the Commodities Finance Corporation.

Mr. Buckner's announcement of Aug. 19 follows:

Plan of Organization and Operation of the Commodities Finance Corporation.

(Dated August 1932.)

A corporation is to be organized under the laws of the State of Delaware called The Commodities Finance Corporation, with a nominal capital.

It is to have the usual corporate officers and a board of directors with the usual powers of directors and provision for an executive committee.

Purposes of the Corporation.

The Commodities Finance Corporation (hereinafter called the Corporation) has been organized primarily for the purpose of facilitating the financing of the purchase, carrying and orderly marketing for domestic consumption or export, of agricultural and other commodities.

The sound and effective financing of these transactions may require different methods and in consequence operations will be conducted wherever deemed advisable through separate subsidiary corporations. Subsidiary corporations therefore will be organized under the laws of the State of New York, but in no event will the Corporation directly or through its subsidiaries, nor will any of the subsidiaries, purchase any commodities except where necessary to protect loans or acceptances or other credits.

Two subsidiary corporations will be forthwith organized. One corporation is to undertake an acceptance business exclusively and the other corporation is to undertake a finance business, making loans or extending other credit facilities, all upon such terms as it is anticipated should enable those with satisfactory business responsibility to obtain proper accommodations upon a sound banking basis.

Method of Operation.

The Corporation is to be authorized to issue up to $50,000,000 principal amount in notes. Members of the New York Clearing House Association and other New York City banks will be requested to subscribe to the notes at par in an amount equal to 3½% of their capital, surplus and undivided profits or 1% of their respective net demand and time deposits as at July 30 1932, whichever is less.

Subscriptions will be payable in instalments on call of the board of directors, when and as required. Notes are to be issued from time to time to the principal amount of the instalments paid.

The notes of the corporation will, subject to the payment of the expenses and other liabilities of the Corporation, have behind them all of the assets of the Corporation, which will consist principally of the capital stock of the subsidiary corporations and the obligations evidencing the indebtedness of the subsidiary corporations to the Corporation. In the case of the subsidiary acceptance corporation, the capital funds will be obtained only by the issue of its shares to the Corporation. In the case of the subsidiary finance corporation it is contemplated that the capital stock will be $2,000,000 and additional funds will be advanced to it by the Corporation as and when required, or by banking institutions who subscribe to the notes of the Corporation.

Character of Notes

The notes will be issued under an agreement and will be payable one year from their date, with the right to the Corporation to one or more extensions of the date of maturity, not exceeding in the aggregate two additional years, but are subject to earlier redemption at the option of the Corporation at their face amount plus interest as provided in the agreement. Notes will carry interest, if earned, at a rate up to but not exceeding 6% per annum, payable until maturity, only out of the surplus and net income of the Corporation when and as ascertained and declared by the board of directors.

The agreement under which the notes are to be issued and the notes will provide, in connection with redemption and maturity, for participation in the net earnings of the Corporation by the holders of the notes according to the principal amount thereof held by them, respectively, and the agreement will limit annual dividends upon the shares of stock of the Corporation to 6% upon the par value thereof.

The notes will be issued in registered form only and will be authenticated by a bank or trust company as agent. The notes and the agreement under which they are issued will contain such other terms and provisions as shall be approved by the board of directors of the Corporation.

Office.

It is contemplated that the main office of the Corporation and its principal subsidiaries will be in the City of New York.

The organization of the Commodities Finance Corporation was completed on Aug. 23 at a meeting of the directors representing 20 New York City banks which have agreed to subscribe to the notes of the Corporation and sponsor its activities. Announcement of this was made by Mortimer N. Buckner, Chairman of the Board of the New York Trust Co., who was elected President of the Corporation at the directors' meeting on Aug. 23. The other officers of the Corporation named this week are:

Vice-President.—H. E. Ward, President, Irving Trust Co.
Asst. Secretary.—Russell P. Merrick, Asst. Sec., The New York Trust Co.
Asst. Treasurer.—H. F. Littlejohn, formerly Asst. Cashier, National Bank of Commerce.
Alfred A. Cook was elected Counsel.

The Executive Committee, also elected at the Aug. 23 meeting, includes the following:

Chairman.—C. A. McGain, Chairman of the Board, Chase National Bank.
G. S. Rentschler, President, National City Bank.
W. C. Potter, President, Guaranty Trust Co.
G. W. Davison, President, Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co.
J. E Reynolds, President, First National Bank
H. E. Ward, President, Irving Trust Co.
S. Sloan Colt, President, Bankers Trust Co.
H. P. Howell, President, Commercial National Bank & Trust Co.
M. N. Buckner, Chairman of the Board, The New York Trust Co.

The names of those who are to serve as directors of the newly organized Corporation was made known by Mr. Buckner on Aug. 19; the directors are all officers of institutions which will subscribe to the $50,000,000 note issue of the Corporation. The subscribing banks to the Commodities Finance Corporation and the directors representing these banks on the Board of the Corporation were given as follows:

Bank of New York & Trust Co	J. C. Traphagen, President.
Bank of Manhattan Trust Co	F. A. Goodhue, President.
National City Bank	G. S. Rentschler, President.
Chemical Bank & Trust Co	P. H. Johnston, President.
Guaranty Trust Co	W. C. Potter, President.
Manufacturers Trust Co	H. D. Gibson, President.
Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co	G. W. Davison, President.
Corn Exchange Bank Trust Co	D. B. Sherer, President.
First National Bank	J. E. Reynolds, President.
Irving Trust Co	H. E. Ward, President.
Continental Bank & Trust Co	F. E. Hasler, Chairman of Exec. Com.
Chase National Bank	C. S. McCain, Chairman of the Board.
Fifth Avenue Bank	Theodore Hetzler, President.
Bankers Trust Co	S. Sloan Colt, President.
Marine Midland Trust Co	J. G. Blaine, President.
The New York Trust Co	M. N. Buckner, Chairman of Board.
Commercial National Bk. & Tr. Co	H. P. Howell, President.
Public National Bank & Trust Co	E. C. Gersten, President.
Brooklyn Trust Co	G. V. McLaughlin, President.
Empire Trust Co	L. W. Baldwin, President.

Nineteen directors and subscribing banks were embraced in the list given out by Mr. Buckner on Aug. 19, the addition since made to the list being that of the Empire Trust Co. as a subscribing bank and its President, L. W. Baldwin, as a director of the Corporation. In the New York "Times" of Aug. 20 it was noted:

One Bank Not in Clearing House.

The list, comprising representatives of all the subscribing banks, 19 in number, includes one institution outside the Clearing House, the Brooklyn Trust Co. Three Clearing House members, the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., the Lawyers Trust Co. and Harriman National Bank & Trust Co., are not included among the subscribers.

On Sept. 1 John G. Peterson, Vice-President of the Chase National Bank of New York, was appointed Manager of the Commodities Acceptance Corporation and the Commodities Credit Corporation at meetings of the Executive Committees of the respective corporations. At the same time it was announced that the offices of the Corporation had been opened at 33 Liberty Street, New York City, and a number of applications have already been received for loans on commodities. The two corporations are subsidiaries of the Commodities Finance Corporation.

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF EIGHT REGIONAL AGRICULTURAL CREDIT CORPORATIONS.

Plans for the establishment of eight Regional Agricultural Credit Corporations, under the Emergency Relief and Construction Act, were announced on Aug. 19 by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The Credit Corporations are to be located in Land Bank Districts 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, and later two additional Credit Corporations will be established in Land Bank Districts 3 and 5. The cities in which the new Corporations will be set up are:

Columbus, Ohio, with a branch at Louisville, Ky.
St. Louis, Mo., with branches at Chicago, Ill.; Kansas City, Mo. and Little Rock, Ark.
Minneapolis.
Sioux City, with a branch at Omaha, Neb.
Wichita, Kan., branches at Oklahoma City and Denver.
Fort Worth, branches at Houston and San Angelo.
Salt Lake City, branches at San Francisco, Cal., and Phoenix, Ariz.
Spokane, Wash., branches at Helena, Mont., and Portland, Ore.

The immediate work which calls for the creating of these Corporations at the present time is for the purpose of inaugurating a program of feeder livestock loans.

The Board of Directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will proceed as rapidly as possible toward actual establishment and the beginning of operations of the Agricultural Credit Corporation. It is the hope of the Board of Directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corperation that the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporations will move promptly, energetically and sympathetically for the benefit of agriculture.

The regulations under which the Federal Government plans to lend, under the Emergency Relief and Construction Act, an aggregate of $1,500,000,000 before Jan. 23 1934 to States, municipalities or other public bodies and agencies, regulated housing corporations, publicly owned projects for railroad and highway bridges, private forest development corporations and other self-supporting activities were made public by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Aug. 29. The directions were in the form of a circular of information. namely "Circular No. 3."

South Trimble, Clerk of the House of Representatives, decided on Aug. 18 that the monthly reports of loans made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under the Emergency Relief Act must be open to public inspection.

LIVE STOCK GROWERS IN FOUR WESTERN STATES FORM NINTH LAND BANK DISTRICT LIVE STOCK PRODUCERS AND FEEDERS ASSOCIATION OF DENVER TO CO-OPERATE WITH RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION IN SETTING UP REGIONAL AGRICULTURAL CORPORATION UNDER EMERGENCY RELIEF ACT—LETTER TO PRESIDENT HOOVER.

Under the name of the Ninth Land Bank District Live Stock Producers & Feeders Association of Denver, Colo., an organization comprising eight associations of live stock and wool producers in Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico, and representing owners of 8,000,000 cattle and 7,000,000 sheep was formed to further the establishment, in co-operation with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, of a Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation. The new corporation, said the "United States Daily" of Aug. 5, will be capable of extending $30,000,000 of credit to livestock men in that region, according to a letter from the organization received by Senator Gore (Dem.) of Oklahoma, and made available by him Aug. 4.

NATIONAL CREDIT CORPORATION MAKES SEVENTH PAYMENT TO SUBSCRIBING BANKS.

The National Credit Corporation announced on Aug. 19 that it had called for redemption, and would pay on Aug. 29, 15% of the original principal amount of each of its outstanding gold notes (being a seventh partial redemption), upon presentation at the office of the New York Trust Co. (100 Broadway), agent of the loan. The "Sun" of Aug. 19 said:

The payment is understood to amount to about $19,000,000 and is the first redemption since June 13, when the Corporation redeemed 10% of its gold notes originally outstanding to a total of $135,000,000. The redemption announced to-day will make a repayment to the subscribing banks of an aggregate of 80% of such total amount, or $105,000,000, leaving only $30,000,000 of the notes outstanding. On only one previous occasion, last March, has the Corporation redeemed as much as 15% of its notes at one time.

Now that money used by banks during the crop moving season is being repaid, the Corporation probably will wind up its affairs more rapidly. Banks participating in it expect that all of the capital subscribed will be repaid before the end of the year, permitting National Credit's final liquidation.

WALTER S. GIFFORD RESIGNS AS DIRECTOR OF PRESIDENT HOOVER'S ORGANIZATION ON UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.

The resignation of Walter S. Gifford, of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. of New York, as Director of the President's Organization on Unemployment Relief was announced at the White House on Aug. 12. Mr. Gifford in tendering his resignation indicated to the President that because of his other obligations he felt that he could not undertake the work for another winter.

REVIVAL OF THE TEXTILE TRADES -GREAT ACTIVITY AT RISING PRICES—ALL RAW MATERIALS, COTTON, SILK, WOOL, RUBBER SHOW ADVANCES AND MANY CLASSES OF FINISHED GOODS LIKEWISE ADVANCE—THE JAPANESE SILK EXCHANGES CLOSED IN FEAR OF A CORNER.

The textile trades were the one bright spot in the business world during August. While the so-called heavy industries, and in particular iron and steel, failed to show any signs of trade revival, but rather gave indications of deepening depression, all branches of the textile trades experienced an active demand for goods that was as noteworthy as it was sudden. The sharp rise in the price of cotton and in other raw materials unquestionably proved a strong factor in stimulating the demand. There appeared to be a sudden realization that prices all along the line were ruling extremely low and that with retailers' shelves bare and with production rigidly curtailed there might be difficulty in filling orders and that accordingly further delay in laying in supplies might prove risky. Business sentiment improved, too, and a disposition grew up, largely as the result of the growing activity in the textile trades themselves, to think that we must have reached the end of the long lane of depression and that the country was now on the eve of a great change for the better—a view which the lack of improvement in other directions and in particular in the steel trade, did not sustain, though even in those lines of business a better sentiment if not a larger volume of trade was in evidence. The rise in the price of cotton was of notable proportions, the market price having nearly doubled in the space of a few weeks, and this served as a quickening impulse which it was impossible to ignore. The spot price of cotton on the New York Cotton Exchange on June 9 had got down to only 5c. a lb., the lowest price ever recorded on the New York Cotton Exchange, and had recovered only to 5.80c. on June 30 and did not at any time during July get much above 6c. and on Saturday, July 30, was quoted at 6.05c. The market had entirely ignored the Agricultural Bureau Report from Washington, issued on July 8, which estimated the cotton area in the South for the current year at only 37,290,000 acres, or 9½% less than the area in cotton on July 1 of last year, when 41,491,000 acres were planted to cotton. This followed a reduction, too, in 1931 as compared with 1930, of 10%, though the 1931 cotton production, nevertheless, proved of unusual size owing to extraordinarily favorable growing conditions. As a matter of fact, the 1932 acreage at 37,290,000 acres is lower than the planted acreage of any year since 1922, when 34,016,000 acres were planted. Yet this drastic cut in acreage, at the time of its announcement, was almost without influence on the market price of the staple. An eye-opener, however, came when the Agricultural Department, a month later, on Aug. 8, gave out its estimate of the prospective yield in 1932, based on conditions as of Aug. 1. The Department put the probable yield at only 11,306,000 bales as against an actual crop in 1931 of 17,096,000 bales. This was over a million bales less than private estimates of the probable size of the growing crop; the yield per acre was placed at only 149.6 lbs. as against 201.2 lbs. in 1931. In its comments, explaining the poor prospects, the Agricultural Department mentioned two circumstances as having been especially detrimental, namely the presence of the boll weevil and the small amount of fertilizing materials applied to the crop. The Department said the prospects were more uncertain than usual because boll weevil were present in greater numbers than in any year since 1928, and also that the amount of fertilizers applied to cotton had been much less than for several years past with the result that in many cases the plants were smaller than usual as a consequence. All these elements continued present in August and private reports showed that sales of fertilizers, the current season in the South, had aggregated only 1,883,000 tons, against 3,172,000 tons the previous season, and 4,513,000 tons two seasons ago.

The Bureau report had an electrical effect on the market price of the staple and the spot price at New York, which on Saturday, Aug. 6, had been 6.20c., was marked up on Monday, Aug. 8, to 7.05c. and a rapid advance followed thereafter, with the result that on Monday, Aug. 29, the quotation was up to 9.20c., with the price Aug. 31, at 8.40c. It should also be added that the July 1933 option for cotton on the New York Cotton Exchange, on Monday, Aug. 29, actually sold up to 10c., though some reaction then came with the close, Aug. 31, at 8.93c. This rise in price during August was achieved notwithstanding that the Federal Farm Board, as noted further below, was actively engaged in selling, through the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, some of its accumulations of the staple.

Naturally goods prices also moved upward. Print cloths at Fall River for 28-in. 64 x 60, were advanced Aug. 8 from 2½c. to 2⅝c.; on Aug. 11 to 2¾c.; on Aug. 23 to 2⅞c.; on Aug. 24 to 3c.; on Aug. 26 to 3⅛c. and on Aug. 27 to 3¼c. per yard. The price of 27 in. 64x60 advanced from 2 15-16 to 3⅛, and of 30 in. 40x30 7 oz. Osnaburgs from 4⅜ to 6c.

The New York Cotton Exchange Service in its report, dated Aug. 29, stated that cotton cloth prices in domestic markets had advanced all along the line the preceding week, following sharp advances in previous weeks. On medium weight goods, print cloths and sheetings, it stated, there had been increases of an eighth to a quarter of a cent, and on heavy goods, of half a cent to a cent a yard. Numerous lines of finished goods were lifted 5 to 10%. It was pointed out, that in times of sharp advances in raw material costs, cloths usually lag behind the raw material as manufacturers sell their low cost goods; but in the present instance numerous constructions of standard unfinished goods had risen more than the raw material, resulting in an appreciable widening of mill margins. This greater buoyancy of the manufactured products, it was stated, reflected on the one hand the extremely low level to which mill margins had fallen in the summer, but on the other hand it reflected and resulted from the re-awakened large demand for goods. A comparison of relative prices of cotton and goods made it clear that cloth prices had not simply been forced up by higher raw material costs, but had been lifted by the large demand from distributors and consumers. This phase of the situation, it was asserted, had contributed largely to the revived optimism as to the outlook for the industry for the remainder of the year. The rapid rise in prices was made possible by the rigid curtailment of production which manufacturers had been practicing all through the spring and summer, finally resulting, with the re-awakening of the demand for goods, in consumption overtaking production. The Census Bureau, in its return issued Aug. 16, reported the consumption of cotton in the United States, during July, at only 278,656 bales of lint and 37,210 bales of linters, compared with 450,884 bales of lint and 64,325 bales of linters in July 1931. For the cotton year ending July 31, the consumption of lint cotton was given as 4,869,103 bales as against 5,262,974 bales in the previous year, and the consumption of linters at 637,254 bales as against 714,117 bales. The statistical statement of the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York tells the story of what has been going on in that respect with much emphasis. The Association, in its statement issued Aug. 15, remarked that sales of 222,616,000 yards or 157.1% of production during the month of July represented "a major accomplishment in supply and demand adjustment." Production during July was 141,673,000 yards or at the rate of 35,418,000 yards weekly. This, it is stated, was the lowest rate of production on record. For June and July, together, production had been 110,000,000 yards less than during the same months in 1931. Billings during July were 165,574,000 yards, or 116.9% of production. Reduction of stocks was continued, they decreasing 7.8% during the month to a total of 281,249,000 yards. Unfilled orders increased 33.4% during the month, to 227,952,000 yards on July 31. With the revival in demand preparations were, of course, made for increasing production again and many mills, both in the South and in the North, which had been idle, resumed operations, while others increased their scale of output.

An unfavorable development during the month was that on Aug. 27 200,000 cotton operatives were called out on strike in Lancashire, England, following the failure to settle a wage dispute. This strike had threatened for a long time. On Aug. 29, Associated Press Accounts from Manchester reported that it was estimated by Andrew Naesmith, leader of the Weavers' Union, that 140,000 men had walked out and that by Aug. 31, 170,000 would be on strike. The strike was called by the weavers in protest against a 10% cut in wages. The Union demanded that the wage cut be limited to 6½%.

In wool and woolen goods the experience is much the same. The First National Bank of Boston, in its New England letter under date of Aug. 29, notes that after having declined in July to the lowest levels in 36 years, the average of representative grades of raw wool prices have since that time advanced from 5% to 10%. The strength of the raw material is attributed to the small amount of wool imported, low stocks in the hands of manufacturers, a marked increase in demand from mills, estimates of a substantial reduction in the domestic clip, and a feeling that raw wool prices are on an investment basis. The manufacturers, it is stated, have shown increasing confidence in the present level of wool values, having in many cases purchased not only for immediate needs, but also for future requirements. The preliminary estimate of domestic shorn wool production places the clip at 342,000,000 lbs., a decline of 7.3% from the previous year and represents the first decrease, it is stated, in the size of the domestic clip since 1922, when it was about 228,000,000 lbs. It is also remarked that a considerable increase in manufacturing activity has taken place in the woolen goods industry. Many mills are working day and night and have sufficient orders on hand to maintain full operations for the two ensuing months. Worsted manufacturers are being rushed to fill orders for both men's and women's wear fabrics. During the last two months wool consumption has shown a sharp turn, it is remarked. From the record low of only 16,500,000 lbs. in May, consumption of raw wool advanced to nearly 19,000,000 lbs. in June, and, according to preliminary estimates, to 26,600,000 lbs. in July. The latter figure possesses significance for the increase over previous months rather than for its absolute amount, which is still far below the July average for the past five years of 42,670,000 lbs.

The American Woolen Co., on Aug. 30, put into effect advances of 5 to 10c. a yard on its entire line of worsteds in Departments 1 and 2, according to an official announcement. In addition, several of the fabrics in the women's wear division were also marked up 5 to 12½c. a yard. Other companies made advances ranging as high as 15c. a yard. Earlier in the month (Aug. 15), major price reductions by two manufacturers of higher priced domestic rugs and downward adjustments on carpets were features of the opening of fall rug and carpet lines.

Sensational advances in raw silk were another feature of the month. Indeed, Tokio advices to the New York "Evening Post," stated that fear of a technical corner in silk had prompted governors of the Yokohama and Kobe Silk Exchanges to suspend trading on Aug. 29 when a rush of buyers appeared with no sellers in sight. Prices rose violently by 100 yen a bale. Authorities ordered brokers to increase margins to 200 yen from 100 yen per bale before 10 a. m. the next day. It was stated that the price had been forced up to 1,100 yen a bale ($255.75 at the then current rate of exchange). Only a month before, it was stated, the price was around 525 yen a bale, and comment was made to the effect that the rising demand for silk in the United States was doing more for the Japanese farmers than all the government's relief bills. Here in New York Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted, Aug. 31, at $2@$2.05 against $1.40@$1.45 July 30; $1.12½@$1.17½ June 30; $1.10@$1.15 May 31; $1.35@$1.40 April 30; $1.50@$1.55, Mar. 31; $1.67½@$1.70 Feb. 29; $1.87½@$1.90 Jan. 30; $1.85@$1.90 Dec. 31 1931; $2.20@$2.25 on Nov. 30 and also on Oct. 31 1931, and comparing with $4.70@$4.75 on Jan. 31 1930. In the 20-22 deniers, Japanese crack double extra were quoted at $2.00@$2.05 Aug. 31 against $1.45@$1.50 July 30; $1.17½@$1.22½ June 30; $1.10@$1.15 May 31; $1.32½@$1.37½ April 30; $1.42½@$1.47½ March 31; $1.70@$1.80 Feb. 29; $1.95@$2.00 Jan. 30; $1.85@$1.90 Dec. 31 1931; $2.30@$2.32½ Nov. 30; $2.10@$2.15 Oct. 31 1931, and comparing with $4.60@$4.65 on Jan. 31 1930. Rayon prices were likewise advanced all around.

Crude rubber also developed further strength, and ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery in New York were quoted, Aug. 31, at 3 3-16c. against 4⅜c. asked July 30; 2 9-16c. bid and 2 11-16c. asked June 30; 2 11-16c. bid and 2¾c. asked May 31; 3 1-16c. asked April 30; 3 1-16c. bid and 3 3-16c. asked Mar. 31; 3⅝@3 11-16c. ACTIVITIES OF THE COTTON STABILIZATION CORPORATION AND THE RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION ON BEHALF OF COTTON PRICES—SOME CONFLICT BETWEEN THE TWO AGENCIES—THE RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION VOTES TO PLACE $50,000,000 AT THE DISPOSAL OF THE COTTON STABILIZATION CORPORATION AND THE COTTON CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION.

The action of the Federal Farm Board and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with reference to the Government holdings of cotton attracted a good deal of attention and apparently there was some conflict in the respective policies of these two Government agencies. All through the month of August the Farm Board through its subsidiary, the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, appeared to be engaged in disposing of some of its holdings of the staple. The price kept steadily rising in face of these sales. This action of the Farm Board was in accordance with a statement given out by the Farm Board on May 2 last saying that it would authorize sale of Government owned stabilization cotton not to exceed 650,000 bales during the cotton year beginning Aug. 1 1932. This attitude was confirmed in a statement made by Carl Williams of the Federal Farm Board on Aug. 4 saying that the Board engaged in the stabilization of the cotton market, expected to dispose of 1,150,000 bales of cotton in the new cotton year without any disturbance to prices, 500,000 bales of this respresenting cotton which the American National Red Cross was to receive under a resolution of Congress approved by the President on July 5 along with 45,000,000 bushels of wheat to be used by the Red Cross for relief purposes. James C. Stone, Chairman of the Farm Board made the same statement in a letter also dated Aug. 4 and written in reply to a proposal from Senator Gore suggesting the advisability of impounding until Aug. 31 1933 the cotton belonging to the Cotton Stabilization Corporation and the cotton owned by the cotton co-operative associations which are members of the American Cotton Co-operative Association. In reply Mr. Stone said that the Cotton Stabilization Corporation owned approximately 1,300,000 bales of cotton. Prior to Aug. 1 1932 it had not bought or sold any cotton since July 1930. This policy was adopted so that the cotton farmers could receive the full benefit of the market during the past two years. "However," he said, "the stabilization cotton cannot be held indefinitely," and also that the previous April "the Cotton Advisory Committee, which is composed of spinners and cotton growers, recommended to the Board and the Cotton Stabilization Corporation that an amount of cotton be sold during the present cotton year of not in excess of 650,000 bales." With this recommendation the Board agreed and issued its statement of May 2 1932 already referred to. In newspaper accounts from Washington it was furthermore noted that even on Saturday, Aug. 27, the Farm Board in a letter to Governor Murray of Oklahoma stated that there had been no change in its policy of disposing of 650,000 bales during the new crop year. Governor Murray had contended that by withholding the stabilization supplies of the staple, a further advance in market prices would be stimulated. Nevertheless, on Monday night Aug. 29 Jesse H. Jones, a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, announced that $50,000,000 had been made available to keep Government controlled cotton off the market until next year. The statement was made in a radio address in which Mr. Jones pointed out that the facilities of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation were often not availed of as freely as they might be, though the statement did not form part of his prepared address, but was supplementary to it, Mr. Jones simply saying: "We have authorized $50,000,000 for cotton co-operative and cotton stabilization corporations to enable them to hold their cotton until 1933." More definite news was forthcoming on Tuesday (Aug. 30), and it then appeared that of the loan of $50,000,000, $15,000,000 was to be advanced to the Cotton Stabilization Corporation and $35,000,000 to the American Cotton Co-operative Association. The Federal Farm Board made no announcement whatever regarding the matter, but the Reconstruction Finance Corporation gave out the following statement:

"The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has authorized an advance of $35,000,000 to the American Cotton Co-operative Association and $15,000,000 to the Cotton Stabilization Corporation. Security for the advance is to be cotton now held by these corporations at the rate of $25 a bale.

"Announcement of the authorization of such advances, made Monday night by Jesse H. Jones, of Texas, a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was amplified to-day by Mr. Jones, who said that any announcement as to policies of the cotton corporations as to the disposition of cotton now held by them and the purpose of the loan should be made public by the cotton corporations."

Washington dispatches, Aug. 30, stated that no part of the money advanced was to be used for further purchases of cotton. It will be noticed that $25 per bale is the basis of the loans. Washington dispatches said that it was understood that $17.50 of this amount is designed to take care of loans from banks and other charges, while the remaining $7.50 per bale is intended to give co-operative agencies more working capital, none of the money to be used for dealing in cotton futures. As noted above the Farm Board originally held approximately 1,300,000 bales through the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, but 500,000 bales of this has been assigned to the Red Cross. Furthermore in an announcement issued by the Farm Board after the close of the month (on Sept. 5) it was stated that of the 650,000 bales proposed to be marketed by the Cotton Stabilization Corporation prior to July 31 1933 more than 300,000 bales had already been sold in addition, about 1,400,000 bales, it is estimated, are in the hands of cotton co-operatives affiliated with the Farm Board. A loan of $25 a bale works out about 5c. a pound, and the officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation consider this a good risk in view of the advance in the price of the staple.

The Cotton Stabilization Corporation is believed to have acquired most of its cotton at slightly in excess of 16c. a pound. The Washington correspondent of the New York "Journal of Commerce," in a dispatch dated Aug. 30, stated that the conditions exacted by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in making the advances was that none of the 2,000,000 bales which the loans will cover shall be sold prior to March of next year, and between that and the beginning of the new crop year, on Aug. 1, unless cotton should go to 12c., besides which a direct ban is placed upon dealings in the futures markets with Government money. The cotton co-operatives were facing carrying charges which would have forced the dumping of their holdings upon the market unless they received financial assistance of some kind. Another point worth noting is that by the action of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in taking over all this cotton all other loans, either from public or from private sources, and especially bank loans, are taken up, all of the old debts thus being cleared away and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation constituting the sole creditor.

That Government agencies were solicitious on behalf of the Southern cotton grower also appeared when H. S. Clarke, National Director of the 1932 Crop Production Loan Office, announced on Aug. 17 that use of the cotton seed and advances wherever necessary of four-fifths of a cent a pound on lint cotton to cover such costs as picking, ginning, and bagging had been authorized for farmers who borrowed money from the Government last spring. At the same time Mr. Clarke announced a policy aimed at promoting orderly marketing of the cotton upon which Federal funds have been loaned. Although crop production loans fall due Nov. 30 1932, farmers may store cotton in licensed warehouses to be sold at any time between storing and March 1 1933, or they may store it with cotton co-operatives for sale by March 1 or May 1 1933. The announcement also said:

The new policy gives the farmer three choices in his marketing:

First, he may contract to sell his cotton to a dealer for cash. Under this plan, to finance picking and other harvesting costs, the grower may retain the seed and the dealer may advance when necessary to him four-fifths of a cent a pound and for this amount the Crop Production Loan Office waives its prior lien against the cotton in favor of the dealer making the advance. The amount of the crop loan is then deducted from the remainder.

Second, the grower may store his cotton for later sale in any Federal licensed warehouse, and retain the seed to pay harvesting costs.

Finally, he may store his cotton with the Cotton Growers Co-operative Association, keep the seed to pay costs and in addition, obtain from the co-operative an advance, when necessary, of four-fifths of a cent a pound to meet the costs of picking and marketing.

The plan contemplates disposal of all cotton stored as collateral against 1932 crop loans by May 1 1933. The regulations provide that such cotton stored in Federal licensed warehouses must be sold by March 1 1933. Cotton stored as collateral for such loans in co-operatives in an optional pool must be sold by March 1 1933 and cotton so stored with co-operatives in a seasonal pool must be sold by May 1 1933.

All cotton stored must be insured and warehouse receipts endorsed by the borrower to the Secretary of Agriculture. The policy gives the option of sale to the farmer, except that if at any time 80% of the market price of the cotton stored as collateral is less than the amount of the full indebtedness of the borrower, then, automatically the cotton is to be sold.

COURSE OF THE GRAIN MARKETS AND SUGAR AND COFFEE—WHEAT PRICES SHOW AN UPWARD SPURT BUT WHICH WAS ONLY INDIFFERENTLY MAINTAINED—COFFEE PRICES SHOW SHARP ADVANCE ON ACCOUNT OF THE CLOSING OF BRAZILIAN PORTS BECAUSE OF THE REVOLUTIONARY UPRISING—FEDERAL FARM BOARD SELLS COFFEE ACQUIRED THE PREVIOUS YEAR IN EXCHANGE FOR WHEAT.

There were one or two sharp upward spurts in wheat, but they were followed by downward plunges leaving the price at the end of the month only slightly higher than at the beginning. September wheat at Chicago after opening at 51¼c. Aug. 1 declined to 28⅜c. Aug. 3, and then moved up to 56c. Aug. 8 only to be followed by a renewed drop to 49⅛c. Aug. 20; then the price moved upward again, touching 54⅞c. Aug. 29, when there came another downward reaction, which carried the price to 51¾c. on Aug. 31 with the close on the latter day at 52c. against the opening price of 51¼c. on Aug. 1. At Winnipeg, after an advance the early part of the month, there was a renewed decline which left the closing price, Aug. 31, actually lower by 3c. then the opening price on Aug. 2. This opening price, Aug. 2, was 58⅞c. while the closing price, Aug. 31, was 55⅞c. Corn prices and oats prices also show net declines for the month. September corn, at Chicago, closed Aug. 31 at 30¼c. in comparison with the opening price of 32c. on Aug. 1, while September oats closed Aug. 31 at 17⅛c. in comparison with 17⅞c. the opening price on Aug. 1; in the meantime, however, the price had been up to 18⅝c. Aug. 8, and down to 15½c. Aug. 20. The U. S. Department of Agriculture in its report issued Aug. 10 made the indicated production of winter wheat 442,000,000 bushels, against its estimate of 432,000,000 bushels on July 1. In 1931 the actual harvest of winter wheat was 789,000,000 bushels. The spring wheat yield was put at 281,000,000 bushels instead of 305,000,000 bushels July 1 and comparing with an actual production of spring wheat in 1931 when the spring wheat crop was almost a complete failure of 104,000,000 bushels. For winter and spring wheat combined the estimated production was put at 723,000,000 bushels, as against the estimate of 737,000,000 bushels made in July and comparing with an actual harvest in 1931 of 894,000,000 bushels. The corn crop was estimated at 2,820,000,000 bushels, as against the estimate of 2,996,000,000 bushels in July, and comparing with an actual production in 1931 of 2,563,000,000 bushels. The oats crop was put at 1,215,000,000 bushels Aug. 1, as against 1,217,000,000 bushels the estimate in July and comparing with an actual crop of 1,112,000,000 bushels in 1931.

If there was no improvement in grain prices, at least the price of hogs and steers continued to move upward. Chicago dispatches, Aug. 26, stated that a top price of $10 a hundred pounds had been paid on Aug. 25 on the Chicago live stock market for heavy fed steers, or the highest on the current crop and the best price since January 1932.

Sugar prices continued their upward course, and Cuban raw sugar, Aug. 25, was quoted at 1.19c. and on Aug. 26 at 1.18c., against 1.07c. on July 27. The wholesale price of refined sugar by the leading refineries in this City, after being marked down from 4.15 to 4.10c. Aug. 10, was moved up again to 4.15c. Aug. 11 and to 4.25c. on Aug. 16. Coffee prices enjoyed a further rise on the continued closing of the leading coffee export ports from Brazil because of the revolutionary uprisings in Brazil. No. 7 Rio for spot delivery in the New York market was quoted at 8¾c. bid Aug. 31 against 8¼c. July 30; 7⅞c. on June 30; 8½c. May 31; 7¾@7⅞c. April 30; 7¼c. March 31; 7¼c. Feb. 29; 7½c. Jan. 30; 7@7¼c. Dec. 31; 6½@6⅝c. Nov. 30; 5¾@6c. Oct. 31; 5½c. Sept. 30; 5½@5¾c. Aug. 31; 5⅞@6c. July 31; 6⅞@7c. June 30; 6⅝c. May 29; 6½@6¾c. April 30; 5½c. March 31; 5½@5⅝c. Feb. 28; 6¾c. Jan. 31, and 7¼@7½c. Dec. 31 1930. No. 7 Santos was 12⅝c. Aug. 31 against 10¼c. July 30; 9⅛@9⅝c. June 30; 9¾@10c. May 31; 9c. bid April 30; 8½c. bid March 31; 8½c. Feb. 29; 8⅝c. Jan. 30; 8@8¼c. Dec. 31; 7¼@7½c. Nov. 30; 7¼c. bid Oct. 31; 6⅞@7c. Sept. 30; 6⅝@6⅞c. Aug. 31; 7½@7⅝c. July 31; 8½@9c. June 30; 8½@8¾c. May 29, and the same figures for April 30; 7¾@8c. March 31; 7¾@8c. Feb. 28; 8¾@9c. Jan. 31; 8¾@9¼c. Dec. 31 1930, and 11¼c. Oct. 31 1930.

That the release of a part of the 132,000,000 lbs. of Government owned coffee on Sept. 1 would delay at least until the middle of October the threatened coffee famine was the view expressed by George S. Milnor, President of the Grain Stabilization Corporation, at Chicago on Aug. 13. Incidentally, he observed that the Federal Government would make "a very satisfactory profit" on this coffee which was received from Brazil in exchange for 25,000,000 bushels of the Farm Board surplus wheat last year, and is now stored in a Brooklyn (N. Y.) warehouse. The usual flow of 100,000,000 lbs. of coffee a month from Brazil to this country ceased July 11 when revolutionary activities closed the ports of Sao Paulo. Mr. Milnor observed that the Grain Stabilization Corporation could not release this coffee for sale until Sept. 1, because of the agreement with the Brazilian Government concerning its marketing, but at that time it would be put up for disposal to the highest bidder from time to time. It appeared that the coffee could be sold at the rate of only 62,500 sacks a month and that the United States Wheat Stabilization Corporation was seeking to get the consent of the Brazilian Government to a modification of the agreement so as to permit the sale of 200,000 bags a month.

FARMERS' IN THE WEST ENGAGE IN VARIOUS MOVEMENTS IN THE ENDEAVOR TO SECURE HIGHER PRICES FOR WHEAT AND OTHER AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS.

One of the developments of the month was an uprising of farmers in different parts of the West in protest against the low prices prevailing for farm products and with the design of bringing about an advance to higher levels though none of these plans appeared so framed as to achieve the object sought.

At a meeting in Des Moines, Iowa, of farm delegates from six States, resolutions were adopted in which it is declared that having "met with repeated reversals in the endeavor to obtain relief by legislation . . . the farmer must refuse to produce the nation's food and be pauperized for the purpose." The resolutions "reiterate the fixed policy of the National Farmers' Holiday Association to hold all products on the farms until paid cost of production prices." "We demand," the resolutions stated "an embargo on each of the agricultural products produced in the United States until the domestic price of the respective product equals the domestic cost of production." The Association commends "the Iowa farmers for their courage in inaugurating and leading in the movement to withhold farm products so as to secure cost of production and we urge that farmers of other States join with the Iowa farmers." The States represented at the Des Moines meeting were North Dakota, South Dakota, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Under date of Aug. 15 Associated Press advices from Bismarck, N. Dak., stated that the North Dakota wheat "strike" had gone into effect on that day with supporters claiming thousands of farmers will hold wheat until the price is $1 a bushel, adding:

Dell N. Willis, author of the plan, said the movement had gained in the two Dakotas, Montana, Minnesota, Washington, Oregon, Kansas, Idaho, Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Farmers have been asked to sign resolutions setting the minimum price of wheat from the 1932 crop, having as its basis the Winnipeg price plus the 42-cent tariff with the usual discount for lower grades.

Governor George F. Shafer of North Dakota and Governor J. E. Erickson of Montana, Mr. Willis said, have endorsed the plan, as have a number of Chambers of Commerce and commercial clubs.

On Aug. 12 it was stated in an Associated Press account from Tolna that the Willis Movement proposed that farmers hold their wheat until prices reach $1 a bushel and after that not to sell more than 10% of their crop a month to insure "orderly marketing." Mr. Willis was reported as stating on Aug. 15 that he is willing to work with the Farmers' National Holiday Association and has invited that organization to co-operate with the sponsors of dollar wheat. He is also said to have stated that a plan of financing the threshing bills of farmers who hold their wheat is being worked out by officials in Northwestern States.

The farmers' "strike" movement in Iowa subsequently found new adherents this week. It was indicated in Associated Press accounts from Des Moines on Aug. 23 that Wisconsin, previously aloof to the drive to achieve higher prices for farm produce which was blockading the Sioux City and Omaha markets, as well as many lesser trading centres, took steps on that day toward organizing a State unit of the Farmers' Holiday Association. The Des Moines dispatch also said:

Dairymen, meeting at Madison with the State Council of Agriculture, voted appointment of a committee of three to call a State-wide organization mass meeting.

A movement aimed at the important South St. Paul (Minn.) livestock market, the largest of that State, was also under way with the forming of a Dakota County unit of the Association.

Other major developments in the farmers' strike on its expanding battle-fronts included:

Negotiations at Omaha looking to the free passage of milk shipments through farmers' picket lines in southwestern Iowa.

A letter from Milo Reno, President of the Association, who called the strike in Iowa two weeks ago, to Governor Turner, urging a conference between the Iowa Executive and Governor Olson of Minnesota. The Minnesota Executive yesterday proposed martial law as an aid to the farmers' movement.

A marked decline of rail shipments of produce into Sioux City, point of origin of the strike, and no shipments by truck.

Refusal of Sheriff H. T. Wagner of Black Hawk County in northeastern Iowa to permit any picketing of roads in that vicinity.

Farmers participating in the blockade of Sioux City again interfered, authorities said, with transportation of livestock by train to-night. About 50 men unloaded a carload of hogs in the yards at Danbury, about 40 miles from there.

Referring to the stopping of a railroad train at Emerson and Nacora, Neb., last night, leaders of the strike instructed that the farmers do no more than picket the highways peaceably. A statement from the Association relative to the train incident said:

"We deplore and regret the situation and feel sure that none of our active membership participated. The Farmers' Holiday Association has continually advised against such procedure, and will continue to do so."

On Aug. 20 advices (Associated Press) from Sioux City said:

The holiday movement leaders stated that it was spreading rapidly in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota, with nearly all counties in northwestern Iowa, northeastern Nebraska and southeastern South Dakota organized for participation.

In Chariton, Boone, Blencoe and other Iowa towns, the picketing movement gained material headway and confidence was expressed by farmers that the increase in milk prices at Sioux City would be followed by higher quotations for other farm products.

In a St. Paul dispatch Aug. 22 to the New York "Times" it was reported that Governor Olson of Minnesota, the only Farmer-Labor Governor, on that day expressed himself as in favor of the movement of the Iowa farmers and as willing to join with other Governors in an "arbitrary plan" of declaring martial law to aid the cause.

The "farmers' strike" in Iowa was temporarily halted on Aug. 31 when Milo Reno, National Chairman of the Farmers' Holiday Association, and John Chalmers, Iowa Chairman of the Holiday Association, sent telegrams to the county officers of the organization directing the discontinuance of the movement pending the conference of Governors of the farm belt States to be held at Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 9. According to advices from that city Aug. 30 from Pierre, S. Dak., to the "United States Daily," the conference is to be held to consider concerted action in connection with the "farmers' strike." The halting of the strike on Aug. 31 came after the shooting of 14 pickets earlier in the day in Cherokee County, Iowa.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN THE CONDITION OF THE IRON AND STEEL TRADE—SOME OF THE NON-FERROUS METALS REGISTER ADVANCES.

The iron and steel trade stood out as a conspicuous instance of an industry which failed to show the slightest indication of any revival in activity, but instead suffered further depression, notwithstanding that business sentiment everywhere had undergone great change for the better, this more hopeful sentiment extending even to the steel trade. The "Iron Age" in its issue of Sept. 1 summed up the situation by saying that rising commodity prices, including advances in the major non-ferrous metals and in iron and steel scrap, a continuance of the mild expansion in pig iron sales and inquiries, and the nation-wide movement under Government auspices for stimulating purchases might be laying the groundwork for some measure of business recovery, but meanwhile the steel trade continued to languish, and, apart from a few minor gains, exhibited little or no indication that the expected September upturn would attain more than small proportions. Shipments of some important steel producers had reached the lowest point in the depression during the week. Ingot output had declined rather sharply in the Pittsburgh and Wheeling districts and was not above 10% in the Valleys. For the entire country, steel production was estimated at only 13% of capacity, against 14% in the preceding three weeks. The Age made the composite price of finished steel, Aug. 30, 1.964c. a lb., against 1.976c. a month earlier and 2.014c. at the corresponding date the previous year. The composite price of pig iron, Aug. 30, was put at $13.64 a gross ton, against $13.76 a month earlier and $15.50 12 months before. The composite price of steel scrap, Aug. 30, was figured at $7.42 a gross ton, as compared with $6.58 the previous month and $9.08 the previous year.

All the non-ferrous metals developed a rising tendency, and in the case of some of these metals the advances were numerous and sharp. The price of lead at New York was advanced several times during the month and Aug. 31 was quoted at 3.60c., against 2.95c. Aug. 1. Electrolytic copper also was advanced by small fractions several times with the quotation, Aug. 31, at 5½c., against 5.00c. Aug. 1, while Lake copper advanced from 5⅜ to 5¾c.

PETROLEUM AND ITS PRODUCTS—REDUCTION IN GASOLINE PRICES—ALSO SOME ADVANCES.

The developments in the oil industry during August were less noteworthy than those of most previous months, and included an increase in the East Texas allowable, further curtailment in the Pennsylvania fields, the inauguration of a new campaign against violators of the pro ration rules in Oklahoma, and the warning of California oil men against high production. As for the changes in prices, there were few of these in the case of crude oil but some important changes in gasoline prices. In the following we show the important changes during August in the prices of both crude oil and the refined products.

Crude Oil.

August 11.—South Penn Oil Co. reduces Pennsylvania crude 3c. a barrel. with new prices as follows: South West Penn Pipe Lines, $1.72; Eureka Pipe Lines, $1.67; Buckeye Pipe Lines, $1.52.

Gasoline and Kerosene.

Aug. 11.—Standard Oil Co. of Ohio posts reduction of 2½c. per gallon in gasoline prices, all grades, in Miami County. Also announces that similar reduction made in following points will be rescinded to-day, Aug. 13, and prices returned to State-wide structure: Austintown, Youngstown, Coitsville, Poland townships, in Mahoning County; Bazetta, Warren, Howland, Weathersfield, Liberty, Hubbard townships, in Trumbull County.

Aug. 17.—Standard Oil Co. of New York advances retail gasoline prices 1c. a gallon in Boston and Providence; reduces tank wagon prices 1c. to 12½c. a gallon in Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo and Binghamton.

Aug. 18.—Atlantic Refining Co. reduces tank wagon and service station gasoline prices ½c. in western Pennsylvania; 1c. in eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware, and ½c. in metropolitan Philadelphia. New service station prices excluding tax are: 14c. in western Pennsylvania, 13½c. in eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware, and 13c. in Philadelphia. Tank wagon kerosene prices reduced 1c. a gallon to 10c. throughout Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Aug. 22.—Standard Oil Co. of Indiana advances kerosene and naphtha prices 4c. a gallon in Indiana to cover new State tax of this amount.

Aug. 23.—Standard Oil Co. of California initiates move toward lower prices on third grades by posting reduction of 1.6c. in company's "flight" grade, making new price 11.9c. Union Oil, Richfield, and other major companies met cut.

Aug. 24.—Standard Oil Co. of New York advances tank wagon and service station gasoline prices 1½c. a gallon throughout Greater New York; posts 1c. advance in Boston and Providence; Albany prices cut 1½c. a gallon; Maine structure reduced from a fraction to one cent per gallon. Greater New York advance met by Consolidated, Warner-Quinlan, and other operators.

Aug. 29.—Standard of California extends 1c. reduction in third grade gasoline throughout Pacific Coast territory. Major companies meet move.

Aug. 29.—Standard of Indiana cuts tank wagon and service station prices on first and second grade gasoline 1c. and on third grade ½c. throughout Michigan. Major companies meet move.

Aug. 30.—Standard of Ohio reduces gasoline all grades 1c. a gallon throughout its territory. New prices are 20½c. for Sohio, 17½c. for Ethyl x70, and 16½c. for Renown Green.

Aug. 31.—Texas Company posts advance of ½c. a gallon in tank car gasoline prices at Charleston, S. C. New prices now 8¼c. for unbranded and 8¾c. for Fire Chief.

FOREIGN DEVELOPMENTS—RESULTS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE IMPERIAL ECONOMIC CONFERENCE AT OTTAWA.

The Imperial Economic Conference was concluded, after a month of difficult negotiations, by the signature of a series of 12 bilateral trade agreements which will doubtless prove of historic importance. These agreements, which were signed in a brief ceremony at the Ottawa House of Commons on Aug. 20, constitute an effort to mold the British Empire by means of treaties into a more definite and distinct economic unit. It was generally agreed that great strides were taken toward this goal. The single thread that runs through the agreements and makes them one coherent whole is the policy that the lands of the British Commonwealth are to strive not only to make each other more prosperous, but more self-sufficient as against dependence on other countries. Of the 12 documents signed at Ottawa, 7 are treaties negotiated by the United Kingdom, with Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Newfoundland, Southern Rhodesia and India. Canada signed three separate agreements with the Irish Free State, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia. Two agreements, which were not covered by official interpretations, were signed by South Africa with New Zealand and the Irish Free State. These documents are in every case subject to ratification by the Parliaments of the United Kingdom and the Dominions, but no difficulties are looked for on this score and it is believed that the agreements will become operative before next winter. The 12 parts may operate separately and independently of each other, the correspondent of the New York "Times" reports. The series of agreements is said to be tentative in large measure, and subject to change if the actual working of the system proves to be too much in conflict with popular political opinion and traditions, or with the respective industrial interests of the participants. The whole thing, or any of its parts, may be scrapped in 1937, it is said, if it does not prove to be the blessing that was expected before the conference began, or if it sets up barriers to foreign trade that involve greater losses than can be offset by the advantages of closer Imperial relations.

"Great Britain has surrendered the chief economic weapon against the Dominions which she brought to Ottawa," a dispatch of Aug. 21 to the New York "Times" remarked. "That was the right to impose upon imports from the Dominions after next November the duties against foreign goods provided for in the new British tariff law. That is the main contribution of the United Kingdom to the conference results which applies alike to all the Dominions. Also for the benefit of Dominion agriculture she has abandoned the tradition, dating back to the days of Cobden and the corn law repeal, against tariffs on food products. But in agreeing to put tariffs on foreign foods or restrict its importation by quota the United Kingdom provides safeguards to protect itself in two directions against both the popular cry about the increased cost of living and the protests of the British agriculturalists themselves against too much competition from the Dominions. In the matter of eggs, poultry and dairy products, Britain has imposed a tentative limit of three years on free entry from the Dominions, retaining the right to readjust the arrangement after that period if it is considered necessary to do so in the interests of United Kingdom producers. As a precaution against retail food prices going too high in the British Isles, all preferences to the Dominions are contingent upon their being able to give the consumers of the United Kingdom an adequate supply at world price levels. Failure on the part of the Dominions to do that would release Great Britain from her Ottawa obligation to impose tariffs on food materials from foreign countries."

A brief analysis of the series of agreements indicates that the United Kingdom surrenders to all the Empire units with which agreements were signed its right to impose duties on the imports from British countries now placed on foreign goods. The Irish Free State is the conspicuous exception, as no agreement was made with the Dublin representatives. Britain will continue to be a free market for the natural products of the Dominions, while the London delegation agrees to place tariffs or establish quotas on corresponding commodities from foreign countries. "The effect will be, for example," a dispatch to the New York "Times" stated, "to give to wheat from Canada and Australia an advantage of 6c. a bushel over foreign wheat in the United Kingdom market. Native wines and some fruits from Australia and South Africa will gain a similar assistance. Dairy products, pork, poultry and eggs from Canada, Australia and New Zealand are to have new advantages under duties to be imposed hereafter on such foodstuffs, now largely supplied by Denmark and other European countries. The chief benefit to New Zealand and Australia is the British agreement to restrict or tax the imports from foreign countries of mutton, lamb and beef. India is to receive greater preferences than she now has on such products as carpets, rugs, tanned hides, jute manufactures and sandalwood oil. In return, the Dominions undertake to give new preferences to the manufactured exports of Great Britain and in many cases to put them on the free list while continuing to impose a tariff on similar goods from foreign countries. This part of the new arrangement applies particularly to Canada because it is the most industrially developed of all the Dominions. Canada now agrees to let in 220 different British commodities either duty free or with added preferences to enable them to compete not only with foreign goods but with some of the steel and other factory products which Canada is making."

Some vital facts were withheld in the summaries of the agreements made public at Ottawa, notably the list of the 220 commodities which will be admitted into Canada from the United Kingdom on more favorable bases. The regulations which are to govern United Kingdom importations of foreign meats, according to an "agreed-upon program," also were not specified. It was indicated unofficially that there will be very little, if any, restriction of Argentine meat exports to the United Kingdom. There are said, moreover, to be some important omissions in the treaties themselves regarding certain products and industries. Thus, Great Britain is said to have refused to increase her 10% tariff on lumber from foreign countries at the behest of the Canadians. The British formula to prevent dumping is reported to have caused grumbling among the Canadian representatives, owing to the omission of any specification of Russian products. The text of the British formula follows:

"This agreement is made on the express condition if either government is satisfied that any preferences hereby granted in respect of any particular class of commodities are likely to be frustrated in whole or in part by reason of the creation or maintenance directly or indirectly of prices for such class of commodities through State action on the part of any foreign country, that government hereby declares that it will exercise the powers which it now has or will hereafter take to prohibit the entry from such foreign country directly or indirectly of such commodities into its country for such time as may be necessary to make effective and to maintain the preferences hereby granted by it."

Agreements made between the Dominions, as apart from those made between the United Kingdom and the Dominions, were given only briefest consideration in the Ottawa summaries, but it appears that they will affect the trade of the United States with some of the Dominions materially. The trade pact between Canada and South Africa, which is the first ever made between those countries, is expected, according to some estimates, to divert $20,000,000 in trade from the United States. Details were not revealed at Ottawa, where it was announced that the treaty "is especially designed to facilitate trade in those commodities in which each Dominion is especially fitted by its natural resources and its industrial development to supply the needs of the other." Of a similar nature is the trade agreement between Canada and Southern Rhodesia. The Irish Free State and the Dominion of Canada concluded an agreement to "facilitate and extend still further their mutual relations of trade and commerce."

GERMANY EMBARKS ON NEW POLICIES.

Parliamentary elections in Germany, on July 31, were followed throughout August by attempts to reconcile party differences and to bring order out of the political chaos in the Reich. That these endeavors were not unsuccessful was indicated by an extremely quiet and orderly initial session of the Reichstag on Aug. 30, and by vigorous steps on the part of the "Presidential" Cabinet of Chancellor Franz von Papen to inaugurate measures for economic recovery in Germany. There is still no definite indication of a coalition of parties which might be expected to obtain a majority vote in the newly elected Parliament. This question will apparently be faced early in September, when the Reichstag reassembles to conduct its routine business. The first session resulted only in the usual formalities of organization. The measures taken by Chancellor von Papen and his associates indicate, meanwhile, an evident intention to remain in power for some time to come.

The elections were inconclusive, in the sense that no one party gained sufficient votes to control the new Parliament. The National-Socialists, or "Nazis," under the leadership of the Fascist, Adolph Hitler, were severely disappointed in their desire to achieve a Parliamentary majority and thus arrive at their "Constitutional Dictatorship." They made sweeping gains in the voting, however, as they secured the election of 230 Deputies, as against 107 in the old Reichstag. Together with the Nationalist followers of Dr. Alfred Hugenberg and their other allies, the Fascists will have an aggregate representation of 283 votes. The Communists also made great gains, and the parties of the Left, including the Communists, will have a representation of 324. The Communists, however, never join forces with other parties, and the 89 Deputies of Soviet persuasion will thus leave the ordinary Left parties with a functional group of 235 Deputies, with the Center parties included. The new Reichstag is the largest on record, with an aggregate of 607 Deputies, against 597 in the old Chamber, the increase being due to the German electoral system which requires the seating of one Deputy for every 60,000 votes cast for any party.

In order to overcome the Parliamentary impasse extensive conferences were held early in August between President von Hindenberg and Chancellor von Papen, on the one hand, and Adolph Hitler and his lieutenants on the other. It was indicated for a time that President von Hindenburg might offer an important Cabinet post to Herr Hitler on the understanding that the latter would adhere rigidly to the requirements of the Weimar Constitution. The post of Chancellor was talked about, but it was disclosed on Aug. 10 that President von Hindenburg had decided definitely against the appointment. This indicated a definite breach between the Presidential Cabinet heads and the Nazi leaders. Bitter and open antagonism followed between these groups, and truculent statements were issued by both sides. In the course of the fight it was revealed by Chancellor von Papen that Herr Hitler had demanded the Chancellorship for himself and a dominating position for his party. He is said to have informed the President that he sought "precisely the same power Mussolini exercised after the march on Rome." In a Cabinet statement issued Aug. 15, regret was expressed that the Hitlerites had violated a promise given before the National elections that they would support a National Cabinet founded upon the confidence of the President.

The problem was clarified to a degree when the Reichstag was about to meet on Aug. 30. Notwithstanding the impending first session of this body, leading Ministers of the Cabinet left Berlin Aug. 29 for a conference with the President at his East Prussian estate near Neudeck. In a statement issued Aug. 30, President von Hindenburg indicated that he had received Chancellor von Papen, together with Defense Minister Kurt von Schleicher and Interior Minister Wilhelm von Gayl, and discussed with them all phases of the German political situation. "Complete agreement" between the President and the Cabinet was announced, and it was generally accepted thereafter that Chancellor von Papen had been authorized by the President to dissolve the Reichstag whenever he might deem it necessary.

The Reichstag session, Aug. 30, was opened by Clara Zetkin, 75-year-old Communist, in her capacity as senior member of the Parliament. Recipients of this honor heretofore have made strictly non-partisan speeches, but this practice was not observed by Frau Zetkin, who delivered an inflammatory address calling for immediate overthrow of the Cabinet and the impeachment of the President and all the Cabinet Ministers. The address was heard in complete silence by the Deputies, who quickly proceeded thereafter with the formalities of organization. Captain Hermann Goering, Nazi candidate, was chosen President of the Reichstag, while Vice-Presidential posts were divided among representatives of the Centrist, Nationalist and Bavarian Peoples' parties. On taking the rostrum, Captain Goering registered a sharp protest against the assumed intention of the Cabinet to dissolve the Reichstag. A telegram was dispatched to the President, asking an immediate audience with the new officials of the Reichstag, with the aim of securing the continuance of the present body. The President replied, however, that he would be glad to see the officials at Berlin on his return, and this action was contrued as a rebuke to the officers.

Chancellor von Papen outlined, Aug. 28, a comprehensive program for economic improvement in Germany, in the course of a speech at Muenster. The plan provides essentially for tax relief to German industries in the amount of 2,200,000,000 marks. In order to safeguard the current budgetary position of the Government an ingenious proposal was made by the Chancellor. Taxes due this year are to be paid in full, and against them the Government will issue tax payment certificates which will be acceptable by the Reich Government in payment of taxes due from 1934 to 1938, in due proportions. Of this sum, 1,500,000,000 marks will represent an outright subsidy to German industrialists, who will be under no obligations to the Government by reason of the remission. The further 700,000,000 marks of certificates against taxes will be issued only on condition that new workmen be employed. For every additional worker taken on, 400 marks in certificates will be issued, and it is calculated that this scheme will stimulate the employment of up to 1,375,000 men.

The Chancellor advocated further the recognition in principle of wage and arbitration agreemnts between capital and labor, but the adaptation of the agreement so that lower wages will be possible and the bankruptcy of hard-pressed concerns prevented. In order to solve the problems of the overcrowded professions, he suggested the introduction of a working year for academic youths between high school and university. The "moderate" regulation of imports was promised, while maintenance of a stable currency was declared quite necessary. As an immediate means of stimulating employment of Germany's idle millions, he proposed the appropriation of 135,000,000 marks for productive public works. Administrative reforms in Government also were proposed, chiefly in order to reduce expenditures. This plan was greeted with enthusiasm in German financial and industrial circles. Socialist and trade union groups, on the other hand, expressed vigorous opposition on the ground that the proposals abolished constitutionally guaranteed wage agreement rights.

THE AUGUST FINANCING OF THE U. S. TREASURY.

The August financing of the United States Government consisted of the offering of four issues of 91-day Treasury bills, all put out to replace maturing bills. On Aug. 3 Secretary of the Treasury Mills announced an offering of 91-day bills to the amount of $75,000,000 to replace a maturing issue of a similar amount. They were dated Aug. 10 1932 and made to mature on Nov. 9. Tenders for the bills were invited up to Monday, Aug. 8, 2 p. m., Eastern Standard time. The applications aggregated $333,468,000, and the amount accepted was $75,217,000. An average price was realized of 99.866, making the average rate on a bank discount basis about 0.53% per annum. On Aug. 10 another offering of 91-day bills to amount of $75,000,000, "or thereabouts," was announced by Secretary Mills, also to meet a maturing issue for the same amount. The bills were dated Aug. 17 and to mature on Nov. 16. Tenders were received up to 2 p. m., Eastern Standard time, on Monday, Aug. 15, and the subscriptions reached $333,747,000, while the amount allotted was $75,016,000, the average price realized by the Treasury being 99.878, making the average cost to the Government on a bank discount basis about 0.48% per annum. Announcement of still another offering of 91-day bills came on Aug. 17 from Acting Secretary of the Treasury Ballantine, this time for $60,000,000, to take up a maturing issue of $60,050,000. Applications were received up to 2 p. m., Eastern Standard time, on Monday, Aug. 22. These bills were dated Aug. 24, and made to mature on Nov. 23. The applications in this instance reached $347,816,000, and the amount of bids accepted $62,350,000, the average price realized being 99.894, or an average rate on a bank discount basis of about 0.42% per annum. A fourth offering of 91-day bills for amount of $100,000,000, "or thereabouts," was announced by Acting Secretary Ballantine on Aug. 24. This issue, too, was designed to meet a maturing issue of like amount. The bills were dated Aug. 31 and made to mature on Nov. 30. Tenders were invited up to 2 p. m., Eastern Standard time, on Monday, Aug. 29. Mr. Ballantine reported the subscriptions as having totaled $463,281,000, and the amount of the bids accepted $100,500,000. The average price received was 99.918, or an average rate on a bank discount basis of about 0.32% per annum. Thus the great plethora of loanable funds with which large financial interests were burdened, and for which employment at any rate of interest could be found only with the utmost difficulty, once more redounded to the advantage of the Government, so that the final offering of bills for the month went on a discount basis of less than 1/3 of 1% per annum, though it deserves to be noted that the previous May the Treasury placed some Treasury bills on a discount basis of only 0.29% per annum.

The Government deposits which grew out of the issuance of $650,000,000 of Treasury notes during July in two series, one series consisting of $325,000,000 of two-year notes bearing 2⅛% interest and the other of $325,000,000 four-year notes bearing 3¼% interest, and the combined allotments of which aggregated $710,430,600, were liberally drawn upon during the course of August. Both issues of notes were dated Aug. 1 1932, and drafts upon the deposits began with the very opening of the month, $35,280,000 being called for payment on Aug. 2 and the same amount Aug. 3. As noted in our review for the month of July the total of the Government deposits created by the sale of both issues of notes was $504,000,000, of which $238,199,600 were on deposit in the New York Federal Reserve District. As a result of the successive calls for the repayment of these deposits, $213,501,700 of the deposits remained for recall during September (after the call made Aug. 29 for repayment of $26,035,200 on Sept. 2), of which $92,472,100 was on deposit with the banks in the New York Federal Reserve District.

NEW SECURITY ISSUES AND DIVIDENDS IN AUGUST.

New financing in the domestic market for August as in previous months consisted in the main of public utility offerings. A few of the prominent issues brought out during the month were the $20,000,000 offering of the Peoples Gas, Light & Coke Co., 1st & ref. mtge. 6% gold bonds, series "C" at 97 to yield about 6.24%, and the $20,000,000 issue of the Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois, 1st lien & ref. mtge. 6½% 5-yr. s. f. conv. gold bonds, series "G" at 98 and int., to yield about 6.99% and due July 1 1937.

The offerings of $2,000,000 or over for August comprised the following:

THE COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING AUGUST.

Further great activity and buoyancy characterized the stock market during August, and on top of the notable advances in prices established in July still more notable advances occurred during August, making an upward swing in values for the two months combined of very spectacular character. As the best way of indicating the magnitude of the appreciation in market prices that took place, reference may be made to the elaborate compilations on the matter prepared by the New York Stock Exchange. The Stock Exchange reports that as of Sept. 1 there were 1,245 stock issues aggregating 1,311,960,145 shares listed on the Exchange, and that these had a market value of $27,782,501,806. This compares with 1,252 stock issues aggregating 1,315,334,428 shares on Aug. 1 with a market value of $20,494,759,465, and with 1,253 stock issues aggregating 1,315,172,584 shares on July 1, with a value of $15,633,479,577. In other words, $7,287,742,341 was added to the value of listed stocks by the rise in prices during August, after $4,861,279,888 had been so added during July, making the gain for the two months combined no less than $12,149,022,229, and raising market values of the entire body of stocks from $15,633,479,577 on July 1 to $27,782,501,806 on Sept. 1. The ratio of gain for the two months has been over 77%. The August appreciation of $7,287,742,341 was the largest of any month since August 1929. From an average market value per share on July 1 of $11.89 there was first an advance to $15.58 on Aug. 1, and then an advance to $21.18 on Sept. 1. A significant feature of the rise was that it continued day after day almost without interruption. It was not unattended by reactions and setbacks, but in each instance there was quick recovery. The averages for 50 selected stocks kept by the New York "Times" show that out of 27 trading days there were 11 on which the averages showed a net loss, but that on only one of these 11 days was the net decline of substantial character, namely, on Aug. 12, when, on very extensive liquidation to realize profits, the net loss for the day reached 4.74 points, but this loss was quickly recovered and later in the month new gains were established of large proportions. The combined average for the 50 stocks was as its lowest for the month at 44.97 on Aug. 2 and at its highest at 68.71 on Aug. 27, with the closing figure Aug. 31 65.82, this last reflecting a downward reaction which occurred in the industrial list the last two days of the month. In the case of the 25 industrial stocks the low for the month was 74.25 on Aug. 2, the high 107.36 Aug. 27, and the close Aug. 31 101.64. The low for the 25 rails was 15.69 Aug. 2 and the high 31.06 Aug. 25, with the close Aug. 31 at 30.01. In the case of some separate stocks, on occasions of special buoyancy which occurred two or three times during the month, advances were not limited to 2 or 3 points a day, but there were instances of advances running as high on single days as 5 points, 10 points, and even 15 points or more.

In any broad consideration of the underlying causes of the tremendous rise during July and August, which ranks as one of the most striking in Stock Exchange history, important place must be given to the abnormally low levels to which market values had fallen during the long period of decline. A widespread feeling had been created that the downward plunge in 1932 had been carried to the same violent extremes as the spectacular advances during the reckless speculation of 1929. This induced buying for both investment and for speculative account as soon as definite signs of sustained recovery began to appear. Apparently, also, the market was in a highly oversold condition, with the outstanding short contracts much larger than generally supposed. Bear operators were forced to cover, and buying for such purpose was undoubtedly on a large scale. As a further incentive to buying, and perhaps the most important factor in the general rise and buoyancy, there came a very notable advance in commodity values in the case of certain basic materials like cotton, silk, wool, rubber, &c., which, along with a distinct revival of activity in the textile trades, attended by advances in goods prices, encouraged a belief that the country was on the eve of its long period of depression and that a definite turn for the better in business circles could be counted upon for the near future. The heavy industries, and in particular the steel industry, still lagged woefully behind, and production of the steel mills of the country the latter part of the month fell to only about 13% of capacity as against 15 or 16% the early part of the month, but the disposition was to believe that the steel industry also would soon swing into line when business revival definitely got under way, and, as a matter of fact, sentiment was brighter in the steel industry the same as in other branches of business activity, even if unattended by concrete results in the shape of a larger volume of business. Account must also be taken of the extensive relief measures being carried on at Washington—and on a huge scale, too; this, it was hoped, would play an important part in starting the country back on the road to business recovery. The plans put afoot to attack business depression "along the whole economic front," in the language of President Hoover, were looked upon as helpful measures of the same kind. Last, but not least, the dissipation of fears lest the United States be driven off the gold standard and the reversal of the international gold currents so that the United States now found its stock of gold once more being rapidly increased, instead of being depleted in huge volume as was the case up to the middle of June (no less than $100,500,000 of gold held under earmark for foreign account having been released in August, the proceeds of all of which except about $12,000,000 found its way into the New York money market) contributed in no unimportant degree to improve sentiment in the financial and the business world alike.

In the brightening visions, a disposition grew up to emphasize what were considered favorable features and to ignore entirely developments of the opposite nature. This was well shown early in the month when the General Motors Corp. continued unchanged its quarterly dividend of 25c. per share, though the company in its statement showed a net of only $5.326.377 for the three months ending June 30 1932 against $55.122,767 for the corresponding three months of 1931, or only 7c. per share against $1.22 in the June quarter of the previous year. This action was construed as indicating that the directors of the company saw better prospects ahead, little notice being taken of the fact that the income of the Corporation was of such a diminutive character. In the same feeling of hopefulness adverse pieces of news, which previously would have sent prices plunging downward anew, was received with the utmost complacency, and was wholly without effect as an influence in checking the onward course of prices, either of the properties directly concerned or of the general market. As instances of the kind, there may be mentioned the reduction in the quarterly dividend on Eastman Kodak common from $1.25 a share to 75c. a share; the reduction in the quarterly dividend on E. I. du Pont de Nemours common from 75c. a share to 50c. a share, and the reduction in the dividend on Delaware & Hudson stock from a basis of $9 a year to $6 a year. At times the rise in prices was under such momentum that it seemed as if nothing could stop its onward rush. One occasion was on Tuesday, Aug. 16. On that day bullish enthusiasm gained such headway that United States Steel opened 4⅞ points higher than the close the previous afternoon at 45, on a transaction aggregating 10,000 shares. So numerous were the buying orders for the time being that the ticker, in recording transactions, fell 7 minutes behind during the first half hour of trading, after which, however, the volume of transactions tapered off somewhat. Part of the early advance on that day was lost before the close of the day, but, nevertheless, net advances were large for the day in most of the issues actively dealt in. United States Steel showed a net advance for that day of 3 points; American Tel. & Tel. of 4¼ points; New York Central of 2⅝ points; Westinghouse Electric of 4¼ points; J. I. Case Threshing Machine of 3 points, and Union Pacific of 4¾ points. The splurge upward continued in the early hours of the next day (Wednesday, Aug. 17), but later on this latter day a sharp downward plunge occurred, during which the early advances were lost. Interest on that day centered on the action of the American Tel. & Tel. Co. on the quarterly dividend. When it appeared that the dividend was to remain unchanged at $2.25, or at the rate so long maintained of 9% a year, prices eased off all around, leaving the active stocks in many cases several points lower than at the close of the previous day (Aug. 16), including American Tel. & Tel., which now declined on sales to realize profit, but after an enormous previous advance. Some irregularity then followed for a few days, after which, however, the course of prices was again strongly upward. In the closing days of the month a reactionary tendency at times was in evidence, though it was not of a pronounced character, and the market derived comfort from President Hoover's declaration at his conference with business leaders, on Friday, Aug. 26, that the country's major financial crisis had been overcome. Trading was on a large scale, aggregating on the New York Stock Exchange 82,625,795 shares, or the largest of any month since April 1930. There was one day (Aug. 8) when the transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 5,461,150 shares, being the largest day's business on that Exchange since October 1930. In August 1931 the sales aggregated 24,828,500 shares, and in August 1930, 39,869,500 shares. On the New York Curb Exchange the sales were 10,471,483 shares in August 1932 against 4,779,515 shares in August 1931 and 9,179.800 shares in August 1930. Of the stocks dealt in on the New York Stock Exchange, no fewer than 525 established new high records for the year during the month, and of those dealt in on the Curb Exchange 309 stocks made new high records for the month.

Of conspicuous instances of advances in separate stocks American Tel. & Tel. may be mentioned; this stock, as against 88¼ Aug. 2 and 69¾ July 11, sold up to 119 Aug. 26, with the closing price Aug. 31 114½. United States Steel, as against 27⅝ Aug. 2 and 21¼ June 28, sold up to 49⅜ Aug. 29, with the close Aug. 31 at 46⅛. American Can, as against 37¼ Aug. 2 and 29⅝ June 27, touched 60 Aug. 29, with the close Aug. 31 at 57. Allied Chemical & Dye, as against 55¾ Aug. 2 and 42½ June 27, advanced to 86½ Aug. 27, with the close Aug. 31 at 80¾. J. I. Case Threshing Machine, as against 29⅛ Aug. 2 and 16¾ June 9, shot up to 64 Aug. 27, with the close Aug. 31 at 57. Consolidated Gas of New York, as against 44¾ Aug. 2 and 31½ June 2, touched 63¾ Aug. 29, with the close Aug. 31 at 60¾. E. I. du Pont, as against 27¼ Aug. 2 and 22 July 19, advanced to 42½ Aug. 27, with the close Aug. 31 at 39. General Electric, as against 13⅜ Aug. 2 and 8½ May 31, rose to 22 Aug. 29, with the close Aug. 31 at 20¾. North American, as against 19¾ Aug. 2 and 13¾ June 2, touched 40¾ Aug. 27, with the close Aug. 31 at 38. Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing, as against 22⅜ Aug. 1 and 15⅝ June 29, advanced to 41⅝ Aug. 29, with the close Aug. 31 at 39⅜. And these illustrations could be continued almost indefinitely. The experience in the railroad list was much the same. The rails frequently displayed strength beyond most other groups, and often led the market on a new upward course when the general list was inclined to sag a bit. The reason for this strength in the rails was not altogether clear, since the income returns of the roads as they kept coming to hand for the month of July made it palpably evident that in that month the results of operations were quite as poor as in any of the previous months, with heavy losses in gross and net earnings alike. Doubtless, however, encouragement was derived from the steps taken by the executives of the roads in arranging for a continuance of the reduction in wages which will expire on Feb. 1 1933, but with the intention of insisting on a reduction of 20% instead of the 10% now in force owing to the complete collapse of railroad revenues.

Atchison common, as against 30 Aug. 2 and 17⅞ June 28, sold up to 58⅜ Aug. 25, with the close Aug. 31 at 53⅞. Delaware & Hudson, as against 49 Aug. 2 and 32 July 8, sold up to 87 Aug. 25, with the close Aug. 31 at 84½. New York Central, as against 15 Aug. 2 and 8¾ June 2, touched 29½ Aug. 31. Norfolk & Western, as against 78 Aug. 3 and 57 June 27, advanced to 114 Aug. 25, with the close Aug. 31 at 108 ex-dividend. Reading, as against 22 Aug. 3 and 9½ June 10, rose to 48 Aug. 24, with the close Aug. 31 at 45¾. Union Pacific, as against 42¼ Aug. 2 and 27⅝ July 11, jumped to 82¾ Aug. 25, with the close Aug. 31 at 79. Interborough Rapid Transit stock, as well as the bond issues, were severely depressed the latter part of the month, and the reason for this appeared when the property was placed in the hands of receivers.

Bond prices continued their upward course the early part of the month, and this added to the buoyancy in stocks, but the latter part of August somewhat of a reactionary tendency developed, especially in the case of the low-priced issues. In the following table we show, as in other months, the fluctuations in the different issues of United States obligations, and also in a large list of railroad and industrial bonds, and a considerable number, likewise, of foreign bond issues:

THE MONEY MARKET DURING AUGUST 1932.

Extreme ease continued to characterize the New York money market during August, and it was again devoid of any special features except those appertaining to the ease itself which so far from being in any way relieved became more pronounced. This followed necessarily from the fact that under the provisions of the Borah-Glass rider to the Federal Home Loan Bank Act permitting the use of United States Government bonds bearing 3⅜% interest or less as security for National bank notes, about $50,000,000 was added during August to the volume of National bank circulation outstanding, while at the same time the gold stock of the country was increased during the month in the sum of about $112,000,000. Both these amounts are the estimates of the New York Federal Reserve Bank as contained in its "Monthly Review" for Sept. 1, and which says that the principal element in this gain of gold during August was the release of gold previously earmarked for foreign account. The proceeds, it is stated, were largely paid out in the New York money market and went directly into the reserves of the New York banks. Government financing played no part in the money market during August, having consisted entirely of the sale of Treasury bills on a discount basis, the proceeds going to take up maturing issues of bills. Aside from this, the Treasury, to meet its heavy expenses, drew on the Government deposits standing to its credit with the banks, as a result of the sale the previous month of $710,430,600 of four-year and two-year Treasury notes. The deposits resulting from this Treasury financing of the previous month aggregated $504,000,000, of which $238,199,600 were on deposit in the New York Federal Reserve District. As a result of the successive calls for repayment of these deposits, the amount was reduced to $213,501,700 by the call made on Aug. 29 for repayment of $26,035,200 on Sept. 2.

There were no changes of consequence during August in the prevailing rates for banking accommodation in any branches of the money market. The rate for call loans on the New York Stock Exchange remained unaltered the entire month at 2%. The revival of speculation on the Stock Exchange was not accompanied by any increase of moment in the demand for brokers' loans. Outside the Stock Exchange call loans were available at 1% all through the month except that on Monday, Aug. 29, the outside rate rose to 1½%, but with a drop back to 1¼% on the two remaining days in August. There was no demand for time loans on security collateral. Rates for time loans remained nominally at 1¼@1½% for loans of all dates. Commercial paper continued in good demand, but with the volume of business limited owing to the scarcity of supplies of paper of the higher grades. The New York Federal Reserve Bank on Aug. 19 stated that the reports received by the Bank from commercial paper dealers showed only $100,400,000 of open market commercial paper outstanding on July 31 as against $103,300,000 June 30 and $111,100,000 on May 31. Quotations for choice names of paper of 4 to 6 months' security shaded off to 2@2¼% at the close of the month. Names less well known commanded 2½%. On some very high class 90-day paper occasional transactions at 1¾% were noted. The "Monthly Review" of the New York Reserve Bank, in commenting on the commercial paper market, stated that an excellent investment demand for open market paper had continued during August. A considerable number of banks were in the market, but the actual volume of dealers' sales remained comparatively small, due to the limitations of the supply of high-grade new paper. A few dealers reported some increase in drawings of commercial paper by certain lines of industrial and mercantile concerns, but these were balanced by indications of a decline in open market borrowings of other industries. The Reserve Bank pointed out that the outstanding volume of commercial paper on July 31 was 3% below the volume outstanding on June 30 and 66% below that of 12 months before.

The market for bankers' acceptances continued very quiet, and rates were again entirely unchanged, the quotations for 30-day, 60-day and 90-day bills being ⅞ of 1% bid and ¾ of 1% asked; the quotation for 120-day bills, 1% bid and ⅞ of 1% asked, and the quotation for 150 days and 180 days, 1¼% bid and 1⅛% asked. There was no abatement of the demand for bankers' acceptances, but the supply continued short and dealings were greatly curtailed as a result. The monthly survey of the American Acceptance Council, released Aug. 18, reported the total of bankers' acceptances July 30 as down to $704,646,592 as against $747,248,362 June 30, and comparing with $1,228,202,179 July 31 1931, a contraction during the 12 months in amount of $523,555,587. The Council said that the retirement of a large volume of matured bankers' acceptance credits and the delayed demand for new season financing combined to bring about the further reduction during July. It also said that practically the entire reduction was reported by banks and bankers in the New York Federal Reserve District. The Acceptance Council also said that a large volume of bills purchased remain with the large accepting institutions, as has been the case for some months, and that at the end of July these banks were holding of their own or other bank bills a total of $562,954,793. At the same time the Federal Reserve banks were holding for their own account a total of only $39,700,000, while the amount of the bills held for foreign correspondents dropped to $57,494,000 as compared with $253,578,000 at the end of July 1931. The New York Federal Reserve Bank, in its reference to acceptances, remarked that throughout the month of August the discount market had continued to report a strong demand for bills, reflecting chiefly the efforts of New York City banking institutions to employ their excess reserves. With accepting and discounting banks withholding bills from the market the supply dwindled to very small proportions, with the result that dealers' sales were curtailed, as they had few bills to use in filling orders. Dealers' portfolios were reduced to the lowest level on record.

Federal Reserve buying rates for bankers' acceptances remained unchanged during August at 1% for bills running from 1 to 90 days; 1⅛% for bills from 91 to 120 days, and 1½% for maturities from 121 to 180 days. On Aug. 5 the New York Reserve Bank, however, reduced its buying rate for trade acceptances from 2½% to 2%. This was in connection with a movement to create a special market for this class of paper similar to that for call money, time money and bankers' acceptances. The New York "Sun" of Aug. 5, in discussing the action, had the following to say:

The Federal Reserve Bank to-day gave the signal which initiated a regular market in trade acceptances, fixing a formal buying rate of 2% for such documents, following conferences between Eugene Meyer, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, local bankers and trade acceptance experts, who under the authority of a number of large National industries, the local banks, the Young Committee and the American Acceptance Council, have been working upon details of the trade bill campaign for several weeks.

In fixing a 2% rate the Reserve Bank made it an active rate and arranged to buy at once the first block of trade bills, this consisting of a large amount of prime paper sold through the open market to a large local trust company, indorsed by the trust company and resold to the Reserve Bank. Heretofore, the Reserve Bank has had a nominal buying rate of 2½%, which was of academic significance only.

Trade and bankers' acceptance circles were jubilant at the action of the Reserve Bank, not only in fixing a 2% rate, which compares with a buying rate of 1% for bankers' acceptances up to 90 days, but in preparing to buy trade bills actively. There was much conjecture as to whether the Federal Reserve Bank would report its trade acceptances under a separate caption on its weekly statement. It was generally expected that sooner or later the Bank would show its trade bills segregated from "bills bought in the open market."

The previous nominal rate of 2½% at which the Reserve Bank theoretically would buy trade acceptances applied to all maturities: the new rate applies to 90-day documents. The fact that a large local trust company had signified its willingness to indorse such paper re-established a custom which has not been in effect for several years. It was learned that several of the other large local banks also had agreed to indorse trade paper, which, of course, makes it a prime short-term investment. In bankers, acceptance circles considerable activity was reported in trade acceptances. Unofficial estimates place the amount now outstanding at between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, mostly bearing the names of great industries such as Standard Oil of New Jersey, the E. I du Pont de Nemours & Co., General Motors and General Electric. The movement to replace open accounts with trade acceptances, with a view to extending the credit of big industries through banks to the smaller manufacturers and industries, which trade with them, is making rapid strides, according to trade authorities, and new converts are being made daily, not only from the ranks of industrial corporations but from banks which have not heretofore been accustomed to buying trade bills or of accepting them for discount.

The New York Reserve Bank, writing under date of Sept. 1, stated that the trade acceptances that had been drawn thus far had been absorbed by the commercial banks, and, accordingly, none of them were offered to the Reserve Bank.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS IN NEW YORK CITY.

The feature during August of the weekly returns of the Federal Reserve banks was the virtual discontinuance of further purchases of United States Government securities and the further increase in the gold reserves of the institutions, due to the reversal of the international gold currents, so that the flow of the metal was now strongly in favor of the United States instead of being against this country as was the case up to the middle of June. The changes in the Federal Reserve figures are to be considered in the light of this renewed inflow of the metal and the further fact that, as already noted, National bank circulation during August was increased $50,000,000 through the action of the National banks in availing of the privileges conferred by the Borah-Glass rider to the Federal Home Loan Bank Act permitting National banks to take out bank notes on the security of United States Government bonds bearing not over 3⅜% interest. It was estimated that $2,973,871,200 of Government issues would in this way become available for the purpose, and that new bank notes to an aggregate of $995,000,000 could thus be put out if the provision were availed of to its full extent. During August $50,000,000 of new bank circulation was put afloat in this way, the effect of which would be to displace Federal Reserve notes in the channels of circulation. It is easy to perceive that in these circumstances the purchase of further amounts of United States Government securities could be readily dispensed with and the volume of Reserve credit outstanding also be reduced. The figures show that the holdings of United States Government securities, after further increasing from $1,841,191,000 July 27 to $1,851,011,000 Aug. 10, remained substantially unchanged thereafter, with the amount Aug. 31 $1,851,715,000. At the same time the volume of Reserve credit outstanding, as measured by the total of the bill and security holdings, moved towards lower levels, as would be expected under the circumstances. As against a total of bill and security holdings of $2,412,232,000 July 27, the amount Aug. 31 was down to $2,324,484,000. The contraction was brought about by a decrease in the discount holdings, reflecting member bank borrowing, from $525,380,000 July 27 to $432,756,000 Aug. 31. The increase in bank note circulation would naturally be used to a larger or smaller extent in reducing member bank borrowing at the Reserve institutions. The holdings of bankers' acceptances also fell off somewhat, with the amount Aug. 31 $34,098,000 as against $39.700,000 July 27.

One other effect of the issuance of new circulation by the National banks would be to increase their reserve deposits with the Federal Reserve banks, and we find member bank deposits with the Reserve institutions $2,146,183,000 Aug. 31 against $2,072,164,000 on July 27. At the same time the total of Federal Reserve notes in circulation, after increasing from $2,834,157,000 July 27 to $2,857,805,000 Aug. 3, thereafter steadily decreased, and on Aug 31 were down to $2,814,020.000. The gold holdings of the twelve Reserve banks increased from $2,621,142,000 July 27 to $2,772,961,000 Aug. 31. As the result of these changes the ratio of total reserves to deposits and Federal Reserve note liabilities combined increased from 56.5% July 27 to 58.9% Aug. 31. One other important change deserves to be noted, namely, that the total of United States Government securities pledged as part collateral for Federal Reserve notes, after increasing from $623,900,000 July 27 to $644,100,000 Aug. 10, thereafter was reduced each week, and on Aug. 31 was reported at $578,100,000. Allusion has already been made to this reduction in the acceptance holdings of the Reserve banks from $39,700,000 July 27 to $34,098,000 Aug. 31. This referred to the holdings of acceptances of the Reserve banks for their own account. In the same interval the holdings for account of foreign central banks, after increasing from $57,494,000 July 26 to $60,254,000 Aug. 17, fell off to $49,-043.000 Aug. 31; 12 months before, on Sept. 2 1931, these bill holdings for foreign central banks stood at $230,004,000. Foreign bank deposits with the Federal Reserve institutions were a little higher at $14,187,000 Aug. 31 against $11,-656,000 July 27, but on Sept. 2 of the previous year the amount of these foreign bank deposits was $178,136,000.

Notwithstanding the greater activity on the New York Stock Exchange, brokers' loans in this city, as shown by the returns of the reporting member banks in the New York Reserve District recorded only relatively small changes from week to week, with the total Aug. 31 $345,000,000 as against $331,000.000 on July 27. The monthly statement, however, compiled by the New York Stock Exchange itself indicates a somewhat larger expansion. From these figures it appears that borrowings by Stock Exchange members Aug. 31 were $331,699,320 as against $241,599,943 on July 30. Either figure, however, seems inconsequential alongside the $8,549,-383,979 total of brokers' loans on Sept. 30 1929, just before the stock market crash in October and November 1929.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING AUGUST.

Sterling exchange during August moved to still lower levels, notwithstanding a number of highly favorable developments regarding British financial affairs. From $3.52⅜ there was a drop to $3.45⅞ Aug. 24, with the range on Aug. 31 $3.46⅞@$3.47¼. The favorable developments related chiefly to the unqualified success attending the scheme for converting the 5% British War Loan issue into 3½% obligations. The official announcement of the progress made up to July 31 showed that £1.850.000.000 had been converted, while cash would be definitely demanded on Dec. 1 on only about £48.000.000. Holders have until Sept. 30 to signify their wishes regarding the remainder of the grand total of £2,086,000,000. After Sept. 30 the amount remaining is converted automatically into the new 3½% basis. Encouraged by the success attending the conversion of the 5% War Loan, the British Government on Aug. 30 announced plans to convert Treasury 4½% loans in a similar manner. Formal notice was given on Aug. 30 that two existing 4½% loans totaling £153,222.376 would be repaid at par on Dec. 1. The loans to be repaid are the 4½% War Loan of 1925-45 and the 4½% Treasury bonds of 1932-34 with six months' interest on the War Loan and four months' interest on the Treasury bonds. It had been hoped that one outcome of the British Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, Canada, would be some agreement for the stabilization of British currency with that of other parts of the British Empire, but no such agreement was reached owing to the difficulties inherent in the problem. As a matter of fact, Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, took pains to point out, in a lengthy address in which he dealt with all phases of the question, that the British Government did not contemplate an early return of Great Britain to the gold standard. The reason was that there were many obstacles in the way which must first be overcome, that it was beyond the power of the United Kingdom to undertake the task all alone, and that as a consequence it was incumbent upon the British Government to await the outcome of outside conditions and changes, and improvement in the same, before definitely venturing upon the undertaking, in the meantime proceeding with the utmost caution lest the effort prove premature and result in a new setback. Mr. Chamberlain declared that it was "not desirable to embark upon any rash experiments in currency policy," and that "the central position of the United Kingdom in world commerce and finance and the widespread use of the sterling bill as a medium of international trade will always require us to proceed with great circumspection." He said the British Government saw no prospect of a speedy return to the gold standard, nor was it prepared to say, at present, "at what parity such a return should be effected if and when it takes place." While the British Government would continue to do its utmost to prevent wide fluctuations in the value of sterling arising from speculative movements, the existing situation made the prospect of immediate stabilization doubtful, Mr. Chamberlain said:

"They (the United Kingdom delegation) would be very glad to discuss any proposals which may be put forward with this object in view, but they must submit that present world conditions are singularly unfavorable to stability. One of the most alarming features of the world situation is that vast accumulations of capital have been formed which instead of seeking investment in normal fashion on a long-term basis are held for safety in short form. This international short-term capital is moved from one financial center to another with extraordinary rapidity whenever distrust as to the future of an important currency or the prospect of a quick profit suggests a transfer, and its volume is so great as entirely to outweigh, for considerable periods of time, the effect of ordinary trade factors on the course of the exchanges.

"The United Kingdom has had experience of the working of this factor both ways. In the summer of 1931 very great withdrawals of short-term money from Great Britain took place, whereas this year we have had equally sudden and undesired inflows of short-term foreign money seeking a refuge in London, and these facts emphasize that while the difficulties caused by big movements of short-term capital are usually minimized or ignored by theoretical economists, they present a formidable problem to the people who actually have to handle exchange."

Upon his return from the conference at Ottawa Mr. Chamberlain reviewed the position arising from his request to intending borrowers to refrain from borrowing in the London market pending completion of the War Loan conversion operation. In view of the high percentage of War Loan holders who decided to convert their holdings the Chancellor of the Exchequer now agreed to a partial relaxation of the embargo on new issues. The relaxation, however, would comprise only the exchange of one class of security for another without change of ownership or the issue of new security to replace security which must be redeemed before Dec. 1. The New York "Times," in a cablegram from London, Aug. 19, discussed the position of the British Treasury as follows:

It is understood that the British Treasury intends to maintain, at least until the middle of next month, the embargo on new capital issues, imposed when the war loan conversion scheme was launched. Even then it will probably permit only issues made for refinancing purposes. Opinion is very sharply divided in the city concerning the wisdom or need of this deliberate restriction of the new capital market. The Treasury naturally wishes to prevent any rush of new offerings until it has finally completed the war loan conversion.

Furthermore, it is reported that certain decisions were taken at Ottawa which had led the Government to decide to give preference in the market for securities to "empire borrowers." The embargo is not at present causing any inconvenience or hardship, because normally there are no capital offerings of any importance at this particular time of year. But financial houses express fear that business revival will be interfered with if the ban is not completely lifted by early autumn.

Doubtless the underlying cause for the decline in sterling bills on London was the flow of funds from London, as well as from the Continental centers, to the New York security market as a result of the advance in security prices here and also the return to this market of balances previously held here but which were withdrawn earlier in the year out of fear that the United States would be forced off the gold standard. This must not be interpreted, however, as meaning that there is not a steady flow of funds to the London market. Although money has been coming from London and the Continent to New York, attracted by the upward trend in stock and bond prices, money also has been moving into London from other centers, and has been in great abundance, as made evident by the easing in open market rates at that center. This is what the Chancellor of the Exchequer referred to in the excerpts given above where he speaks of "the sudden and undesired inflows of short-term foreign money seeking a refuge in London." As a matter of fact, money has been flowing to London from nearly all quarters as a result of the return of confidence in the British position, confidence in which was so seriously impaired at the time when Great Britain was obliged to abandon the gold standard.

The Bank of England was able substantially to enlarge its gold holdings during the month. For the week ending Aug. 3 it reported an increase of £823.216; in the week ending Aug. 10 an increase of £19,623, and in the week ending Aug. 17 an increase of £182,952; in the week ending Aug. 24 there was a loss of £6,387, but this was followed by a gain again in the week ending Aug. 31 of £210,617. Some gold also came to New York from London. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York figures the amount received from England during August at $6.100,000, besides which $4,300,000 was received at New York from Canada. The gold movement as a whole to and from this country during the month is summarized as follows by the Reserve Bank:

"This country continued to gain gold during August, and for the month as a whole the monetary gold stock showed an increase of about $112,000.000. This rise, together with that of July and the latter part of June, has increased the gold stock some $177,000,000 above the mid-June low when the heavy withdrawal of gold subsided. The principal factor in the August gain continued to be releases of gold from amounts held under earmark at this bank for account of foreign central banks.

"The net decrease in the amount of gold held under earmark for foreign account amounted to $100,500,000 for the month. Except for $18,000,000 released for export to France, the proceeds of these releases were paid out to the local money market. Included in the month's transactions were releases of gold to provide funds for the redemption of about $34,000,000 of Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean RR. bonds which were called for payment on Aug. 15.

"August imports of gold through New York amounted to approximately $15,000,000, of which $6,100,000 was received from England, $4,300,000 from Canada, $1,800,000 from Mexico, $1,000,000 from Belgium, $1,000,000 from Uruguay and $565,000 from India. Arrivals at San Francisco were $4,750,000 from China and $1,800,000 from Australia."

Canadian exchange continued at a severe discount throughout August, but the discount diminished somewhat in the closing days of the month. In the early days of August the discount ran as high as 13 1/16%; on Aug. 31 the discount was 10⅜@10 11/16.

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

Rates of exchange on most of the leading Continental centers of Europe continued their downward course during August, though, to be sure, not in the precipitate way noted the previous month, and the reason was the same, namely, the flow of funds to the United States in part as a restoration of confidence in the stability of the American dollar but in part also for investment in the New York security markets in order to participate in the speculative revival on the New York Stock Exchange, as a result of which security values were being rapidly swept upward. An exception to the downward course of Continental exchange must be noted in the case of the French franc, while the German mark also displayed firmness. During July cable transfers on Paris had dropped from 3.93 13/16 to 3.91, with the range on July 30 at 3.91½@3.91 13/16. During August the rate moved up from a low of 3.91½ in the early days of the month to 3.92½ on Aug. 18, with the range Aug. 31 at 3.92@ 3.92⅛. Official support from Paris was held responsible for the recovery. Huge amounts of gold held by the New York Reserve Bank under earmark for foreign account were released not only for French account but for account of other foreign central banks. The New York Federal Reserve Bank reports that the net decrease during August in the amount of gold held under earmark for foreign account reached no less than $100,500,000; $18,000,000 of this was released for export to France, but the proceeds of the remainder of the releases were paid out, it is stated, to the local money market. Included in the month's transactions were releases of gold to provide funds for the redemption of about $34,000,000 of Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean RR. bonds listed here which were called for payment on Aug. 15. Newspaper accounts, however, stated that around $6,000,000 of the bonds were held in France, having been purchased here and repatriated, and, accordingly, dollar balances for the full amount of the bonds outstanding were not necessary. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., it is stated, sold to the Federal Reserve Bank $28,500,000 gold out of the gold held under French earmark. It was noted that by providing dollars here in exchange for francs in Paris, the Bank of France was able to relieve the strain on franc exchange; otherwise the railroad would have had to buy dollar exchange in the market, which would have forced the franc down possibly to below the gold point.

It was announced in Paris cablegrams, Aug. 30 and Aug. 31, that following the example of Great Britain a large-scale conversion of the public debt was being arranged. The conversion, it was stated, would probably affect the 1927 7% 15-year bonds as well as three separate 6% issues and the 1935 so-called Caillaux 4s, which were proving costly because they were guaranteed against exchange fluctuations and are redeemable at a premium. It was added that if 4½% is chosen as the new rate, then it is possible that the 5% rentes will also be included. The New York "Times" Paris correspondent pointed out that various categories of rentes that already have lost 80% of their original value by reason of the depreciation of the franc will be replaced by low interest bearing Treasury bonds, but the Government is confident of the success of the operation. It was estimated that the total sum involved in the conversion might be in the neighborhood of $4,000,000,000. The Bank of France, after the large losses in gold reported in the last three weeks of July, was able to show some increases again in August. In the week ending Aug. 5 the Bank reported an increase in its gold holdings of 11,430,096 francs, and in the week ending Aug. 12 an increase of 47,108,576 francs; in the week ending Aug. 19 a decrease of 24,134,477 francs was reported, but this was followed by an increase of 37,281,585 francs in the week ending Aug. 26.

The tendency of central bank discount rates continued downward during August. On Aug. 8 the National Bank of Greece reduced its rate from 11% to 10%; on Aug. 18 the Bank of Japan reduced its rate from the equivalent of 5.11% to 4.38%, which latter figure the New York Federal Reserve Bank says is the lowest discount rate in at least 27 years. On Aug. 23 the National Bank of Austria reduced from 7% to 6%, and the Bank of Chile from 5½% to 4½%; on Aug. 31 the State Bank of Sweden lowered its rate from 4% to 3½%, and the Bank of Norway from 4½% to 4%, both becoming effective Sept. 1.

The Bank of Germany also made preparations for reducing its rate. Dr. Hans Luther, President of the Reichsbank, in an address before the Congress of German co-operatives, stated that a reduction in the rate below 5% was desirable and that the Reichsbank was ready for it and endeavoring to have the legal obstacles to its freedom of action removed as soon as possible. The law forbids a rate below 5% if the note cover is below 40%, but it was stated at the close of the month that Chancellor von Papen's financial program contemplated a change in the Reichsbank law so as to permit a reduction below 5%. The Bank for International Settlements also has a veto power on the rate, but it was not thought that it would oppose the action, even though it has authority to do so under the provisions of the Young Plan. Germany continued to labor under great financial disability, owing to the difficulty in providing exchange for German obligations due abroad. Cablegrams from Berlin, Aug. 2, reported that because of the foreign exchange control loans the Deutsche Bank und Disconto-Gesellschaft would be unable to repay in dollars its 6% $25,000,000 loan maturing Sept. 1. The Bank, therefore, proposed to holders of these bonds living abroad that they either accept immediate payment in marks, to be left in Germany in so-called blocked accounts, or agree to a three-year prolongation of the bonds under the same conditions. In any event, the bondholders were to receive their semi-annual September coupons in dollars, and those agreeing to the prolongation will receive, in addition to the coupon, a 2% bonus on the nominal value of the bonds. The Bank asserted that it had the necessary funds on hand to meet its obligations without difficulty, but that despite prolonged negotiations with the Government and the Reichsbank the necessary amounts of foreign exchange had been refused to it. It was announced on Aug. 29 by F. Abbot Goodhue (of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Co.), Chairman of the subcommittee of American banks, that the American banks interested in the German standstill credit had agreed to adopt the schedule of maximum rates as proposed by the London Conference, these rates to become effective on Sept. 1. The new rates are: For cash advances and fixed loans, 5%; temporary cash advances due to matured non-replaced acceptances, 4½%; acceptance credits for banks, 4½%, and acceptance credits to others, 5½%. These to continue in effect during the remainder of the standstill credit of 1932 except that they may be revised in the event of an increase in the Bank rate of any central bank of 1%. German creditors had been agitating for a reduction on short-term credits for some time. Rates previously are understood to have ranged between 5½% and 6½%, with the average around 6%. Berlin advices immediately after the close of the month (Sept. 2) stated that the Central Bank credit of $90,000,000 granted to the Reichsbank in the summer of 1931 in an original amount of $100,000,000 by the Bank for International Settlements, the Bank of England, the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve banks, had been extended an additional three months from Sept. 4. This was the third extension of this credit given the Reichsbank. The principal of the loan was reduced $10,000,000 on March 4 1932, when the Reichsbank paid this amount. On June 4 1932 a further extension to Sept. 4 was granted coincident with a reduction in the interest rate from 6% to 5%. The Bank of Germany showed a decrease in its gold holdings in the first quarter of August of 3.255,000 marks, an increase in the second quarter of 143.000 marks, an increase in the third quarter of 5,039,000 marks, and an increase in the fourth quarter of 165,000 marks. Note circulation of the Bank decreased 144,-784,000 marks the first quarter, 78,960.000 marks the second quarter, 126,194,000 marks the third quarter, but an increase in the fourth quarter of the month in connection with the monthly settlements of 199,996,000 marks. Cable transfers on Berlin, though only nominally quoted and under the strict control of the Reichsbank, displayed, as already stated, firmness during August. As against a range of 23.73½@ 23.77½ Aug. 1, cable transfers on Berlin sold as high as 23.81@23.84 on Aug. 16, with the range Aug. 31 at 23.77 @23.79.

Austria continued involved in financial difficulties, though the rate for the Austrian schilling ruled virtually unchanged at the nominal figure of 13.97@14.12. The failure of the Austrian Government to make provision for the payment of the July 1 and Aug. 1 service installments due on the Government International Loan of 1930, due in 1957, was made known in a statement issued on Aug. 2 at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. in behalf of the Bank for International Settlements, trustee of the loan. The statement said, among other things: "The trustees of the Austrian Government Guaranteed Loan 1923-43 announce that, difficulties having arisen in regard to the transfer into the necessary foreign currencies of funds held in Austria for the service of the loan, the monthly installment due on July 1 1932 has not up to the present been provided, nor have the trustees received any information which would lead them to suppose that this installment or the monthly installment due on Aug. 1 1932 will be met."

By the close vote of 81 to 80 the Austrian Parliament on Aug. 17 ratified the Lausanne Loan protocol. Approval of the protocol, it was stated, was necessary to pave the way for the $42,000,000 Austrian loan promised at the Lausanne Conference, $15,000,000 to be given by England, another $15,000,000 by France, and the rest by smaller countries. The loan is necessary to enable Austria to continue to pay the debts which presently will come under the transfer moratorium. It was pointed out that in June the League of Nations had arranged a $42,000,000 loan for Austria pending ratification by the Austrian Parliament. There was considerable opposition, opponents of the Government charging that the country's liberty and independence had been sold out for another 20 years to obtain the money. On Aug. 19 the Upper House of the Austrian Parliament rejected the Lausanne protocol and the Austrian loan which it provided, but this had been expected and its veto was valueless if the lower House voted a second time in favor of the proposition, which it did on Aug. 23 by a vote of 82 to 80. Cable advices from Vienna, Aug. 31, to the New York "Times" said that a cautiously worded newspaper article on that day by President Kienboeck of the Austrian National Bank the conclusion was to be drawn that the transfer moratorium put into effect by Austria two months before would have to be continued even after Austria received the $42,000,000 loan granted at Lausanne. The sole exception would be for the League loan of 1923. This required $14,000,000 yearly, almost equally divided between interest and amortization. Italian exchange was firmly maintained during August and moved slightly higher, the lire on cable transfers being quoted at 5.12@2.12⅝ Aug. 31 against 5.09@5.09⅜ Aug. 1.

Exchange on the countries neutral during the war continued their downward course, being influenced in the case of such countries as Holland and Switzerland beyond all others by the return flow of funds to the United States, since these countries were used very largely as a haven of refuge when the flow of funds was away from the United States. In addition, they now became a means for the transfer of funds to this country to invest in the New York security market. Swiss francs for cable transfers advanced from 19.46½@19.47½ Aug. 1 to 19.49@19.51 Aug. 15, but then reversed their course and were down to 19.36@19.38 Aug. 30, with the range Aug. 31 19.38@19.39. Dutch guilders also moved downward the last half of the month after having shown an improving tendency the first half of August, though on more or less erratic fluctuations. Cable transfers on Amsterdam, as against 40.24½@40.27 Aug. 1, were down to 40.20@40.22 Aug. 5, then rose to 40.28@40.31 Aug. 15, but after that moved slowly downward again, with the range Aug. 31 at 40.22@40.24.

The Scandinavian currencies moved up and down rather erratically, but with the trend also strongly downward. In the case of the Danish crown a sharp break occurred on Aug. 29 due to a special cause. On that day the Danish Government modified its foreign exchange restrictions by abolishing the obligation of exporters to hand over to the Government of Denmark all foreign currency received by them. As a result of the removal of this restriction, the Danish crown dropped abruptly and there were heavy offerings of the unit in the London market. Cable transfers here on Denmark had been quoted on Saturday, Aug. 27, at 18.44½@18.48, to which figure there had been a drop from 18.92@19.00 on Aug. 1. On Monday, Aug. 29, the Danish crown on cable transfers sold down to 17.67½c.; the range Aug. 31 was 17.90@18.00. The Swedish crown for cable transfers ranged at 17.81@17.83 Aug. 31 as against 18.07@18.13 on Aug. 1; on Aug. 25 it had sold as low as 17.76½@17.80. The Norwegian crown for cable transfers sold down from 17.60@17.65 Aug. 1 to 17.29@17.34 Aug. 6, and was 17.40@17.43 Aug. 31. The Spanish peseta moved within narrow limits during August, except that a violent decline was precipitated on Aug. 10 on the breaking out of political riots in several of the Spanish cities. As these were quickly suppressed, prompt recovery of the Spanish unit followed. Cable transfers on Spain, as against 8.14@8.16½ Aug. 9, sold down to 7.98 on Aug. 10; a recovery to 8.03@8.07 occurred Aug. 11, and the range Aug. 31 was 8.04½@8.05½ against 8.05@8.07 Aug. 1.

Exchange on the South American countries continued more or less demoralized, as virtually all the different units were hampered by official restrictions on exchange, though the rates quoted are largely nominal, and hence were virtually without any changes of consequence. In Argentina there was continued agitation of the proposition for a moratorium on all public debts, both foreign and internal. A dispatch to the New York "Times" from Buenos Aires Aug. 21 stated that: "A moratorium on both foreign and internal obligations, the emission of currency against mortgage bonds, and the cancellation of farm leases signed prior to January 1930 were among the measures demanded on that day at a mass meeting at Concordia representing commerce, industry, farmers and breeders of the rich provinces of Corrientes and Entre Rios." It was stated that the meeting was one of several planned in the interior, designed to bring pressure on the National Government to effect economic reform, to relieve the general depression, and that there was a growing popular demand throughout the country for a moratorium as one of the first measures to that end.

Brazil had political uprisings to contend against. The Brazilian Federal Government declared all ports of the State of Sao Paulo closed indefinitely to all shipping on July 13 of the previous month; Santos, the port through which nearly half of the country's foreign trade usually passes, was closed to shipping, while ordinary communication with Rio de Janeiro and other parts of Brazil was interrupted. The port of Santos was closed as early as July 9. The Brazilian Government, in order to finance the extraordinary expenses for the re-establishment of public order, issued Decree No. 21,717, which authorizes the issue of notes by the National Treasury for this purpose. In discussing the decree, Sebastiao Sampaio, Consul-General of Brazil in New York, stressed the point that "by such an action the Government of Brazil is making a credit operation and not a paper money issuance." "Article 1 of the Decree," Mr. Sampaio stated, "is very clear on this matter. Due to the other provisions adopted in the decree the increase of circulating money is entirely prevented and a fixed lapse of time is assured for the recall of the transitory increase of the fiduciary money. The Government declares also that it will issue only the amount strictly necessary. The part that will not be used will be canceled at the opportune time." The Bolivian Congress on Aug. 14 approved revision of the Kemmerer Banking Laws, which went into effect in July 1928 but had been largely emasculated in 1931.

In exchange on the Far East the features were a further break in the Japanese yen and the recovery in the Chinese units owing to the rise in the price of silver. Confidence in the Japanese yen seemed to be almost completely gone, and renewal of Japanese military operations in Manchuria certainly did not tend to restore confidence. The Bank of Japan, as already noted, lowered its rate of discount on Aug. 18 from the equivalent of 5.11% to 4.38%. It was noted that this was the lowest rate established by the Bank of Japan in at least 27 years, and that it was part of the official Japanese policy to cheapen money in order to promote trade and to popularize bonds, but unfortunately it did not work out that way, and the action was followed by another severe break in the price of the yen, which touched a low of 22.07@22.20 on Aug. 24 against 27.35@27.55 Aug. 1, with the range Aug. 31 at 23.00@23.15. This was notwithstanding the sharp rise in silk prices which was one of the features of the month and must operate to the decided advantage of Japan. The price of silver moved slowly upward, the quotation in London Aug. 31 being 18 7/16 pence per ounce as against 17 3/16 on July 30. The Hongkong dollar for checks was quotetd at 23.84@24 5/16 Aug. 31 against 22.78@23.19 Aug. 1. The Shanghai tael was 31.28@32.00 Aug. 31 against 29.50@30.00 Aug. 1. Rupees on Bombay moved lower in harmony with the decline in the price of sterling on London. The rate for rupees on checks Aug. 31 was 26.16@26.20 against 26.40@26.63 Aug. 1.

The tables on pages 18 to 40 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during August and range since Jan. 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-American Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.
